19TH YEAR. NO. 51. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1902—TWELVE PAGES. TWO CENTS.

GREAT DAMAGE BY HIGH WATER IS THREATENED

Filled With Heavy Ice, the Ohio River Is On Another Rampage.

DANGER STAGE NOW REACHED

And Reports From Points Above Give Warning of Disastrous Flood.

LOW POINTS ALL SUBMERGED

Street Car Traffic Blocked, And River Potteries Forced to Close Down. Anxiety at Smith's Ferry—Many Barges Going Down Stream.

The river is at flood stage and great anxiety exists. At noon today Wharfmaster Gus Martindill received the following message from Pittsburg:

"Thirty feet two inches and rising at the rate of two inches an hour. Monongahela and Allegheny rising at headwaters.

"JAMES A. HENDERSON."

Water is in the low parts of practically all river potteries and materials are being moved to upper floors. Fire in the kilns at the Thompson pottery have been put out. The stage of water at this port at 2 o'clock registered 37 feet and rising four to five inches an hour. It is expected the river will reach 40 feet before evening.

At 3 o'clock Pittsburg reported 32 feet and rising.

This city is in the midst of what may be the greatest flood since 1884, when the water completely flooded the entire lowland district of this city and caused thousands of dollars of loss. At 11 o'clock this morning no damage had resulted to river craft moored about this city, although the stream was running full of ice and the chunks measuring anywhere from three inches to as many feet in thickness.

Already factories have been caused much inconvenience and the workmen in some of the river potteries have lost thousands of dollars in wages. At noon today the river was rising at the rate of three inches an hour and arrangements were even being made by the street railway company to move all the cars from the barn to the East End, instead of placing them on West Market street, as was during the flood of one year ago. Supt. Thomas Reed this morning announced that the cars would not beremoved from the barn unless it was absolutely necessary.

All day yesterday the Ohio river at this port was rising at the rate of from three to five inches an hour. The Beaver river was on the rampage yesterday and early in the afternoon the ice from that stream commenced to pass here. This ice, while it was very thick, went out without doing any damage. Some of the large pieces which passed yesterday afternoon protruded at least five feet out of the water. Considerable wreckage passed out, but no attempt was made to catch any of it, as it was considered dangerous to venture out in the river in a skiff on account of the thick ice.

While word was received from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon that a flood was coming, nothing was done during the afternoon toward moving materials in the upper potteries until last evening. Officials of the plants located between the bridge and the power house were at their several plants last evening, and at the Wallace & Chetwynd word was telephoned not to start the engine this morning and to turn all the gas off. However, this morning it was found that the water had not reached the factory and the engine was started and the plant operated until noon today.

During the morning the river rose steadily and many men were employed in removing materials on the first floor to other parts of the building, as the water at this plant was then coming into the fly wheel pit. All the belts had been taken from the wheels, and if the worst comes, the plant will be in excellent shape.

Mr. Healy, treasurer of the East Liverpool Railway company, this morning announced that conditions

DAILY CIRCULATION 2,600 COPIES.

The Evening News Review Printed 877 Papers a Year Ago, and Now Circulates Three Times that Number---The Favorite Home Newspaper.

The facts presented below speak for themselves. The Evening News Review, which a year ago today, circulated but 877 copies, now circulates 2,600 copies every day, and the figures are steadily mounting upward. The newspaper which trebles its business in a year, must be a favorite with the public. Advertisers show constant appreciation of that fact. Our circulation is a home circulation, and bonafide. The appended table and affidavits require no comment.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY EXPRESS TRAIN

TWO FRANKLIN SQUARE MINERS OVERTAKEN IN A CUT.

Could Neither See Nor Hear the Train—Their Bodies Frightfully Mangled.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—James O'Conner and Fred Good, miners employed at the McKeefrey Coal company's works near Franklin Square, were struck and instantly killed by Pennsylvania train No. 6 yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

The men were going to their homes, about half a mile up the track from the coal bank. Just at this place is a deep cut and the track is curved. It is thought they could neither see nor hear the approaching train.

They were mangled beyond recognition. The remains were taken to Leetonia, and today brought back to Franklin Square.

INDICATIONS ALL POINT TO A VERY LARGE VOTE

With the possible exception of the Fifth ward the polls were opened at 12:30 today in a very quiet manner.

The First ward polling places were thronged with workers, but they were out for county candidates in a majority of cases. This is the home of Candidate Betz, for the position of city treasurer, and it was expected that he would do well there. Johnston and Heddleston are fighting hard for council, and while the friends of both are claiming victory, it is conceded by the more conservative prophets that the contest will be close.

In the Second ward there is the usual number of workers, and on account of its taking in the Diamond and uptown streets, there is much interest.

The Third was always noted for quiet elections, and the present one will not be an exception. John Reark, for township clerk, resides here, and must draw a good vote if he expects to win.

The excitement is high in the Fourth, where there are several warm fights.

The council contest in the Fifth is overshadowing all else and it is doubtful if much interest will be taken in the remainder of the city ticket or even county contests. Jamison's friends are working hard, but it is regarded as a losing fight.

At 2:45 p. m. the vote cast indicated a large poll. The votes cast in the several precincts of the city up to that time were as follows:

First ward, first precinct, 145; second precinct, 98.

Second ward, first precinct, 109; second precinct, 150.

Third ward, first precinct, 118; second precinct, 120.

Fourth ward, first precinct, 110; second precinct, 103.

Fifth ward, 121.

NARROWLY ESCAPED A WATERY GRAVE

WM. GLENDENNING, OF CHESTER, UPSET FROM A BOAT.

Obliged to Swim Ashore, Only Succeeding By Heroic Efforts.

While drifting for logs in the river opposite the Crester tin mills yesterday afternoon, William Glendenning narrowly escaped a watery grave. He and E. S. Good were in a skiff when a large chunk of ice struck the frail craft, partially upsetting it, and in so doing hurled Glendenning into the ice water.

Good was powerless to assist his unfortunate partner and it was only by heroic efforts that Glendenning was able to swim to shore. After his escape he was taken to his home and by the application of stimulants he soon revived.

CUT TO PIECES UNDER WHEELS OF FAST TRAIN

Roy Wilson, a Wellsville Boy, Met With a Shocking Death.

BODY FEARFULLY MANGLED

And the Features So Mutilated That Identification Was Impossible.

LETTER FOUND IN HIS POCKET

Enabled the Dead Boy's Mother to Identity Him—Believed to Have Been Thrown Under the Train While Jumping Off.

Mangled so horribly that identification was impossible, the body of a young man which was later found to be that of Roy Wilson, was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning on the C. & P. railroad, just west of the Wellsville depot.

So awfully mutilated were the features that the sight presented was shocking in the extreme. Teddy Marshall, Charles Marshall and Simeon Sheets were the ones who made the discovery and immediately reported it.

A stretcher was procured, and after the corpse had been picked up from the railroad track it was removed to Haugh's undertaking rooms. A search of the pockets of the dead man's clothing resulted in the finding of a letter, by which his identity was learned. It was addressed to William Phillips at Canton.

Remembering that she had written a letter to Canton to the above address, Mrs. Joseph Wilson, mother of the dead boy, went at once to the undertaking rooms, where she identified him as being her son, Roy Wilson. After the remains had been prepared for burial they were taken to the home of the mother, on Second street.

Nothing definite is known as to how Wilson met his death, though it is thought he was thrown under the wheels of fast freight No. 89, which passed through Wellsville, west bound, shortly before the mangled corpse was found. He had been away from home for several days and it is thought he was at Pittsburg. It is further conjectured that he came home on the fast freight and in jumping off at Wellsville, stumbled on the platform and rolled under the car wheels. Judging from the frightful manner in which the body was cut up, it is evident that nearly all the cars of the train passed over it.

The dead boy is aged 20 years and was well known in Wellsville. His father died several years ago, but he is survived by his mother, together with a brother, Alva, and two sisters, Maude and Bertha.

JAMES LOWE FINED $70

West End Park Policeman in Jail Convicted of Furnishing Liquor.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—James Lowe, of East Liverpool, a West End park policeman, was fined $35 and costs on each of two counts of furnishing liquor to minors.

Lowe is unable to pay the fine and is now in the county jail.

LEAKING GAS PIPE

Caused a Small Fire in the Packing Shed at Brunt's Pottery.

A leaking gas pipe in the ceiling caused a small fire in the packing shed of the Brunt pottery this morning.

The fire department was summoned and by the use of a few extinguishers soon subdued the flames.

The damage amounted to little or nothing.

GREAT DAMAGE BY HIGH WATER IS THREATENED

Filled With Heavy Ice, the Ohio River Is On Another Rampage.

LOW POINTS ALL SUBMERGED

Street Car Traffic Blocked, And River Potteries Forced to Close Down. Anxiety at Smith's Ferry—Many Barges Going Down Stream.

The river is at flood stage and great anxiety exists. At noon today Wharfmaster Gus Martindill received the following message from Pittsburg:

The stage of water at this port at 2 o'clock registered 37 feet and rising four to five inches an hour. It is expected the river will reach 40 feet before evening.

At 3 o'clock Pittsburg reported 32 feet and rising.

This city is in the midst of what may be the greatest flood since 1884, when the water completely flooded the entire lowland district of this city and caused thousands of dollars of loss. At 11 o'clock this morning no damage had resulted to river craft moored about this city, although the stream was running full of ice and the chunks measuring anywhere from three inches to as many feet in thickness.

Already factories have been caused much inconvenience and the workmen in some of the river potteries have lost thousands of dollars in wages. At noon today the river was rising at the rate of three inches an hour and arrangements were even being made by the street railway company to move all the cars from the barn to the East End, instead of placing them on West Market street, as was during the flood of one year ago. Supt. Thomas Reed this morning announced that the cars would not beremoved from the barn unless it was absolutely necessary.

All day yesterday the Ohio river at this port was rising at the rate of from three to five inches an hour. The Beaver river was on the rampage yesterday and early in the afternoon the ice from that stream commenced to pass here. This ice, while it was very thick, went out without doing any damage. Considerable wreckage passed out, but no attempt was made to catch any of it, as it was considered dangerous to venture out in the river in a skiff on account of the thick ice.

While word was received from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon that a flood was coming, nothing was done during the afternoon toward moving materials in the upper potteries until last evening. Officials of the plants located between the bridge and the power house were at their several plants last evening, and at the Wallace & Chetwynd word was telephoned not to start the engine this morning and to turn all the gas off. However, this morning it was found that the water had not reached the factory and the engine was started and the plant operated until noon today.

During the morning the river rose steadily and many men were employed in removing materials on the first floor to other parts of the building, as the water at this plant was then coming into the fly wheel pit. All the belts had been taken from the wheels, and if the worst comes, the plant will be in excellent shape.

CUT TO PIECES UNDER WHEELS OF FAST TRAIN

Roy Wilson, a Wellsville Boy, Met With a Shocking Death.

BODY FEARFULLY MANGLED

And the Features So Mutilated That Identification Was Impossible.

Enabled the Dead Boy's Mother to Identity Him—Believed to Have Been Thrown Under the Train While Jumping Off.

Mangled so horribly that identification was impossible, the body of a young man which was later found to be that of Roy Wilson, was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning on the C. & P. railroad, just west of the Wellsville depot.

So awfully mutilated were the features that the sight presented was shocking in the extreme. Teddy Marshall, Charles Marshall and Simeon Sheets were the ones who made the discovery and immediately reported it.

A stretcher was procured, and after the corpse had been picked up from the railroad track it was removed to Haugh's undertaking rooms. A search of the pockets of the dead man's clothing resulted in the finding of a letter, by which his identity was learned. It was addressed to William Phillips at Canton.

Remembering that she had written a letter to Canton to the above address, Mrs. Joseph Wilson, mother of the dead boy, went at once to the undertaking rooms, where she identified him as being her son, Roy Wilson. After the remains had been prepared for burial they were taken to the home of the mother, on Second street.

Nothing definite is known as to how Wilson met his death, though it is thought he was thrown under the wheels of fast freight No. 89, which passed through Wellsville, west bound, shortly before the mangled corpse was found. He had been away from home for several days and it is thought he was at Pittsburg. It is further conjectured that he came home on the fast freight and in jumping off at Wellsville, stumbled on the platform and rolled under the car wheels. Judging from the frightful manner in which the body was cut up, it is evident that nearly all the cars of the train passed over it.

The dead boy is aged 20 years and was well known in Wellsville. His father died several years ago, but he is survived by his mother, together with a brother, Alva, and two sisters, Maude and Bertha.

JAMES LOWE FINED $70

West End Park Policeman in Jail Convicted of Furnishing Liquor.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—James Lowe, of East Liverpool, a West End park policeman, was fined $35 and costs on each of two counts of furnishing liquor to minors.

Lowe is unable to pay the fine and is now in the county jail.

LEAKING GAS PIPE

Caused a Small Fire in the Packing Shed at Brunt's Pottery.

A leaking gas pipe in the ceiling caused a small fire in the packing shed of the Brunt pottery this morning.

The fire department was summoned and by the use of a few extinguishers soon subdued the flames.

The damage amounted to little or nothing.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY EXPRESS TRAIN

TWO FRANKLIN SQUARE MINERS OVERTAKEN IN A CUT.

Could Neither See Nor Hear the Train—Their Bodies Frightfully Mangled.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—James O'Conner and Fred Good, miners employed at the McKeefrey Coal company's works, near Franklin Square, were struck and instantly killed by Pennsylvania train No. 6 yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

The men were going to their homes, about half a mile up the track from the coal bank. Just at this place is a deep cut and the track is curved. It is thought they could neither see nor hear the approaching train.

They were mangled beyond recognition. The remains were taken to Leetonia, and today brought back to Franklin Square.

INDICATIONS ALL POINT TO A VERY LARGE VOTE

With the possible exception of the Fifth ward the polls were opened at 12:30 today in a very quiet manner.

The First ward polling places were thronged with workers, but they were out for county candidates in a majority of cases. This is the home of Candidate Betz, for the position of city treasurer, and it was expected that he would do well there. Johnston and Heddleston are fighting hard for council, and while the friends of both are claiming victory, it is conceded by the more conservative prophets that the contest will be close.

In the Second ward there is the usual number of workers, and on account of its taking in the Diamond and uptown streets, there is much interest.

The Third was always noted for quiet elections, and the present one will not be an exception. John Reark, for township clerk, resides here, and must draw a good vote if he expects to win.

The excitement is high in the Fourth, where there are several warm fights.

The council contest in the Fifth is overshadowing all else and it is doubtful if much interest will be taken in the remainder of the city ticket or even county contests. Jamison's friends are working hard, but it is regarded as a losing fight.

At 2:45 p. m. the vote cast indicated a large poll. The votes cast in the several precincts of the city up to that time were as follows:

First ward, first precinct, 145; second precinct, 98.

Second ward, first precinct, 109; second precinct, 150.

Third ward, first precinct, 118; second precinct, 120.

Fourth ward, first precinct, 110; second precinct, 103.

Fifth ward, 121.

NARROWLY ESCAPED A WATERY GRAVE

WM. GLENDENNING, OF CHESTER, UPSET FROM A BOAT.

Obliged to Swim Ashore, Only Succeeding By Heroic Efforts.

While drifting for logs in the river opposite the Crester tin mills yesterday afternoon, William Glendenning narrowly escaped a watery grave. He and E. S. Good were in a skiff when a large chunk of ice struck the frail craft, partially upsetting it, and in so doing hurled Glendenning into the ice water.

Good was powerless to assist his unfortunate partner and it was only by heroic efforts that Glendenning was able to swim to shore. After his escape he was taken to his home and by the application of stimulants he soon revived.

WANTS HER HUSBAND

PITTSBURG WOMAN ASKS MAYOR FOR INFORMATION.

Charles Wendler Is the Man Who Is Wanted—Accused of a Robbery.

Mayor Davidson is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Mary Wendler, residing at 9741 Liverty avenue, Pittsburg, asking for information concerning the whereabouts of her husband, Charles Wendler, who came from Pittsburg several months ago to this city.

The letter was written in the German language and the mayor was unable to read it. He asked F. H. Schlegel to do so and thus learned its contents.

Wendler is the man who was accused of robbing a stranger last November at the home of Mrs. Ernestine Deidrick, on Franklin street. Wendler was sleeping in a room at the Deidrick domicile and the stranger was one night put to bed with him.

When he awoke in the morning he found Wendler missing and a search of his pockets revealed that $10 were gone also. He at once suspected that his bed fellow had robbed him and reported the case to the mayor. Wendler in the meantime had safely made his escape and the officers were thus unable to lay hands on him. However, there was never any warrant issued for his arrest.

It is not known by either the mayor or the police where Wendler is at the present time. His wife states in her letter that she four children and is badly in need of her husband's aid.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

Bills Providing For It In All Cities of Over 10,000 Population.

Supt. R. E. Rayman, of the city schools, is in receipt of a house bill numbered 153, introduced by Representative Hayes, referring to the observance of labor day in the public schools and all institutions of learning in which the pupils and students are to be instructed in forestry and the duty of the public to care for trees and to protect the birds.

Senate bill No. 80 has also been introduced by State Senator Warner requiring that physical education be introduced into all the schools of cities of 10,000 inhabitants or more. A specialist in physical culture is to be employed. The specialist is to give a certain number of lessons in smaller cities to provide training for the teachers to enable them to do this work. The bill will soon be presented to the house and senate.

FIFTH WARD VOTERS

PLAIN TALK TO THEM FROM COUNCILMAN R. J. MARSHALL.

His Motto Is to Take Good Care of the Ward's Interests, Regardless of Those Who Object.

To the Voters of the Fifth Ward.

Gentlemen—I desire to call your attention to the fact that the saloonkeepers, more particularly the ones who run dives and gambling places, and also the street railway company, have decided that I am an obnoxious councilman to their interests, and therefore that I must be defeated at any cost. Hence the withdrawal of Mautz and the bespeaking of his support for one of my opponents whom the two forces have centered on.

My crime against the street railway company has been to insist on their giving decent service to their patrons; to insist on their running the cars over the Klondike extension and the 12-minute schedule. I have always been a friend of the boys on the line when they asked for a square deal at the hands of the company. In fact, as George Anderson says: "He has made our company spend hundreds of dollars they wouldn't have had to spend if it had not been for him, and we are going to beat him."

With all that we are not getting the service we should have, and I promise to keep on kicking until we do providing you again repose confidence in me.

My crime against the saloon—or, more particularly, the divekeeper—is familiar to all and was the drafting of the screen ordinances which council passed.

Now, gentlemen, from such a source and with the above named "crimes" to be avenged, you can look for all sorts of tales. But, let me tell you it will not be for the benefit of the Fifth ward that they will be told, but to get rid of a councilman who insists, first, on common decency, and, second, that the street railway company shall live up to its franchise.

I, therefore, ask you to be on the alert, those of you, who wish the East End to go forward. And if you choose to repose confidence in me again, I will do in the future as I have done in the past—take good care of the Fifth ward. There are many, many things that we need, and, depend upon it, I know what they are.

Yours,
R. J. MARSHALL.

SALVATIONISTS WED

Took the Marriage Vows Before a Large Crowd in an Opera House.

Alliance, March 1.—The most novel wedding ceremony ever performed in this city was that which made Ira E. Perrin, of Conneaut, and Tillie Gallier, of Alliance, man and wife Thursday night. Both are members of the Salvation Army.

A large crowd gathered to witness the proceedings, for which privilege 25 cents was charged at the door. The usual crowd of youngsters occupied the gallery and for a time it was a tossup with them whether the doings would be religious or of the burlesque order. They started out with whistling, hand-clapping and cat calls and kept it up during the opening song service.

Col. Holz, of Cleveland, officiated and gave an idea of how the state of matrimony was looked upon by conscientious Salvationists.

Col. Holz, Major Bonnett, Ensign Parker, Captain Manuel and Ensign Storey then gave the bride and groom some advice upon the subject of marriage, which was made interesting by the fact that Ensign Parker, who is still single, took exceptions to the reasoning of Major Bonnett on the wedded state, and proceeded to knock the props out from under his deductions.

After a short scriptural reading, Col. Holz requested the contracting parties to step forward. They were accompanied by Captain Manuel and Miss Lucy Hoiles. Beneath the folds of the stars and stripes and the flag of the Salvation Army, the marriage vows were exchanged and Colonel Holz pronounced the couple husband and wife.

MODEST HERO.

Why He Wished No Reward For Saving His Officer's Life.

An officer in one of the English volunteer regiments who had made himself exceedingly unpopular with the men was coming home one evening, when he slipped and fell into deep water. He was rescued with great difficulty by a private in his own regiment.

The officer was profuse in his expressions of gratitude and asked his preserver how he could reward him.

"The best way," said the soldier, "is to say nothing about it."

"But why?" asked the officer in amazement.

"Because," was the blunt reply, "if the other fellows knew I'd pulled you out they'd chuck me in."—Youth's Companion.

ARTHUR TYNG IS AN ATHLETIC PHENOMENON.

Nineteen-year-old Harvard Boy Who Broke Collegiate Strength Record.

A Harvard boy still in his teens has come out this year as the strongest young Samson in the collegiate world. His name is Arthur Tyng. He is a plucky, stocky little chap, a bunch of muscles and nervous energy, and in a recent test he bettered the intercollegiate strength test by almost 300 points.

Tyng is a self made athlete. The son of a missionary in Japan, he was never remarkable for his strength during his boyhood and never gave evidence of the wonderful power which all the time had rested latent in his frame. Like any other active boy, he had been healthy and muscular, but the idea of becoming a record breaking athlete was as far from his mind as it was from that of the people who knew him.

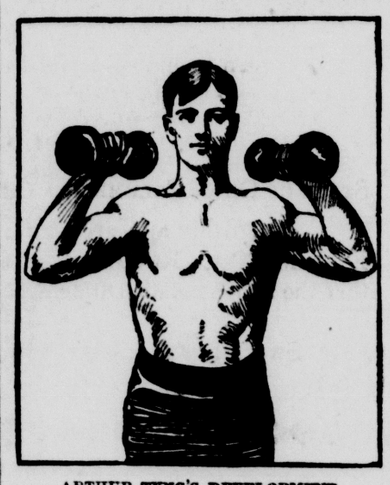

Two years ago Tyng entered Harvard and became interested in gymnasium work. He saw the wonderful possibilities that were open to the man who trained systematically, and more from a spirit of self satisfaction than desire for fame he determined to see how strong he could make himself.

"I never trained for my tests," he says in speaking of his feats. "I simply worked regularly every day, eating what I pleased and only denying myself those things which I knew were positively injurious to any man. The main thing was not to overdo. Lots of men have natural strength, but they let themselves out too fast and lose their power.

"Then, too, there are men who seem to have all kinds of strength, but when it comes to the test they fizzle out. They seem to lack the nervous energy or the vitality that is necessary for the strain. They are like big, strong engines without the steam. I don't know any particular reason why I should be stronger than other fellows. I never trained any harder, and there are lots of men who have more muscle than I. If I was going to give any reason at all, it would be that they haven't quite got the knack of handling themselves or else haven't the energy to make their muscles do what they ought to do."

Tyng's statement about himself is the exact truth and one which is borne out in every particular by Dr. Sargeant, director of the Hemenway gymnasium, in which the young athlete's test was made. Tyng has all the requisites for a strength champion—knack, grit, strength and perfect symmetry of form—all of which, regardless of size, go to make up the gymnastic star.

Tyng is probably the smallest athlete, with the exception of Guy Carl

ARTHUR TYNG'S DEVELOPMENT.

Herbert, that has ever made a great name for himself as a strong man. Both Cochems and Allis, who have at different times held the intercollegiate record, are bigger, taller and heavier men, and from all the list of competitors at Harvard the little champion is the smallest and least striking in physique. But what he lacks in size he makes up in pure grit, vitality and knack.

Three years ago Herbert's record of thirty pull ups and forty-six push ups was thought to be a wonderful one, yet in his test the other day Tyng chinned himself sixty times and pushed up fifty-two times. In performing this wonderful feat the young sophomore works with wonderful rapidity, getting a swing and momentum which seem to carry him up with perfect ease. His form is rigid, and he moves like a perfect, well oiled machine, going through the motions accurately and swiftly.

Tyng's arms, chest and shoulders show a wonderful development, but his legs, outside of his hips and thighs, are not so highly trained. The reason for this is that he does not use his calves in any of his tests, his back and thighs aiding the most in the back and leg lifts.

Tyng's record compares with the three previous holders of strength records as follows:

	Herbert.	Cochems.	Allis.	Tyng.
Age	22.9	25	26	19
Weight	169.4	178.5	166.6	172

HOBSON'S EYESIGHT FAILS.

Hero of the Merrimac to Be Retired From the United States Navy.

Naval Constructor Richmond P. Hobson, hero of the Merrimac incident in Santiago harbor, is to retire from the navy because of failing eyesight. Some time ago Captain Hobson asked to be retired, but his request was refused. Now, in response to a message from President Roosevelt, a bill has been introduced in the senate providing for Captain Hobson's retirement.

Since the close of the Spanish war the captain has been employed constantly in the severest kind of labor. He succeeded in raising the Maria Teresa, one of the ships of Admiral Cervera's fleet, but she was afterward lost on her trip to the Norfolk navy yard.

Afterward Captain Hobson went to the Philippines and raised several of the ships that Admiral Dewey sent to the bottom of Manila bay. It was while superintending the reconstruction of these vessels at Hongkong that his eyesight began to fail. Fearing total blindness, he asks special legislation authorizing his retirement. Captain Hobson is now in the United States.

My crime against the street railway company has been to insist on their giving decent service to their patrons; to insist on their running the cars over the Klondike extension and the 12-minute schedule. I have always been a friend of the boys on the line when they asked for a square deal at the hands of the company. In fact, as George Anderson says: "He has made our company spend hundreds of dollars they wouldn't have had to spend if it had not been for him, and we are going to beat him."

With all that we are not getting the service we should have, and I promise to keep on kicking until we do providing you again repose confidence in me.

My crime against the saloon—or, more particularly, the divekeeper—is familiar to all and was the drafting of the screen ordinances which council passed.

Now, gentlemen, from such a source and with the above named "crimes" to be avenged, you can look for all sorts of tales. But, let me tell you it will not be for the benefit of the Fifth ward that they will be told, but to get rid of a councilman who insists, first, on common decency, and, second, that the street railway company shall live up to its franchise.

I, therefore, ask you to be on the alert, those of you, who wish the East End to go forward. And if you choose to repose confidence in me again, I will do in the future as I have done in the past—take good care of the Fifth ward. There are many, many things that we need, and, depend upon it, I know what they are.

Yours,
R. J. MARSHALL.

SALVATIONISTS WED

Took the Marriage Vows Before a Large Crowd in an Opera House.

Alliance, March 1.—The most novel wedding ceremony ever performed in this city was that which made Ira E. Perrin, of Conneaut, and Tillie Gallier, of Alliance, man and wife Thursday night. Both are members of the Salvation Army.

A large crowd gathered to witness the proceedings, for which privilege 25 cents was charged at the door. The usual crowd of youngsters occupied the gallery and for a time it was a tossup with them whether the doings would be religious or of the burlesque order. They started out with whistling, hand-clapping and cat calls and kept it up during the opening song service.

Col. Holz, of Cleveland, officiated and gave an idea of how the state of matrimony was looked upon by conscientious Salvationists.

Col. Holz, Major Bonnett, Ensign Parker, Captain Manuel and Ensign Storey then gave the bride and groom some advice upon the subject of marriage, which was made interesting by the fact that Ensign Parker, who is still single, took exceptions to the reasoning of Major Bonnett on the wedded state, and proceeded to knock the props out from under his deductions.

After a short scriptural reading, Col. Holz requested the contracting parties to step forward. They were accompanied by Captain Manuel and Miss Lucy Hoiles. Beneath the folds of the stars and stripes and the flag of the Salvation Army, the marriage vows were exchanged and Colonel Holz pronounced the couple husband and wife.

MODEST HERO.

Why He Wished No Reward For Saving His Officer's Life.

An officer in one of the English volunteer regiments who had made himself exceedingly unpopular with the men was coming home one evening, when he slipped and fell into deep water. He was rescued with great difficulty by a private in his own regiment.

The officer was profuse in his expressions of gratitude and asked his preserver how he could reward him.

"The best way," said the soldier, "is to say nothing about it."

"But why?" asked the officer in amazement.

"Because," was the blunt reply, "if the other fellows knew I'd pulled you out they'd chuck me in."—Youth's Companion.

ARTHUR TYNG IS AN ATHLETIC PHENOMENON.

Nineteen-year-old Harvard Boy Who Broke Collegiate Strength Record.

A Harvard boy still in his teens has come out this year as the strongest young Samson in the collegiate world. His name is Arthur Tyng. He is a plucky, stocky little chap, a bunch of muscles and nervous energy, and in a recent test he bettered the intercollegiate strength test by almost 300 points.

Tyng is a self made athlete. The son of a missionary in Japan, he was never remarkable for his strength during his boyhood and never gave evidence of the wonderful power which all the time had rested latent in his frame. Like any other active boy, he had been healthy and muscular, but the idea of becoming a record breaking athlete was as far from his mind as it was from that of the people who knew him.

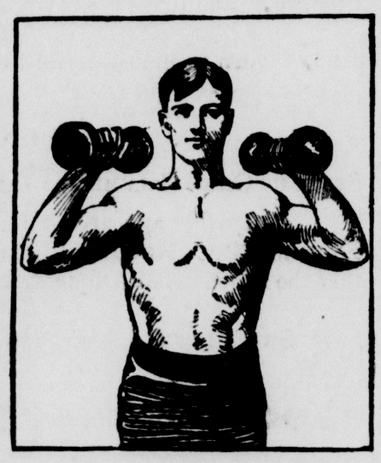

Two years ago Tyng entered Harvard and became interested in gymnasium work. He saw the wonderful possibilities that were open to the man who trained systematically, and more from a spirit of self satisfaction than desire for fame he determined to see how strong he could make himself.

"I never trained for my tests," he says in speaking of his feats. "I simply worked regularly every day, eating what I pleased and only denying myself those things which I knew were positively injurious to any man. The main thing was not to overdo. Lots of men have natural strength, but they let themselves out too fast and lose their power.

"Then, too, there are men who seem to have all kinds of strength, but when it comes to the test they fizzle out. They seem to lack the nervous energy or the vitality that is necessary for the strain. They are like big, strong engines without the steam. I don't know any particular reason why I should be stronger than other fellows. I never trained any harder, and there are lots of men who have more muscle than I. If I was going to give any reason at all, it would be that they haven't quite got the knack of handling themselves or else haven't the energy to make their muscles do what they ought to do."

Tyng's statement about himself is the exact truth and one which is borne out in every particular by Dr. Sargeant, director of the Hemenway gymnasium, in which the young athlete's test was made. Tyng has all the requisites for a strength champion—knack, grit, strength and perfect symmetry of form—all of which, regardless of size, go to make up the gymnastic star.

Tyng is probably the smallest athlete, with the exception of Guy Carl

ARTHUR TYNG'S DEVELOPMENT.

Herbert, that has ever made a great name for himself as a strong man. Both Cochems and Allis, who have at different times held the intercollegiate record, are bigger, taller and heavier men, and from all the list of competitors at Harvard the little champion is the smallest and least striking in physique. But what he lacks in size he makes up in pure grit, vitality and knack.

Three years ago Herbert's record of thirty pull ups and forty-six push ups was thought to be a wonderful one, yet in his test the other day Tyng chinned himself sixty times and pushed up fifty-two times. In performing this wonderful feat the young sophomore works with wonderful rapidity, getting a swing and momentum which seem to carry him up with perfect ease. His form is rigid, and he moves like a perfect, well oiled machine, going through the motions accurately and swiftly.

Tyng's arms, chest and shoulders show a wonderful development, but his legs, outside of his hips and thighs, are not so highly trained. The reason for this is that he does not use his calves in any of his tests, his back and thighs aiding the most in the back and leg lifts.

Tyng's record compares with the three previous holders of strength records as follows:

	Herbert.	Cochems.	Allis.	Tyng.

HOBSON'S EYESIGHT FAILS.

Hero of the Merrimac to Be Retired From the United States Navy.

Naval Constructor Richmond P. Hobson, hero of the Merrimac incident in Santiago harbor, is to retire from the navy because of failing eyesight. Some time ago Captain Hobson asked to be retired, but his request was refused. Now, in response to a message from President Roosevelt, a bill has been introduced in the senate providing for Captain Hobson's retirement.

Since the close of the Spanish war the captain has been employed constantly in the severest kind of labor. He succeeded in raising the Maria Teresa, one of the ships of Admiral Cervera's fleet, but she was afterward lost on her trip to the Norfolk navy yard.

Afterward Captain Hobson went to the Philippines and raised several of the ships that Admiral Dewey sent to the bottom of Manila bay. It was while superintending the reconstruction of these vessels at Hongkong that his eyesight began to fail. Fearing total blindness, he asks special legislation authorizing his retirement. Captain Hobson is now in the United States.

FLOOD AT PITTSBURG

Breaking of Ice Gorge In the Allegheny River, Followed by High Water.

MAYBE 30 FT. THIS AFTERNOON.

Residents of Lower Portions of Two Cities Warned to Be Prepared. Flood In Blair County, Pa.—High Water at Philadelphia.

Pittsburg, March 1.—Thousands of tons of ice swept out of the Allegheny river into the Ohio yesterday. Swirling, sweeping along in an eddying curent, tossing the muddy waters into foam and bringing down from points many miles up the Allegheny valley debris of all kinds, this great ice floe, riding on a swollen stream, passed along Fittsburg's water front, while 5,000 people looked at it, fascinated.

The damage caused by the crushing force of the ice was great. What it is will not be known for several days. Many hundreds of dollars were sacrificed in the maw of the ice king.

No lives were lost as far as positively known throughout the entire course of 70 miles of the gorge's race. Numerous narrow escapes were reported, however, and some intensely thrilling experiences were had by persons in the affected districts along the river.

In the wake of the river of ice came the danger of a big flood. This danger is not yet past, and the rains and melting rays of the sun that rotted the huge chunks of ice until they were robbed of their destructive powers, caused the headwaters of the Allegheny to pour out torrents of water, which appreciably raised the stage here, until this morning the ordinary flood stage of a spring freshet had already been reached, threatening still more serious trouble.

May Reach 30-Foot Stage.

The long expected flood may reach 30 feet by noon today. Until 6 o'clock yesterday evening danger from such a flood was not anticipated by Local Weather Forecaster Frank Ridgway or any of the experienced river men.

At that hour special reports from the river observers along the Monongahela and Alegheny rivers and their tributaries showed that the water from the mountain streams was beginning to have an effect on the rivers, causing them to rise rapidly. Mr. Ridgway at once issued warnings through the police departments of the two cities to notify the residents of the lower wards to prepare for 30 feet. The rise is due almost entirely to the melting of snow in the mountains during the last few days of high temperature.

As the river and other interests had been warned that a flood was likely to occur almost any hour today, nearly every person was well prepared and the amount of loss, in spite of the high water, is not expected to be as large as it might otherwise have been. When the ice gorge passed out of the Allegheny river the water rose to about 18 feet and remained stationary for several hours.

Backed by Great Volume of Water.

Reports from up river points at that time indicated that a rise of 22 feet might be expected. Later reports showed that the river was rising more rapidly than earlier in the day, and that the volume of water behind it was great. Mr. Ridgway said last night:

"The rise in reports from up river points show that the snow is melting in the mountains and causing all of the rivers to rise again. The rise is from the melting snow, which has been lying in the mountains all winter. It is impossible to predict accurately what stage of water will be reached here, as it is not known what depth of snow is in the mountains. Under similar circumstances the rivers have been known to rise continuously for from 20 to 36 hours, and the reports received tonight indicate that they will continue to rise all day. The maximum stage will probably be reached Saturday afternoon or Saturday night."

The weather prediction for Pittsburg and vicinity today is partly cloudy, with falling temperature and probably light rains.

Although the residents of the low lying districts of Pittsburg and Allegheny were more or less prepared for a flood, there was a general hurrying and scurrying to get household goods moved to the upper stories of dwellings and away from the danger of the high water.

Goods Loaded Into Skiffs.

Many skiffs which have been kept high and dry on account of the ice were brought out and put to good use in the Allegheny streets near the river. There were the usual picturesque scenes of boats loaded with furniture and families being transported to higher ground.

Philadelphia, March 1. — The Schuylkill river through this city rose rapidly last night and both the east and west banks were under water from Fairmount park to the Delaware river, into which the Schuylkill empties. Scores of wharves were three feet under water and considerable damage will result. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad had to abandon its service over the main line on the eastern shore, as the tracks were covered with water from Fairmount park to Wharton street, a distance of two miles. At the city depot at Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets the tracks were three feet under water and the lower waiting room had nine inches of water on the floor at 11 o'clock last night.

Altoona, Pa., March 1.—Blair county is now experiencing the highest water known here since the days of the Johnstown flood. A bridge on the Canoe Creek branch of the Pennsylvania railroad was carried away yesterday morning. The trestles of another railroad bridge on Piney creek were also swept away. Williamsburg, this county, is isolated by the flood. Last night there was a sharp thunder and lightning storm, the electric flashes being very vivid. Washouts prevented the running of trains from here, going east of Connellsville.

Cumberland, Md., March 1.—Gorman, a town north of here, was reported drowned out. Other towns are floded.

FROM 30 TO 75 ARE DEAD.

Party Attempting to Rescue Men Buried by Snowslide, Caught by Another Slide.

Telluride Colo., March 1.—The most terrible snowslide ever known in Colorado caused the deaths of from 30 to 75 men at the Liberty Bell mine, on Smuggler mountain, yesterday. Although the scene of the disaster is scarcely two miles from this town, information is difficult to obtain on account of the precipitous character of the roads and the vast amount of snow. Nearly all the buildings of the Liberty Bell mine were carried down by the slide, all the books which show the number and names of the men employed being lost, so that the death list can hardly be known for many hours, possibly not until the rescuers shall have removed the immense quantity of snow, rocks and logs from the canyon where the victims lie buried.

It seems that two slides occurred practically in the same place, the second burying those who were trying to rescue the victims of the first.

BOERS WERE DEFEATED.

Thirty-Six Men Killed—DeWet's Son Among the Prisoners.

London, March 1.—An official dispatch to the war office from Pretoria reports a fight between Colonel Remington's and Colonel Byng's columns and a force of Boers.

Manie Botha, the Boer leader, was killed and 35 dead were left on the field. One hundred horses were killed and 600 head of cattle were captured.

Among the prisoners were General DeWet's son and secretary, Commandants Meyer and Fruther and several field cornets.

The scene of the fight was between Wilger river and the Natal frontier.

General Kitchener adds: "The fighting was at close quarters, the Boers attempting to break through the British line, as usual driving a herd of cattle in front of them. The New Zealand regiment fought most gallantly. Two smaller attempts by the Boers to break away succeeded."

Regarding the present attempt to round up the Boers, by forming a cordon about them, Lord Kitchener reports: "All the columns have not yet reported, as the operations are over a very wide area. Over 600 Boers have been either killed or taken prisoner; also 2,000 horses, 28,000 cattle, 200 wagons, 60,000 sheep, 600 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition. These are satisfactory results and very appropriate an the anniversary of Majuba."

MANUFACTURERS CENSURED FOR LOSS OF 30 LIVES.

Detroit, Mich., March 1.—The coroner's jury, which has been investigating the cause of the explosion of the boiler at the Penberthy Injector company's plant here, Nov. 26 last, which resulted in the loss of 30 lives, brought in a verdict that the boiler was defective and censured its makers.

AFTER THE GRIP COMES CATARRH.

LIKE A TERRIBLE CYCLONE grip bacillus has passed over our country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, leaving behind it a dark cloud of anguish and despair.

Catarrh follows grip as effect follows cause.

A multitude of catarrh victims will spring up in the trail of the awful epidemic of grip that has just passed over our fair country.

The hope to these people is Peruna.

Most people know this already.

Everyone who has had the least touch of grip, should not fail to take a course of treatment with Peruna.

Peruna eradicates every vestige of the disease and leaves the system in a normal condition.

Hon. Joseph B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"After giving Peruna a fair trial I can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with coughs, colds, la grippe and all catarrhal complaints."—J. B. Crowley.

Hon. George H. White, Congressman from North Carolina, writes:

"I am more than satisfied with Peruna, and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family, and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent remedy."—George H. White.

Hon. J. P. Megrew, Superintendent U. S. Capital Police Force, of Washington, D. C., says:

"Having suffered from the grip, I was advised by a friend to use your Peruna. I also used it for my catarrh, and I can now cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone who is suffering from the grip and catarrh."—J. P. Megrew.

Miss Anna Russell, Past Worthy Counselor, Loyd Mystic Legion, 293 Endicott Building, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"For years I have unfortunately found my system in a peculiarly receptive condition for catarrh when I was exposed in any way to inclement weather. At those times I would be severely afflicted with la grippe and its unpleasant consequences.

"Now for the past year and a half I have used Peruna in such cases and have found that it not only cures me quickly, but it also cleanses my blood and renders me less liable to catch cold. It is the finest preventative of colds that I know of and a very superior tonic."—Anna Russell.

Miss Emily Milburne, President of the Westside Young Woman's Club, No. 152 West Congress street, Chicago, Ill., writes of several members of the club of which she is president, who have had the Grip and have been quickly restored to health by Peruna.

Mr. Nicolas F. Rossiter, of 463 Norwood avenue, Cleveland, O., had a severe attack of the Grip, was very sick and under the physician's care. He, like many others, passed the acute stage but did not receive strength. Peruna not only quickly restored him to his former health, but to much better health than he has had for years. He gives Peruna all the praise.

Hon. Max J. Porges, Alderman of the Eighth District, residing at 36 Rivington street, New York, suffered with the Grip. two bottles of Peruna cured him. He also writes that he knows a large number of people who have been cured of the Grip by Peruna.

Hon. Charles W. Culkin, Alderman of the Seventh Assembly District of the Borough of Manhattan, residing at 45 Eighth avenue, New York, writes that he was laid up several days with the Grip. On the fifth day he was advised to try Peruna. He did so and found himself better within twenty-four hours. This remedy soon restored him to his usual vigorous health.

Mr. Martin Edwards, President of the County Clare Men's Benefit Society, 522 West Forty-Ninth street, New York, writes that he was cured of the Grip by a short course of treatment with Peruna.

Miss Blanche Dumont, President of the Athenia Club, 4110 Aldrich avenue North, Camden Place, Minneapolis, Minn., says she was cured of the Grip. Nothing helped her until she tried Peruna. Felt better next day after beginning its use. Was able to be out of bed the third day. She also tells of others who were cured by Peruna.

La Grippe is epidemic catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh, hence Peruna is a specific for la grippe.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

FLOOD AT PITTSBURG

Breaking of Ice Gorge In the Allegheny River, Followed by High Water.

MAYBE 30 FT. THIS AFTERNOON.

Residents of Lower Portions of Two Cities Warned to Be Prepared. Flood In Blair County, Pa.—High Water at Philadelphia.

Pittsburg, March 1.—Thousands of tons of ice swept out of the Allegheny river into the Ohio yesterday. Swirling, sweeping along in an eddying curent, tossing the muddy waters into foam and bringing down from points many miles up the Allegheny valley debris of all kinds, this great ice floe, riding on a swollen stream, passed along Pittsburg's water front, while 5,000 people looked at it, fascinated.

The damage caused by the crushing force of the ice was great. What it is will not be known for several days. Many hundreds of dollars were sacrificed in the maw of the ice king.

No lives were lost as far as positively known throughout the entire course of 70 miles of the gorge's race. Numerous narrow escapes were reported, however, and some intensely thrilling experiences were had by persons in the affected districts along the river.

In the wake of the river of ice came the danger of a big flood. This danger is not yet past, and the rains and melting rays of the sun that rotted the huge chunks of ice until they were robbed of their destructive powers, caused the headwaters of the Allegheny to pour out torrents of water, which appreciably raised the stage here, until this morning the ordinary flood stage of a spring freshet had already been reached, threatening still more serious trouble.

May Reach 30-Foot Stage.

The long expected flood may reach 30 feet by noon today. Until 6 o'clock yesterday evening danger from such a flood was not anticipated by Local Weather Forecaster Frank Ridgway or any of the experienced river men.

At that hour special reports from the river observers along the Monongahela and Alegheny rivers and their tributaries showed that the water from the mountain streams was beginning to have an effect on the rivers, causing them to rise rapidly. Mr. Ridgway at once issued warnings through the police departments of the two cities to notify the residents of the lower wards to prepare for 30 feet. The rise is due almost entirely to the melting of snow in the mountains during the last few days of high temperature.

As the river and other interests had been warned that a flood was likely to occur almost any hour today, nearly every person was well prepared and the amount of loss, in spite of the high water, is not expected to be as large as it might otherwise have been. When the ice gorge passed out of the Allegheny river the water rose to about 18 feet and remained stationary for several hours.

Backed by Great Volume of Water.

Reports from up river points at that time indicated that a rise of 22 feet might be expected. Later reports showed that the river was rising more rapidly than earlier in the day, and that the volume of water behind it was great. Mr. Ridgway said last night:

"The rise in reports from up river points show that the snow is melting in the mountains and causing all of the rivers to rise again. The rise is from the melting snow, which has been lying in the mountains all winter. It is impossible to predict accurately what stage of water will be reached here, as it is not known what depth of snow is in the mountains. Under similar circumstances the rivers have been known to rise continuously for from 20 to 36 hours, and the reports received tonight indicate that they will continue to rise all day. The maximum stage will probably be reached Saturday afternoon or Saturday night."

The weather prediction for Pittsburg and vicinity today is partly cloudy, with falling temperature and probably light rains.

Although the residents of the low lying districts of Pittsburg and Allegheny were more or less prepared for a flood, there was a general hurrying and scurrying to get household goods moved to the upper stories of dwellings and away from the danger of the high water.

Goods Loaded Into Skiffs.

Many skiffs which have been kept high and dry on account of the ice were brought out and put to good use in the Allegheny streets near the river. There were the usual picturesque scenes of boats loaded with furniture and families being transported to higher ground.

Philadelphia, March 1. — The Schuylkill river through this city rose rapidly last night and both the east and west banks were under water from Fairmount park to the Delaware river, into which the Schuylkill empties. Scores of wharves were three feet under water and considerable damage will result. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad had to abandon its service over the main line on the eastern shore, as the tracks were covered with water from Fairmount park to Wharton street, a distance of two miles. At the city depot at Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets the tracks were three feet under water and the lower waiting room had nine inches of water on the floor at 11 o'clock last night.

Altoona, Pa., March 1.—Blair county is now experiencing the highest water known here since the days of the Johnstown flood. A bridge on the Canoe Creek branch of the Pennsylvania railroad was carried away yesterday morning. The trestles of another railroad bridge on Piney creek were also swept away. Williamsburg, this county, is isolated by the flood. Last night there was a sharp thunder and lightning storm, the electric flashes being very vivid.

Washouts prevented the running of trains from here, going east of Connellsville.

A Good Hearted Man,

or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. If you are short of breath, have pain in left side, smothering spells, palpitation, unable to lie on side, especially the left, you should begin taking

J. A. Kreamer.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

J. A. Kreamer of Arkansas City, Kans., says: "My heart was so bad it was impossible for me to lie down, and I could neither sleep nor rest. My decline was rapid, and I realized I must get help soon. I was advised to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which I did, and candidly believe it saved my life."

FROM 30 TO 75 ARE DEAD.

Party Attempting to Rescue Men Buried by Snowslide, Caught by Another Slide.

Telluride Colo., March 1.—The most terrible snowslide ever known in Colorado caused the deaths of from 30 to 75 men at the Liberty Bell mine, on Smuggler mountain, yesterday. Although the scene of the disaster is scarcely two miles from this town, information is difficult to obtain on account of the precipitous character of the roads and the vast amount of snow. Nearly all the buildings of the Liberty Bell mine were carried down by the slide, all the books which show the number and names of the men employed being lost, so that the death list can hardly be known for many hours, possibly not until the rescuers shall have removed the immense quantity of snow, rocks and logs from the canyon where the victims lie buried.

It seems that two slides occurred practically in the same place, the second burying those who were trying to rescue the victims of the first.

BOERS WERE DEFEATED.

Thirty-Six Men Killed—DeWet's Son Among the Prisoners.

London, March 1.—An official dispatch to the war office from Pretoria reports a fight between Colonel Remington's and Colonel Byng's columns and a force of Boers.

Manie Botha, the Boer leader, was killed and 35 dead were left on the field. One hundred horses were killed and 600 head of cattle were captured.

Among the prisoners were General DeWet's son and secretary, Commandants Meyer and Fruther and several field cornets.

The scene of the fight was between Wilger river and the Natal frontier.

General Kitchener adds: "The fighting was at close quarters, the Boers attempting to break through the British line, as usual driving a herd of cattle in front of them. The New Zealand regiment fought most gallantly. Two smaller attempts by the Boers to break away succeeded."

Regarding the present attempt to round up the Boers, by forming a cordon about them, Lord Kitchener reports: "All the columns have not yet reported, as the operations are over a very wide area. Over 600 Boers have been either killed or taken prisoner; also 2,000 horses, 28,000 cattle, 200 wagons, 60,000 sheep, 600 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition. These are satisfactory results and very appropriate an the anniversary of Majuba."

MANUFACTURERS CENSURED FOR LOSS OF 30 LIVES.

Detroit, Mich., March 1.—The coroner's jury, which has been investigating the cause of the explosion of the boiler at the Penberthy Injector company's plant here, Nov. 26 last, which resulted in the loss of 30 lives, brought in a verdict that the boiler was defective and censured its makers.

Chasing the Fox.

A fox hard pressed by the Warwickshire hounds, in England, dashed into a back kitchen at Nailey Hall, the seat of the Marquis of Hertford, where a woman was washing clothes. Seeking a place of concealment, the animal sprang upon the furnace and dived into the almost boiling soapsuds, from which, however, he was quickly out again and was then captured.—London Telegraph.

AFTER THE GRIP COMES CATARRH.

LIKE A TERRIBLE CYCLONE grip bacillus has passed over our country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, leaving behind it a dark cloud of anguish and despair.

Catarrh follows grip as effect follows cause.

A multitude of catarrh victims will spring up in the trail of the awful epidemic of grip that has just passed over our fair country.

The hope to these people is Peruna.

Most people know this already.

Everyone who has had the least touch of grip, should not fail to take a course of treatment with Peruna.

Peruna eradicates every vestige of the disease and leaves the system in a normal condition.

Hon. Joseph B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"After giving Peruna a fair trial I can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with coughs, colds, la grippe and all catarrhal complaints."—J. B. Crowley.

Hon. George H. White, Congressman from North Carolina, writes:

"I am more than satisfied with Peruna, and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family, and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent remedy."—George H. White.

Hon. J. P. Megrew, Superintendent U. S. Capital Police Force, of Washington, D. C., says:

"Having suffered from the grip, I was advised by a friend to use your Peruna. I also used it for my catarrh, and I can now cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone who is suffering from the grip and catarrh."—J. P. Megrew.

Miss Anna Russell, Past Worthy Counselor, Loyd Mystic Legion, 293 Endicott Building, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"For years I have unfortunately found my system in a peculiarly receptive condition for catarrh when I was exposed in any way to inclement weather. At those times I would be severely afflicted with la grippe and its unpleasant consequences.

"Now for the past year and a half I have used Peruna in such cases and have found that it not only cures me quickly, but it also cleanses my blood and renders me less liable to catch cold. It is the finest preventative of colds that I know of and a very superior tonic."—Anna Russell.

Miss Emily Milburne, President of the Westside Young Woman's Club, No. 152 West Congress street, Chicago, Ill., writes of several members of the club of which she is president, who have had the Grip and have been quickly restored to health by Peruna.

Mr. Nicolas F. Rossiter, of 463 Norwood avenue, Cleveland, O., had a severe attack of the Grip, was very sick and under the physician's care. He, like many others, passed the acute stage but did not receive strength. Peruna not only quickly restored him to his former health, but to much better health than he has had for years. He gives Peruna all the praise.

Hon. Max J. Porges, Alderman of the Eighth District, residing at 36 Rivington street, New York, suffered with the Grip. two bottles of Peruna cured him. He also writes that he knows a large number of people who have been cured of the Grip by Peruna.

Hon. Charles W. Culkin, Alderman of the Seventh Assembly District of the Borough of Manhattan, residing at 45 Eighth avenue, New York, writes that he was laid up several days with the Grip. On the fifth day he was advised to try Peruna. He did so and found himself better within twenty-four hours. This remedy soon restored him to his usual vigorous health.

Mr. Martin Edwards, President of the County Clare Men's Benefit Society, 522 West Forty-Ninth street, New York, writes that he was cured of the Grip by a short course of treatment with Peruna.

Miss Blanche Dumont, President of the Athenia Club, 4110 Aldrich avenue North, Camden Place, Minneapolis, Minn., says she was cured of the Grip. Nothing helped her until she tried Peruna. Felt better next day after beginning its use. Was able to be out of bed the third day. She also tells of others who were cured by Peruna.

La Grippe is epidemic catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh, hence Peruna is a specific for la grippe.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

TWELVE PAGES.

ONE YEAR'S PROGRESS.

A year ago today the News Review changed owners. It also changed in other respects. That the change was for the better, in the opinion of the reading public, is shown by its phenomenal growth since that time. Instead of 877 copies daily, the number printed March 1, 1901, the paper now has a daily circulation of 2,600 copies or treble that of one year ago. Advertising patronage has grown proportionately, while the job department of the paper is doing four times as much business as formerly. The News Review one year ago had five short columns to the page. Today it has six columns of standard length, and pressure of advertising matter frequently necessitates the addition of four extra pages. In one year the paper has made more progress than in the preceding 18 years of its history.

The News Review and its weekly edition, the Saturday Review, are now recognized as the leading newspapers of Columbiana county—alert, alive and up to date in every particular. The Republicans of the county have watched its expansion with unbounded satisfaction and now fully realize that the county has a Republican newspaper worthy of such a Republican stronghold and faithfully devoted to the best interests of the party. In politics as in everything else it leaves the public in no doubt as to where it stands. Its course has won favor with men of all parties, for honest men respect honest opinions whether they agree with them or not. The mugwump and the nondescript journal are out of place in a community where political feeling runs as high as it does in Columbiana county.

But politics aside, the News Review is first of all a newspaper. It works for the good of the city and county, gives all the home news while it is fresh, and presents it in a crisp, entertaining and reliable form. It is constantly adding to its facilities for gathering the news and publishing it. The next few weeks will witness such a transformation of the mechanical department as cannot fail to be an agreeable surprise to all patrons.

Progress is the watchword with this newspaper. It has only just begun to grow. But all must admit, it has begun well. It will keep it up, and never weary in well-doing.

A healthy indication throughout the country is shown in the fact that nobody claims any fellowship with Wellington, of Maryland. The Republicans threw him out long ago, and none of the Democrats show any disposition to pick him up. Even though Wellington's effacement on March 4 next brings Gorman to the front, the Republicans of the United States will rejoice at the transition. Gorman is not a model senator, but he is better than no man at all.

The genuine welcome which the prince has received ever since he arrived in America will be as cordial in Ohio as anywhere that he is likely to go. Ohio has many citizens of German origin. They are loyal Americans, though they have not forgotten the Fatherland. They fully appreciate and understand the motive back of the kaiser's brother's visit, and welcome it as an evidence of the German government's good-will.

Bryan scared a horse at Uniontown and it followed the example of his party, running away from him. Good horse sense.

The Philippine tariff bill was passed earlier by the senate than was expected, and the changes which were made in it were fewer than were looked for. It ought not to take long for the two branches to come to an agreement on the measure. There is a strong incentive to get it enacted at the earliest possible date. No long deadlock will prevail between the two bodies.

You would be highly offended if anybody were to deprive you of your right to vote. Don't deprive yourself of it, then.

March is so lamb-like, it seems possible that the ground hog may have made a mistake.

Good Republican weather.

AT THE THEATER

The attraction at the Grand on Tuesday, March 4, will be the enormously successful drama, "Two Little Vagrants," presented by Edward C. White's well known company of artists. Rarely, if ever, has a dramatic attraction enjoyed such continuous runs of equal length. It had an astonishing run in Paris of over 900 nights, in London over 500 nights, and in New York City it was presented the greater part of an entire season. While in Boston it held the stage for something like three months. Since then it has done a phenomenal business in all the principal cities.

The Orpheon Extravaganza company of Chicago is making a strong feature of its chorus, having gathered together 40 of as pretty girls as ever carried a tin spear. In the production here of "Fiddle-dee-dee" and "Whirl-I-Gig" the chorus girl will wear elaborate costumes made from the original designs used by Weber & Fields for the safe plays. The engagement here is for Wednesday evening.

"The Mystery of Woodlawn," an interesting play, was well presented to a large house by the Keystone Dramatic club last evening. Tonight this company will present "Heart of the Mountain," a strong drama, closing a most successful week's engagement.

The theatrical papers of this week speak in the highest terms of Arthur C. Aiston's "At the Old Cross Roads." The attraction has been secured by the ushers of the Grand opera house and will appear here March 17.

POTTERY NEWS

An Akron paper, commenting upon the late combine talk, says:

"Up to the present time the Akron China company and the Summit China company of Akron, and the Barberton company have not been approached or made application to enter the combine.

"John G. Ingalls, treasurer of the Akron China company, states that he does not think it will develop into a general combine.

"An officer of the Summit stated he understood the American Potteries company was reaching out and that he hoped the efforts of the promoters would be successful.

"The Barberton pottery will not enter the combine. An officer of this company said he did not believe the combination would absorb any more beside the Union Potteries company, of East Liverpool."

Workmen employed in the clay department of the Union pottery expect to see the bonus wage scale recently adopted at that plant and at the Chelsea taken down soon. The scheme was rejected by the men soon after the notices providing for it were posted. The notices have not been molested since they were placed in the factories.

Owing to a rush of business in the clay shops at the Union the clay makers have been compelled to work at night during the past week. Additional machinery for the department is expected to be installed during the next few days.

Edward Devon, manager of the lower shop of the McNicol, who has been confined to his home on College street for several days with a severe attack of grip, is expected to be able to be able to resume his work by Monday.

Bert Hershner, a glost kilnman at Laughlin No. 2, who was injured by the falling in of a kiln at that plant recently, has recovered from his injuries, and is expected to resume his work next week.

Miss Ada Knox, of the decorating department of the Goodwin, left today for Steubenville where she will visit her mother for several days. One year ago today the father of Miss Knox died.

The largest glost crew ever employed at the Buckeye is now at work. Two extra kilns were made at the last pay.

Several kilnmen at the Buckeye are off duty on account of illness. Among the number is John Gray, and Aaron Coleman. They are expected at their benches Monday.

The beneficial feature will be added to No. 17 tonight. The committee having this task in hand has completed its labors, and this evening officers will be elected.

Miss Ada Eardley, a filler-in at the Burford, entertained a number of friends at her home on Waterloo street last evening. About 15 couples were present.

Stephen Leighton, who has been employed as a presser at the Thomas pottery at Lisbon, has taken a position at the Smith-McNicol at Wellsville.

Lot Haney, of the East End, who recently returned from a short visit at Niles, will likely take a position in the biscuit end of the Laughlin No. 2.

James Bowlis, a dipper at Cartwright's, who has been off duty on account of illness, resumed work yesterday.

J. B. Witherow, a cup jiggerman at the Union, has been unable to work for several days on account of sore eyes.

Zach Denning, a dish maker at the East Liverpool, who has been ill for a few days, has resumed his work.

Basil Vogle, who has been working on the biscuit end at the Buckeye, will go to Goodwin's Monday.

After a shut-down of almost a week the clay department at the National will resume Monday.

Evas Sebring, who has been in the city for several days, has returned to his home in Sebring.

Five turners will be employed at the Union next week, the fifth lathe to be started Monday.

Harry Huntsman, a jiggerman, making saucers, has resigned his position at the Union.

Ralph Turner, a glost kilnman at McNicol's is unable to work on account of illness.

James Irwin has taken a position as sticker-up at the East Liverpool.

IN PROBATE COURT

GUARDIAN APPOINTED TO ENABLE A MINOR TO WED.

Administrators for the Late Mrs. Agnes Harrison—Other Court News.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—Mary J. Blackburn has accepted the conditions of the will of her husband, Jesse K. Blackburn, late of Perry township.

Milton Edwards, of Madison township, a minor, having selected W. S. Potts as his guardian, the present guardian, J. Frank Hollinger, has been discharged by the court.

In the case of Susan B. Firestone, guardian of Nellie Firestone, the sale of lot 20 in Firestone's third addition to Lisbon has been confirmed and a deed ordered.

John K. Burt was chosen as guardian of Clarence R. Phillips, of Perry township, for the purpose of consenting to the marriage of the ward, whose age is 20 years. Bond of $5 was required.

The will of Mark O. Lodge, late of Salem township, has been admitted to probate, and Susanna Lodge appointed executrix without bond. The appraisers are Simon S. Groner, Henry D. Weaver and Wallace E. Neff.

In the assignment of Stephen Keith, the sale of real estate by the assignees, J. G. Moore and W. H. Hepburn, has been confirmed. The assignees have been ordered to distribute the proceeds of the sale, after Ada Keith has been paid her dower interest of $53.65.

G. A. Harrison and F. W. Harrison have been appointed administrators of the estate of Agnes Harrison, late of East Liverpool. Bond $9,000. William Cartwright, J. W. Wyman and John Horwell are appraisers.

Seward L. Howard has been appointed guardian of Arthur L. Howard, aged 15, son of the late Charles H. Howard, of Perry township.

Samantha Schaefernocker, widow of William Schaefernocker, late of Unity township, has asked for an increase of her year's allowance.

Washingtonville Man Claims Arrest Damaged His Reputation.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—Thomas Layden, a minor, by Maggie Layden, his next friend, has filed suit against George Charlton and his sureties, William Dalrymple and J. D. Smith. Charlton was marshal at Washingtonville, and on March 1, 1901, caused Layden, aged 20 years, to be arrested. Layden was imprisoned four hours and now considers his reputation injured to the extent of $100. He alleges that the arrest was malicious and without cause.

Large Vote in Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)— At 1 o'clock 250 votes had been cast here. It is thought that 1,000 votes will be cast in the town today. The greatest interest seems to be in the race for recorder, and the contest is close in Center township.

SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1902.

TWELVE PAGES.

ONE YEAR'S PROGRESS.

A year ago today the News Review changed owners. It also changed in other respects. That the change was for the better, in the opinion of the reading public, is shown by its phenomenal growth since that time. Instead of 877 copies daily, the number printed March 1, 1901, the paper now has a daily circulation of 2,600 copies or treble that of one year ago. Advertising patronage has grown proportionately, while the job department of the paper is doing four times as much business as formerly. The News Review one year ago had five short columns to the page. Today it has six columns of standard length, and pressure of advertising matter frequently necessitates the addition of four extra pages. In one year the paper has made more progress than in the preceding 18 years of its history.

The News Review and its weekly edition, the Saturday Review, are now recognized as the leading newspapers of Columbiana county—alert, alive and up to date in every particular. The Republicans of the county have watched its expansion with unbounded satisfaction and now fully realize that the county has a Republican newspaper worthy of such a Republican stronghold and faithfully devoted to the best interests of the party. In politics as in everything else it leaves the public in no doubt as to where it stands. Its course has won favor with men of all parties, for honest men respect honest opinions, whether they agree with them or not. The mugwump and the nondescript journal are out of place in a community where political feeling runs as high as it does in Columbiana county.

But politics aside, the News Review is first of all a newspaper. It works for the good of the city and county, gives all the home news while it is fresh, and presents it in a crisp, entertaining and reliable form. It is constantly adding to its facilities for gathering the news and publishing it. The next few weeks will witness such a transformation of the mechanical department as cannot fail to be an agreeable surprise to all patrons.

Progress is the watchword with this newspaper. It has only just begun to grow. But all must admit, it has begun well. It will keep it up, and never weary in well-doing.

A healthy indication throughout the country is shown in the fact that nobody claims any fellowship with Wellington, of Maryland. The Republicans threw him out long ago, and none of the Democrats show any disposition to pick him up. Even though Wellington's effacement on March 4 next brings Gorman to the front, the Republicans of the United States will rejoice at the transition. Gorman is not a model senator, but he is better than no man at all.

The genuine welcome which the prince has received ever since he arrived in America will be as cordial in Ohio as anywhere that he is likely to go. Ohio has many citizens of German origin. They are loyal Americans, though they have not forgotten the Fatherland. They fully appreciate and understand the motive back of the kaiser's brother's visit, and welcome it as an evidence of the German government's good-will.

Bryan scared a horse at Uniontown and it followed the example of his party, running away from him. Good horse sense.

The Philippine tariff bill was passed earlier by the senate than was expected, and the changes which were made in it were fewer than were looked for. It ought not to take long for the two branches to come to an agreement on the measure. There is a strong incentive to get it enacted at the earliest possible date. No long deadlock will prevail between the two bodies.

You would be highly offended if anybody were to deprive you of your right to vote. Don't deprive yourself of it, then.

March is so lamb-like, it seems possible that the ground hog may have made a mistake.

Good Republican weather.

AT THE THEATER

The attraction at the Grand on Tuesday, March 4, will be the enormously successful drama, "Two Little Vagrants," presented by Edward C. White's well known company of artists. Rarely, if ever, has a dramatic attraction enjoyed such continuous runs of equal length. It had an astonishing run in Paris of over 900 nights, in London over 500 nights, and in New York City it was presented the greater part of an entire season. While in Boston it held the stage for something like three months. Since then it has done a phenomenal business in all the principal cities.

The Orpheon Extravaganza company of Chicago is making a strong feature of its chorus, having gathered together 40 of as pretty girls as ever carried a tin spear. In the production here of "Fiddle-dee-dee" and "Whirl-I-Gig" the chorus girl will wear elaborate costumes made from the original designs used by Weber & Fields for the safe plays. The engagement here is for Wednesday evening.

"The Mystery of Woodlawn," an interesting play, was well presented to a large house by the Keystone Dramatic club last evening. Tonight this company will present "Heart of the Mountain," a strong drama, closing a most successful week's engagement.

The theatrical papers of this week speak in the highest terms of Arthur C. Alston's "At the Old Cross Roads." The attraction has been secured by the ushers of the Grand opera house and will appear here March 17.

POTTERY NEWS

An Akron paper, commenting upon the late combine talk, says:

"Up to the present time the Akron China company and the Summit China company of Akron, and the Barberton company have not been approached or made application to enter the combine.

"John G. Ingalls, treasurer of the Akron China company, states that he does not think it will develop into a general combine.

"An officer of the Summit stated he understood the American Potteries company was reaching out and that he hoped the efforts of the promoters would be successful.

"The Barberton pottery will not enter the combine. An officer of this company said he did not believe the combination would absorb any more beside the Union Potteries company, of East Liverpool."

Workmen employed in the clay department of the Union pottery expect to see the bonus wage scale recently adopted at that plant and at the Chelsea taken down soon. The scheme was rejected by the men soon after the notices providing for it were posted. The notices have not been molested since they were placed in the factories.

Owing to a rush of business in the clay shops at the Union the clay makers have been compelled to work at night during the past week. Additional machinery for the department is expected to be installed during the next few days.

Edward Devon, manager of the lower shop of the McNicol, who has been confined to his home on College street for several days with a severe attack of grip, is expected to be able to be able to resume his work by Monday.

Bert Hershner, a glost kilnman at Laughlin No. 2, who was injured by the falling in of a kiln at that plant recently, has recovered from his injuries, and is expected to resume his work next week.

Miss Ada Knox, of the decorating department of the Goodwin, left today for Steubenville where she will visit her mother for several days. One year ago today the father of Miss Knox died.

The largest glost crew ever employed at the Buckeye is now at work. Two extra kilns were made at the last pay.

Several kilnmen at the Buckeye are off duty on account of illness. Among the number is John Gray, and Aaron Coleman. They are expected at their benches Monday.

The beneficial feature will be added to No. 17 tonight. The committee having this task in hand has completed its labors, and this evening officers will be elected.

Miss Ada Eardley, a filler-in at the Burford, entertained a number of friends at her home on Waterloo street last evening. About 15 couples were present.

Stephen Leighton, who has been employed as a presser at the Thomas pottery at Lisbon, has taken a position at the Smith-McNicol at Wellsville.

Lot Haney, of the East End, who recently returned from a short visit at Niles, will likely take a position in the biscuit end of the Laughlin No. 2.

James Bowlls, a dipper at Cartwright's, who has been off duty on account of illness, resumed work yesterday.

J. B. Witherow, a cup jiggerman at the Union, has been unable to work for several days on account of sore eyes.

Zach Denning, a dish maker at the East Liverpool, who has been ill for a few days, has resumed his work.

Basil Vogle, who has been working on the biscuit end at the Buckeye will go to Goodwin's Monday.

After a shut-down of almost a week the clay department at the National will resume Monday.

Evas Sebring, who has been in the city for several days, has returned to his home in Sebring.

Five turners will be employed at the Union next week, the fifth lathe to be started Monday.

Harry Huntsman, a jiggerman, making saucers, has resigned his position at the Union.

Ralph Turner, a glost kilnman at McNicol's is unable to work on account of illness.

James Irwin has taken a position as sticker-up at the East Liverpool.

IN PROBATE COURT

GUARDIAN APPOINTED TO ENABLE A MINOR TO WED.

Administrators for the Late Mrs. Agnes Harrison—Other Court News.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—Mary J. Blackburn has accepted the conditions of the will of her husband, Jesse K. Blackburn, late of Perry township.

Milton Edwards, of Madison township, a minor, having selected W. S. Potts as his guardian, the present guardian, J. Frank Hollinger, has been discharged by the court.

In the case of Susan B. Firestone, guardian of Nellie Firestone, the sale of lot 20 in Firestone's third addition to Lisbon has been confirmed and a deed ordered.

John K. Burt was chosen as guardian of Clarence R. Phillips, of Perry township, for the purpose of consenting to the marriage of the ward, whose age is 20 years. Bond of $5 was required.

The will of Mark O. Lodge, late of Salem township, has been admitted to probate, and Susanna Lodge appointed executrix without bond. The appraisers are Simon S. Groner, Henry D. Weaver and Wallace E. Neff.

In the assignment of Stephen Keith, the sale of real estate by the assignees, J. G. Moore and W. H. Hepburn, has been confirmed. The assignees have been ordered to distribute the proceeds of the sale, after Ada Keith has been paid her dower interest of $53.65.

G. A. Harrison and F. W. Harrison have been appointed administrators of the estate of Agnes Harrison, late of East Liverpool. Bond $9,000. William Cartwright, J. W. Wyman and John Horwell are appraisers.

Seward L. Howard has been appointed guardian of Arthur L. Howard, aged 15, son of the late Charles H. Howard, of Perry township.

Samantha Schaefernocker, widow of William Schaefernocker, late of Unity township, has asked for an increase of her year's allowance.

Thomas Cartwright, employed at the Thomas China works, Lisbon, has taken out final naturalization papers and will vote today.

CIVIL WAR TOPICS

The Theme of Interesting Discussion By the Twentieth Century Club.

The Twentieth Century club held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Miss Mary Cope, Main street, yesterday afternoon.

The following program was rendered: Roll call; anecdotes of the civil war; paper, "Character Sketches of Grant and Lee," Mrs. Dennis; paper, "Political Parties in the United States," Miss Smith; conversation, "Women During the Civil War," led by Miss Moore; five-minute talk, "The National Bank," Mrs. Wells; "Civil War, 1863-1865," the club.

The visitors present were Mrs. W. M. Glasgow and Mrs. C. E. Clark and Miss Hazlett, of East Liverpool. Mrs. Glasgow and Mrs. Clark were elected honorary members, the former to perform the duties of Mrs. Denham, who is on an extended visit in the south.

IN HER BROTHER'S HONOR

Miss Margaret Arnold Charmingly Entertained Her Young Friends.

In a charming manner Miss Margaret Arnold entertained at her home, Third street, last evening in honor of her brother, Corydon. Music, dancing the playing of social games and the partaking of a choice three-course luncheon were the highly enjoyable features of the evening.

Those present were: Misses Kate Donaldson, Lena Lowary, Gertrude Lyth, Ethel Clark, Mabel Hewitt, Tillie Demlar, Stella Donnelly, Nellie Davis, Mary Yost, Beulah Wells and Beulah Williamson. Messrs. Wayne Wells, Paul Menough, Bennett Porter, Walter Moore, Thomas Hammond Sidney Smith, Dave Crumrine, Sam Myers, Thomas Silvers and Thomas Sheets.

EAST LIVERPOOL LOST

An Interesting Bowling Contest Played at Wellsville Last Night.

On the Campbell alleys last evening a bowling series of three games between the second team of Wellsville and Carnahan's team, of East Liverpool, was played, the latter losing by 62 pins. The score:

Wellsville—113, 121, 100; Stahl, 133, 190, 146; Brockett, 148, 137, 137; Cornelius, 114, 112, 136; Harsha, 108, 152, 111.

East Liverpool—Carnahan, 140, 137, 145; Cook, 129, 146, 105; Evanitcka, 133, 115, 102; Powell, 132, 123, 84; Russell, 137, 127, 141.

Cut Her Hand Badly.

Mrs. Erla Cusick, Eighteenth street, had the misfortune to break a dish on her hand, the pieces badly lacerating the hand and wrist. A cut in her wrist caused blood to flow profusely and it was thought an artery had been severed, but luckily such was not the case. The wounds are not serious.

THROWN FROM A CAR

A Brakeman's Head in Contact With a Water Spout—Hurled to the Ground.

An accident which might have proven fatal to A. J. Healy, of Center street, occurred in the West End yards. He is a brakeman employed by the C. & P. and it was while riding on top of a car that he met with the accident. A water spout extending out over the track came in violent contact with his head and precipitated him to the ground with great force.

An ugly gash on the side of his head was the result. He will be off duty for some time.

Social Club Dance.

The Young Men's Social club gave a dance at city hall last evening. The dancing classes of Profs. McDougall and Cassidy were invited and a pleasant time resulted.

GREAT DAMAGE

were favorable at their plant and no damage was expected from the flood there. However, all precautions are being taken should an unusual rise come.

Tal McCain, manager of the McCain stave mill, will suffer considerable loss on account of water coming into the works. There is considerable green lumber lying about this plant, and while the engine has been stopped for several days on account of improvements being made, work will be stopped entirely. A large force of men was employed at noon today building a boom about the logs lying on the river bank near this plant, extending from a point near the power house to opposite the miixng department of the Globe pottery. Mr. McCain stated this was the only way the property could be protected and as a large lot of staves is piled near the cooper shop it is desired to save as many of them as possible. Everything at this plant is in the best possible shape, although some loss will surely occur.

John Horwell, local manager of the Globe pottery, stated this morning that work had been stopped and some of the workmen were employed preparing for a flood. The water at this plant, it was expected, would reach a point in the biscuit kiln shed first and then enter the biscuit ware house. All the ware in these departments was removed to upper floors this morning, and by noon the lower floors were practically cleared of all materials, with the exception of the mixing rooms. The materials of this department are being protected as much as possible.

At the pump station of the water works department a large force of men was employed this morning under the direction of Supt. Phil Morley taking the linoleum from the floors and doing other work necessary to protect the plant from damage. All the machinery was being oiled in order that the muddy water might not affect it. Mr. Morley said the engines would be kept running. It will be remembered that the pumps were kept running constantly last year, although the floors were covered with water to the depth of two feet.

Manager Harker, of the Harker pottery, stated no damage was expected to result to his plant and at noon today the factory was still in operation. The slip house at this plant would be first affected by high water, and necessary precautions are being taken to prevent extended damage.

Conditions at the Laughlin No. 1 were favorable this morning and arrangements were made to protect the plant from damage.

Employes of the C. C. Thompson pottery this morning were engaged in preparing for a flood. An official of this firm stated that three feet of water was expected on the lower floors, and that all ware and materials were being removed to the upper floors. A number of poles which were delivered to this plant from Chester last week, to be used as piles, were removed from the river side of this pottery this morning to the north side. This was done to prevent the piles from being carried away by the flood.

The Diamond pottery, of the East Liverpool Potteries company, is in good shape, and while the water will surely reach the kilnshed, no serious damage is looked for. President Geo. C. Murphy said at noon today that all the company's factories along the river were in excellent shape and he did not look for any great damage.

A continued rise would put water in the Cartwright pottery, but precautions were taken during the night and this morning to prevent damage.

Two inches of water was on the cellar floor of the Potters' Supply company plant at noon. It is not thought this plant will have to suspend operations.

Pilgrim's coal office at the wharf was flooded during the early morning, but all furniture and the office safe was removed from the office last evening.

The flood is causing much damage in the West End, and occupants of houses in the lower parts of Jethro Hollow were compelled to remove from their homes during the morning. Furniture was removed to high ground in skiffs. This district is flooded every high water and the back water extends quite a distance up the hollow.

Occupants of shanty boats moored along the river bank from Market street to a point near the power house are watching their boats, which are tied close to the shore. So far no damage has been done.

The ice from the Allegheny river commenced to pass this city about 8 o'clock last evening, and when the ice struck the piers of the East Liverpool bridge, water was thrown high in the air. The swift current at the head of Babb's island caused much ice to be lodged on the island. The continued rise has almost completely covered the island and washed the ice away.

Not for years has so much wreckage been carried past this city by a flood. Many flats, belonging to the Twin City Sand company, of Pittsburg passed down this mornin, some being broken. No attempt was made to catch them owing to the danger.

The low lands of Wellsville are partially submerged and the residents of Third street are moving their furniture to other parts of the town. The United States Pottery is in danger of being flooded also.

Anxiety exists in Smith's Ferry and Glasgow. There is back water in Beaver creek for more than four miles, and there is four feet of water in the property of W. L. Wade, Smith's Ferry. Families in Glasgow are moving to upper floors. It is feared that if the river rises much more the ice will cause much damage at Smith's Ferry.

At 11 o'clock this morning travel on the East Liverpool railway was stopped, the water flooding the tracks at Thompson's pottery. Many cars were caught this side of the pottery and were unable to reach the barns.

Fear was expressed this morning over the safety of the towboat Tornado, which passed up the river last evening just before the ice from the Allegheny river commenced to come down. The owners of the boat at Pittsburg tried to reach the captain of the Tornado before it reached this city, but failed. The boat reached Smith's Ferry just as the ice commenced to pass and was quickly run to the shore.

CIVIL WAR TOPICS

The Theme of Interesting Discussion By the Twentieth Century Club.

The Twentieth Century club held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Miss Mary Cope, Main street, yesterday afternoon.

The following program was rendered: Roll call; anecdotes of the civil war; paper, "Character Sketches of Grant and Lee," Mrs. Dennis; paper, "Political Parties in the United States," Miss Smith; conversation, "Women During the Civil War," led by Miss Moore; five-minute talk, "The National Bank," Mrs. Wells; "Civil War, 1863-1865," the club.

The visitors present were Mrs. W. M. Glasgow and Mrs. C. E. Clark and Miss Hazlett, of East Liverpool. Mrs. Glasgow and Mrs. Clark were elected honorary members, the former to perform the duties of Mrs. Denham, who is on an extended visit in the south.

IN HER BROTHER'S HONOR

Miss Margaret Arnold Charmingly Entertained Her Young Friends.

In a charming manner Miss Margaret Arnold entertained at her home, Third street, last evening in honor of her brother, Corydon. Music, dancing the playing of social games and the partaking of a choice three-course luncheon were the highly enjoyable features of the evening.

Those present were: Misses Kate Donaldson, Lena Lowary, Gertrude Lyth, Ethel Clark, Mabel Hewitt, Tillie Demlar, Stella Donnelly, Nellie Davis, Mary Yost, Beulah Wells and Beulah Williamson. Messrs. Wayne Wells, Paul Menough, Bennett Porter, Walter Moore, Thomas Hammond Sidney Smith, Dave Crumrine, Sam Myers, Thomas Silvers and Thomas Sheets.

EAST LIVERPOOL LOST

An Interesting Bowling Contest Played at Wellsville Last Night.

On the Campbell alleys last evening a bowling series of three games between the second team of Wellsville and Carnahan's team, of East Liverpool, was played, the latter losing by 62 pins. The score:

Wellsville—113, 121, 100; Stahl, 133, 190, 146; Brockett, 148, 137, 137; Cornelius, 114, 112, 136; Harsha, 108, 152, 111.

East Liverpool—Carnahan, 140, 137, 145; Cook, 129, 146, 105; Evanitcka, 133, 115, 102; Powell, 132, 123, 84; Russell, 137, 127, 141.

Cut Her Hand Badly.

Mrs. Erla Cusick, Eighteenth street, had the misfortune to break a dish on her hand, the pieces badly lacerating the hand and wrist. A cut in her wrist caused blood to flow profusely, and it was thought an artery had been severed, but luckily such was not the case. The wounds are not serious.

THROWN FROM A CAR

A Brakeman's Head in Contact With a Water Spout—Hurled to the Ground.

An accident which might have proven fatal to A. J. Healy, of Center street, occurred in the West End yards. He is a brakeman employed by the C. & P. and it was while riding on top of a car that he met with the accident. A water spout extending out over the track came in violent contact with his head and precipitated him to the ground with great force.

An ugly gash on the side of his head was the result. He will be off duty for some time.

Social Club Dance.

The Young Men's Social club gave a dance at city hall last evening. The dancing classes of Profs. McDougall and Cassidy were invited and a pleasant time resulted.

PLAIN QUESTIONS FOR FIFTH WARD

Voters Asked to Consider the Rapidly Growing Debt of the City.

TAXPAYERS' INTERESTS

Where Dr. Marshall Might Have Looked After Them, But Is Accused of Not Doing So—Can He Escape Responsibility?

Editor News Review: With much eclat Dr. R. J. Marshall proclaims himself for the fifth time a seeker after councilmanic honors at the hands of the voters of the Fifth ward. In his accustomed ostentatious manner he feigns great friendship for the man of limited means. Sirenlike he attempts to lull the voters into the belief that he will do all kinds of possible and impossible things for them only to forget his promises after election day. He professes to have looked after the interests of the taxpayers at all times, and so he has—the wealthy ones. I have known and taken great interest in the doctor for years, and always found him to be for himself first, last and all the time. Take for instance the matter of improving the hill road connecting the city proper with the East End.

The city engineer's estimate on the cost of this improvement was $9,000, the city's share of which was to be $185. Based on this estimate Dr. Marshall managed to induce council to pass the improving ordinance. And now what do we find the actual cost of the improvement to be? Thirty-two thousand dollars, of which amount only $25,000 can be levied against the property benefited, thus leaving $7,000 to be saddled on the city, provided all the assessments can be collected. But that is not all.

There are damage suits as a result of this improvement amounting to about $28,000, running the eventual cost of the improvement up to the stupendous sum of $60,000. And what are the returns for this price? How many of our working people in any part of the city are benefited by this vast expenditure of money? Less than one-half of this amount expended on the river road would mean money in the pockets of all classes—the working man and woman in the saving of car fares, etc. But that would not satisfy the doctor and his friends, for at that time the street railway company was opposed to the improvement of the river road, the doctor was on very friendly terms with the management and carried out their wishes.

Here is another evidence of the doctor's extreme friendliness towards the poorer classes. The long list of assessments for Penusylvania avenue improvements show Dr. Marshall's friends—those able to pay taxes—have all been very carefully "taken care" of. Permit me to cite but one case: Wm. C. Thompson is the owner of a bunch of lots along the line of improvement and is required to pay only $10 for each lot of 50 feet, while L. Gardner and Wm. H. Kinney adjoining are compelled to pay $20 each for the same number of feet frontage, or 100 per cent more than the former.

Instances of this kind are too numerous to be crowded into the limited space at my disposal. Two years ago the doctor was re-elected on the postive promise that he would give his hearty support to the improvement of the river road, but not one dollar has been expended on that dilapidated road since then, and never will be as long as he is in power. When Dr. Marshall entered city council eight years ago the bonded indebtedness of the city amounted to $280,000. It has now increased to $470,000—almost doubled in that time. Marshall more than any other man is responsible for this, for has he not been the leading spirit of the finance committee and council for over six years? Only recently it was necessary to sell bonds to the amount of $50,000 to relieve the floating indebtedness of the city, the banks having curtailed the credit of the city, even flatly refusing to honor the city's paper. Thus is Marshall's policy drifting East Liverpool toward bankruptcy.

Are your taxes and rents lower now than formerly? You all know what your taxes were last year. With Marshall back in council next year taxes will be higher, sure pop. In view of these facts is it not for the best interests of the city that the doctor should be retired this time and a friend of the workingman put in his place? If there is no compensation in the office for the doctor, why is it he is after it so hard and so everlastingly?

HIS CHANCE OF HEART

Must Have Been Experienced—Only a Year Ago, as Formerly He Worked With Them Against the Taxpayers' Interests.

(From the Operative Potter.)

To the Editor of the Operative Potter

It is very amusing to me to hear Dr. R. J. Marshall telling about what great things he has done since entering the city Council against the street railway company in favor of the citizens. He must have experienced a change of heart lately for I remember that it was only about a year ago that he was an earnest supporter of an ordinance in which the the residents along the line of the new extension of the street railway in the east were thrown down.

The ordinance as first introduced in Council only a few meetings prior to the election of the new members last Spring was a free gift of the right of way over the streets of that section of the city. Dr. Marshall endeavored to make it appear that he was compelling them to make this extension when in reality the street railway campany considered it "pie" to be allowed to do so. Mr. McLane put a quietus on the ordinance, however, by moving an amendment compelling the street railway company to light its tracks along this extension, placing a light every sixth of a mile.

Of course Mr. Marshall could not go against this amendment as it was too apparent that it was in favor with the people. Another move was made, however. Mr. Marshall working in conjunction with the street railway company came up at the meeting of the old council last spring and stated that the company had refused to accept the franchise which compelled them to light their tracks. He again brought up the old ordinance which did not contain this feature and succeeded in railroading it through under suspension of the rules. He afterwards came in Council and asked that these lights, or at least a portion of them be put in place, and they are now being paid for by the city.

And still Mr. Marshall claims that he is the one great enemy of the street railway company, and the friend of the taxpayer of the Fifth ward. I leave those matters to the reflection of the voters of that ward and I feel sure that they will not allow themselves to be buncoed in this respect. 50-h

And Throws His Support to the Laboring Man's Candidate.

To the Public: Having come to the conclusion that the interests of the small property owners of the East End are dependent on the election of a man who will represent their interests in council and realizing that I, as a candidate, will only complicate matters in my ward, I respectfully withdraw as a candidate for the nomination.

While I have all the sympathy of the working men at heart I feel that Mr. James Jameson, being a member of a potters' local and a staunch supporter of all union labor, is in a position to more freely ask the support of this contingent, and for this reason I, while thanking all my friends for their promised support, ask them to transfer their preference to Mr. Jameson, who is a man capable of filling the position and one who will see to it that the interests of the laboring people is first of importance.

GOSSIP OF BIG AND LITTLE BOXERS.

Lenny and Smith Are Two Featherweights of Ability—Current Pugilistic Comment.

While pugilistic circles are rife with predictions and comment relative to the forthcoming conflict between Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries it will not be unprofitable to diverge a bit from the general run of events and give a small portion of consideration to the doughty little fellows who make things lively in the lighter weight divisions.

A glance along the line will show the keen observer a large number of light and feather weight boxers who are as able and fit in their class as Jeffries, Fitzsimmons, Sharkey, Corbett, Ruhlin and McCoy. And their contests are full of interest and excitement too. Who will deny that it is less attractive to watch two agile, lightning quick little fellows spar and feint for openings and land heavily on their opponents than it is to follow the maneuvers of two burly, slow moving heavyweights lunging at each other, intent on deciding all with one terrific sledgehammer blow?

The featherweight branch of the boxing game is showing great activity these days. The young gamecocks are thirsting for human blood and real spending money, and they are taking advantage of every opportunity that offers.

Two of the most promising featherweights in the ring today are Sammy Smith, the plucky Pennsylvanian, and Eddie Lenny of Buffalo. These lads have provided some royal sport for the lovers of fistiana, and their successes have paved the way for still more numerous and more important matches in the future.

Lenny is now in the best form of his pugilistic career and is acknowledged to be a dangerous man for any "pug" of the same division to go up against. His recent quick knockout of George Dixon at Baltimore verified the prediction of his manager, Jim Dougherty, when he said he would make Lenny a champion. Dougherty knew Eddie's real ability. The Buffalonian has had several offers to appear in the west, but thus far he has refused them all. It is very probable, however, that he will fight in Chicago and San Francisco before the summer days arrive.

Sammy Smith will some day be the champion of his class if the predictions of his backers come true. Smith is one of the most scientific little fighters Philadelphia has ever turned out. He is only nineteen years of age and has been fighting for two years, during which time he has lost but one decision, and that a questionable one, to Tommy Feltz at Savannah. Since boxing was revived in Philadelphia he has defeated such boxers as Joe Fairburn, Lew Ryall, Jimmy Simister, George Richardson and Patsy Haley of Buffalo.

RED NOSE.

Sure Sign of Bad Blood—Can Be Cured with Blood Wine.

Many of our Citizens Thus Afflicted Are Obtaining Wonderful Results from this Great Remedy.

Red nose, red, flushed face, pimply skin, sallow complexion, and sores all belong in the same class, known as diseases of the blood. There is really no excuse for a person suffering with these disfigurements, because the proper treatment brought to bear on the blood will quickly correct them. "Blood Wine" cures disease by working on the blood. It makes new blood and extracts from it the poisonous matter that create sores, etc. It literally permeates the blood with new life. It causes redness of the skin to gradually disappear and the tint of health to return. It makes sores, ulcers and pimples dry up and fade away. Its action on the blood is never failing.

This is a picture of Mr. Geo. A. Carter, one of Worcester's leading business men and a power in the industrial life of Massachusetts, who says:

"I am much pleased to be able to give my testimony as to the worth and curative properties of 'Blood Wine.' Having used this remedy for more than a year, I can truthfully say it is the best medicine I have ever used for the blood. I would not be without it at any price. After using the first bottle I was greatly benefited, and my entire system seemed renewed with energy, health, and strength before I had finished my second bottle. I can heartily and conscientiously recommend it for old or young as being a remedy that will not disappoint you."

You should try this great medicine; you will feel the effect of it the moment it strikes the stomach. "Blood Wine" contains no wine or opiates. It is not a temporary relief but an everlasting cure.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores.

PLAIN QUESTIONS FOR FIFTH WARD

Voters Asked to Consider the Rapidly Growing Debt of the City.

TAXPAYERS' INTERESTS

Where Dr. Marshall Might Have Looked After Them, But Is Accused of Not Doing So—Can He Escape Responsibility?

Editor News Review: With much eclat Dr. R. J. Marshall proclaims himself for the fifth time a seeker after councilmanic honors at the hands of the voters of the Fifth ward. In his accustomed ostentatious manner he feigns great friendship for the man of limited means. Sirenlike he attempts to lull the voters into the belief that he will do all kinds of possible and impossible things for them only to forget his promises after election day. He professes to have looked after the interests of the taxpayers at all times, and so he has—the wealthy ones. I have known and taken great interest in the doctor for years, and always found him to be for himself first, last and all the time. Take for instance the matter of improving the hill road connecting the city proper with the East End.

The city engineer's estimate on the cost of this improvement was $9,000, the city's share of which was to be $185. Based on this estimate Dr. Marshall managed to induce council to pass the improving ordinance. And now what do we find the actual cost of the improvement to be? Thirty-two thousand dollars, of which amount only $25,000 can be levied against the property benefited, thus leaving $7,000 to be saddled on the city, provided all the assessments can be collected. But that is not all.

There are damage suits as a result of this improvement amounting to about $28,000, running the eventual cost of the improvement up to the stupendous sum of $60,000. And what are the returns for this price? How many of our working people in any part of the city are benefited by this vast expenditure of money? Less than one-half of this amount expended on the river road would mean money in the pockets of all classes—the working man and woman in the saving of car fares, etc. But that would not satisfy the doctor and his friends, for at that time the street railway company was opposed to the improvement of the river road, the doctor was on very friendly terms with the management and carried out their wishes.

Here is another evidence of the doctor's extreme friendliness towards the poorer classes. The long list of assessments for Pennsylvania avenue improvements show Dr. Marshall's friends—those able to pay taxes—have all been very carefully "taken care" of. Permit me to cite but one case: Wm. C. Thompson is the owner of a bunch of lots along the line of improvement and is required to pay only $10 for each lot of 50 feet, while L. Gardner and Wm. H. Kinney adjoining are compelled to pay $20 each for the same number of feet frontage, or 100 per cent more than the former.

Instances of this kind are too numerous to be crowded into the limited space at my disposal. Two years ago the doctor was re-elected on the postive promise that he would give his hearty support to the improvement of the river road, but not one dollar has been expended on that dilapidated road since then, and never will be as long as he is in power. When Dr. Marshall entered city council eight years ago the bonded indebtedness of the city amounted to $280,000. It has now increased to $470,000—almost doubled in that time. Marshall more than any other man is responsible for this, for has he not been the leading spirit of the finance committee and council for over six years? Only recently it was necessary to sell bonds to the amount of $50,000 to relieve the floating indebtedness of the city, the banks having curtailed the credit of the city, even flatly refusing to honor the city's paper. Thus is Marshall's policy drifting East Liverpool toward bankruptcy.

Are your taxes and rents lower now than formerly? You all know what your taxes were last year. With Marshall back in council next year taxes will be higher, sure pop. In view of these facts is it not for the best interests of the city that the doctor should be retired this time and a friend of the workingman put in his place? If there is no compensation in the office for the doctor, why is it he is after it so hard and so everlastingly?

There is really no excuse for a person suffering with these disfigurements, because the proper treatment brought to bear on the blood will quickly correct them. "Blood Wine" cures disease by working on the blood. It makes new blood and extracts from it the poisonous matter that create sores, etc. It literally permeates the blood with new life. It causes redness of the skin to gradually disappear and the tint of health to return. It makes sores, ulcers and pimples dry up and fade away. Its action on the blood is never failing.

This is a picture of Mr. Geo. A. Carter, one of Worcester's leading business men and a power in the industrial life of Massachusetts, who says:

"I am much pleased to be able to give my testimony as to the worth and curative properties of 'Blood Wine.' Having used this remedy for more than a year, I can truthfully say it is the best medicine I have ever used for the blood. I would not be without it at any price. After using the first bottle I was greatly benefited, and my entire system seemed renewed with energy, health, and strength before I had finished my second bottle. I can heartily and conscientiously recommend it for old or young as being a remedy that will not disappoint you."

You should try this great medicine; you will feel the effect of it the moment it strikes the stomach. "Blood Wine" contains no wine or opiates. It is not a temporary relief but an everlasting cure.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores.

The Quickest Cough Eradicator.

(From the Shortsville, N. Y., Enterprise.)

This is the month that one takes cold so easily and quickly—secures that hacking cough, which is so persistently disagreeable as we know by personal experience. And we also know that the quickest eradicator of such cough has been Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and which has been our staunch standby for several years. This is no paid "puff," but merely a just recognition for an invariable remedy for for coughs, colds, and all lung affections, and like the editor, it has scores of other staunch friends in this town. This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

TALK OF DR. MARSHALL'S FRIENDSHIP FOR THE LABORING MEN. HE ERECTED ALL HIS HOUSES IN THE EAST END WITH NON-UNION LABOR. 50-h

TRADE MOST SATISFACTORY.

So Were Industrial Results, In Spite of Short Month, Two Holidays and Storms.

New York, March 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today said in part:

Although the shortest month of the year was further curtailed by two holidays and handicapped by the most severe storms of the winter industrial and trade results were most satisfactory. The closing week brought a general resumption of activity in lines that suffered from the weather and preparation for an exceptionally heavy spring business was reported at many points, southern cities alone being backward. Insufficient motive power and bad weather combined to restrict the movement of coke from Connellsville and pig iron production suffers at a time when a maximum output would not be excessive. This difficulty extends all along the line. Pressure for structural material is already severe, and will probably be still more so as the regular building season draws nearer. Further hardening of quotations is reported and inquiries for delivery in 1903 are not exceptional. More foreign steel has been engaged, and domestic concerns are still bidding in the German market.

As a rule woolen goods are well maintained and in brisk demand, but new lines of heavy weights are not sought.

Cereals opened the week with a decided reaction. As usual, speculative liquidation carried the decline too far, and there followed the customary recovery. Wheat came into sight rather more freely than a year ago, and the Atlantic shipment of flour made a better comparison than in recent preceding weeks, but total exports of wheat from the United States, flour included, were but 3,185,052 bushels, against 4,324,249 bushels a year ago.

Corn showed the customary loss in both movements, receipts amounting to only 2,312,664 bushels, against 4,849,783 last year, while Atlantic coast shipments were 184,682 bushels, compared with 3,421,682 in the same week of 1901. Wool has been taken less freely by mills, but dealers show lack of confidence in the future of that staple.

Failures for the week numbered 215 in the United States, against 179 last year, and 35 in Canada, against 31 last year.

DRAGGED PRICES DOWNWARD.

Effect Friday of Forecast of Bank Statement.

New York, March 1.—The forecast of the bank statement and the prospect of additional heavy requirements upon New York bank reserves overcame the market Friday and dragged prices downward. The decline toward the latter part of the trading showed more consistency than any previous movement during the week. Prices of all classes of stocks were alike affected, both the minor specialties, among which there had been some show of strength earlier in the day and the leading standard stocks, which had lain inert until the selling movement began. The liquidation was not urgent and showed no signs of being forced, but it was evident that it was thought best to be prepared for contingencies in the money market and take in all sail possible. The preliminary figures of the week's cash movement as usually published on Friday, which include the known movement of money up to Thursday night, indicates that the banks have lost nearly $6,000,000 in cash during the week. The exports of gold called exactly for $3,513,823. The routine sub-treasury operations took $2 892 177. The regular express movement with the interior was in favor of New York to the extent of less than a million dollars and Friday there was deposited at the sub treasury $500 000 for transfer to Chicago which would about wipe out the earlier gain by the banks. With surplus reserves of the banks last Saturday already down to the modest showing of $12 456,650, the money outlook seems somewhat formidable for speculators on margin who are dependent upon the call loan market for accommodation with which to carry their holdings. On the other hand March interest and dividend disbursements will be unprecedentedly large this year, estimates of the amount running to $57,000 000. The speculators, however, evidently took the view that caution was desirable and they sold their holdings. The day's net losses run over a point for some of the important stocks.

The bond market was dull and moved very narrowly. Total sales, par value, $3,220,000.

Illustrious She.

She's a woman with a mission; 'tis her heaven born ambition to reform the world's condition, you will please to understand.

She's a model of propriety, a leader in society and has a great variety of remedes at hand,

Each a sovereign specific, with a title scientific, for the cure of the morbific things that vex the people sore,

For the swift alleviation of the evils of the nation is her foreordained vocation on this sublunary shore.

She can lecture by the hour, with incomparable power, on the gloomy clouds that lower o'er the country's fair domain,

And you weep for Eve and Adam, for the devil ne'er had had 'em if they'd only known the madam, and we'd all been proud of Cain.

And while thus she's up and coming, always hurrying and humming, and occasionally slumming, this reformer of renown,

Her neglected little Dicky, ragged, dirty, tough and tricky, with his fingers soiled and sticky, is the terror of the town.

CAPTURED THE CRITICS.

Brilliant Success of American Girl In Grand Opera at Paris.

Miss Bessie Abbott, the charming young American whose recent debut in grand opera in Paris was so pronounced a success, leaped into prominence at one bound. It is a rare thing for an operatic debutante to gain the good will of the French critics in a single performance. But this Miss Abbott accomplished, and the public has indorsed the opinion.

Miss Abbott is a native of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and less than five years ago she was singing coon songs with her sister Jessie in American vaudeville houses. It was Jean de Reszke who by chance discovered the capabilities of her voice. In company with her sister Miss Abbott was on her way to England to fill an engagement at a London music hall. M. de Reszke, who by a lucky chance was on board the steamer, heard the sisters sing a coon duet at a concert and at once singled out the soprano as an unusually gifted vocalist.

Following De Reszke's advice, Miss Abbott returned to New York and began to study vocal art under the direction of Mrs. Frida Ashforth. She continued her studies with Mrs. Ashforth until last May, when her instructor took her to Paris and had her sing for M. Capoul. The result of this hearing was that he arranged to have her sing for M. Gailhard, director of the opera, who was so favorably impressed with her voice that he engaged her.

Miss Abbott made her first appearance in the part of Juliet in "Romeo and Juliet," and it was considered the finest debut ever made on the stage in grand opera.

Miss Abbott's real name is Pickens, and she belongs to a branch of the well known southern family of that name. At one time her father was wealthy, but he lost his money, and the sisters were obliged to go on the stage to support themselves.

Equal.

Some years ago at a Mardi Gras ball at the Hopkins Institute of Art a man, masked, approached a woman, masked, and asked her for a dance, as is considered right and proper at Mardi Gras.

"But I don't know you, sir," said the lady in her most icy tone.

"Well, I'm taking as big a risk as you are," retorted the man.

ON THE EVENING OF JANUARY 21ST, 1902, DR. R. J. MARSHALL, IN OPEN COUNCIL MEETING, MADE THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT HE WOULD NOT AGAIN BE A CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION. IS IT NOT RATHER SUSPICIOUS THAT HE SHOULD SO RADICALLY CHANGE HIS MIND IN SO SHORT A PERIOD? POSSIBLY HE HAS IN MIND THE ERECTION OF A FEW MORE NON-UNION HOUSES WITHIN TWO YEARS. 50-h

MARITIME EXPRESSIONS.

Used In a Metaphorical Sense, They Are Quite Common.

Maritime expressions, used metaphorically, are, in fact, very common. We say a couple are "spliced," a young man is the "mainstay" of his family, an intruder "puts his oar in," the member from Wayback "steers through," a man is "hard up," sometimes "taken aback" or has "the wind taken out of his sails," a toper is "slewed," a loafer "spins a yarn," sometimes "tries the other tack," and a ruler "steers the ship of state" through troublesome times.

This last metaphor is extremely ancient, by the way. Horace refers to Rome as a ship at sea, and Plutarch says the Delphic oracle referred to Athens in the same way. A Tamil saying embodies a like metaphor, "The soul is the ship, reason is the helm, the oars are the soul's thoughts, and truth is the port." An old collection of English proverbs contains this one: "The tongue is the rudder of our ship." A Malay maxim says, "The boat which is swamped at sea may be bailed out, but the shipwreck of the affections is final."

Aristophanes, Plautus and others use an expression which comes down to us as an English saw, "To row one way and look another." An old English proverb (1614) was, "It is not good to have an oar in every one's boat."—United Service.

THE CAPITAL.

Washington will be easily the most beautiful city of the world before A. D. 2000. But it had the great advantage of an admirable plan at the beginning and did not "just grow."—Jacksonville Times-Union.

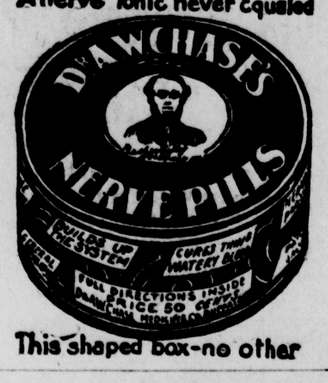

No patriotic American will revolt because it is the intention of the federal authorities to beautify the American capital. The capital of every nation ought to be the most beautiful city in the nation, and every loyal son of that nation ought to be of that mind.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Quickest Cough Eradicator.

(From the Shortsville, N. Y., Enterprise.)

This is the month that one takes cold so easily and quickly—secures that hacking cough, which is so persistently disagreeable as we know by personal experience. And we also know that the quickest eradicator of such cough has been Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and which has been our staunch standby for several years. This is no paid "puff," but merely a just recognition for an invariable remedy for for coughs, colds, and all lung affections, and like the editor, it has scores of other staunch friends in this town. This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

TRADE MOST SATISFACTORY.

So Were Industrial Results, In Spite of Short Month, Two Holidays and Storms.

New York, March 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today said in part:

Although the shortest month of the year was further curtailed by two holidays and handicapped by the most severe storms of the winter industrial and trade results were most satisfactory. The closing week brought a general resumption of activity in lines that suffered from the weather and preparation for an exceptionally heavy spring business was reported at many points, southern cities alone being backward. Insufficient motive power and bad weather combined to restrict the movement of coke from Connellsville and pig iron production suffers at a time when a maximum output would not be excessive. This difficulty extends all along the line. Pressure for structural material is already severe, and will probably be still more so as the regular building season draws nearer. Further hardening of quotations is reported and inquiries for delivery in 1903 are not exceptional. More foreign steel has been engaged, and domestic concerns are still bidding in the German market.

As a rule woolen goods are well maintained and in brisk demand, but new lines of heavy weights are not sought.

Cereals opened the week with a decided reaction. As usual, speculative liquidation carried the decline too far, and there followed the customary recovery. Wheat came into sight rather more freely than a year ago, and the Atlantic shipment of flour made a better comparison than in recent preceding weeks, but total exports of wheat from the United States, flour included, were but 3,185,052 bushels, against 4,324,249 bushels a year ago.

Corn showed the customary loss in both movements, receipts amounting to only 2,212,664 bushels, against 4,849,783 last year, while Atlantic coast shipments were 184,682 bushels, compared with 3,421,682 in the same week of 1901. Wool has been taken less freely by mills, but dealers show lack of confidence in the future of that staple.

Failures for the week numbered 215 in the United States, against 179 last year, and 35 in Canada, against 31 last year.

DRAGGED PRICES DOWNWARD.

Effect Friday of Forecast of Bank Statement.

New York, March 1.—The forecast of the bank statement and the prospect of additional heavy requirements upon New York bank reserves overcame the market Friday and dragged prices downward. The decline toward the latter part of the trading showed more consistency than any previous movement during the week. Prices of all classes of stocks were alike affected, both the minor specialties, among which there had been some show of strength earlier in the day and the leading standard stocks, which had lain inert until the selling movement began. The liquidation was not urgent and showed no signs of being forced, but it was evident that it was thought best to be prepared for contingencies in the money market and take in all sail possible. The preliminary figures of the week's cash movement as usually published on Friday, which include the known movement of money up to Thursday night, indicates that the banks have lost nearly $6,000,000 in cash during the week. The exports of gold called exactly for $3,513,823. The routine sub-treasury operations took $2,892,177. The regular express movement with the interior was in favor of New York to the extent of less than a million dollars and Friday there was deposited at the sub-treasury $500,000 for transfer to Chicago which would about wipe out the earlier gain by the banks. With surplus reserves of the banks last Saturday already down to the modest showing of $12,456,650, the money outlook seems somewhat formidable for speculators on margin who are dependent upon the call loan market for accommodation with which to carry their holdings. On the other hand March interest and dividend disbursements will be unprecedentedly large this year, estimates of the amount running to $57,000,000. The speculators, however, evidently took the view that caution was desirable and they sold their holdings. The day's net losses run over a point for some of the important stocks.

The bond market was dull and moved very narrowly. Total sales, par value, $3,220,000.

Illustrious She.

She's a woman with a mission; 'tis her heaven born ambition to reform the world's condition, you will please to understand.
She's a model of propriety, a leader in society and has a great variety of remedes at hand,
Each a sovereign specific, with a title scientific, for the cure of the morbific things that vex the people sore,
For the swift alleviation of the evils of the nation is her foreordained vocation on this sublunary shore.
She can lecture by the hour, with incomparable power, on the gloomy clouds that lower o'er the country's fair domain,
And you weep for Eve and Adam, for the devil ne'er had had 'em if they'd only known the madam, and we'd all been proud of Cain.
And while thus she's up and coming, always hurrying and humming, and occasionally slumming, this reformer of renown,
Her neglected little Dicky, ragged, dirty tough and tricky, with his fingers soiled and sticky, is the terror of the town.

CAPTURED THE CRITICS.

Brilliant Success of American Girl in Grand Opera at Paris.

Miss Bessie Abbott, the charming young American whose recent debut in grand opera in Paris was so pronounced a success, leaped into prominence at one bound. It is a rare thing for an operatic debutante to gain the good will of the French critics in a single performance. But this Miss Abbott accomplished, and the public has indorsed the opinion.

Miss Abbott is a native of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and less than five years ago she was singing coon songs with her sister Jessie in American vaudeville houses. It was Jean de Reszke who by chance discovered the capabilities of her voice. In company with her sister Miss Abbott was on her way to England to fill an engagement at a London music hall. M. de Reszke, who by a lucky chance was on board the steamer, heard the sisters sing a coon duet at a concert and at once singled out the soprano as an unusually gifted vocalist.

Following De Reszke's advice, Miss Abbott returned to New York and began to study vocal art under the direction of Mrs. Frida Ashforth. She continued her studies with Mrs. Ashforth until last May, when her instructor took her to Paris and had her sing for M. Capoul. The result of this hearing was that he arranged to have her sing for M. Gailhard, director of the opera, who was so favorably impressed with her voice that he engaged her.

Miss Abbott made her first appearance in the part of Juliet in "Romeo and Juliet," and it was considered the finest debut ever made on the stage in grand opera.

Miss Abbott's real name is Pickens, and she belongs to a branch of the well known southern family of that name. At one time her father was wealthy, but he lost his money, and the sisters were obliged to go on the stage to support themselves.

Some years ago at a Mardi Gras ball at the Hopkins Institute of Art a man, masked, approached a woman, masked, and asked her for a dance, as is considered right and proper at Mardi Gras.

"But I don't know you, sir," said the lady in her most icy tone.

"Well, I'm taking as big a risk as you are," retorted the man.

Used In a Metaphorical Sense, They Are Quite Common.

Maritime expressions, used metaphorically, are, in fact, very common. We say a couple are "spliced," a young man is the "mainstay" of his family, an intruder "puts his oar in," the member from Wayback "steers through," a man is "hard up," sometimes "taken aback" or has "the wind taken out of his sails," a toper is "slewed," a loafer "spins a yarn," sometimes "tries the other tack," and a ruler "steers the ship of state" through troublesome times.

This last metaphor is extremely ancient, by the way. Horace refers to Rome as a ship at sea, and Plutarch says the Delphic oracle referred to Athens in the same way. A Tamil saying embodies a like metaphor, "The soul is the ship, reason is the helm, the oars are the soul's thoughts, and truth is the port." An old collection of English proverbs contains this one: "The tongue is the rudder of our ship." A Malay maxim says, "The boat which is swamped at sea may be bailed out, but the shipwreck of the affections is final."

Aristophanes, Plautus and others use an expression which comes down to us as an English saw, "To row one way and look another." An old English proverb (1614) was, "It is not good to have an oar in every one's boat."—United Service.

PLEASANT CARD PARTY

Given By Mrs. H. R. Hill And Mrs. Davidson to 35 Friends.

Mrs. H. R. Hill and daughter, Mrs. Geo. Davidson, were hostesses at a very pleasant card party yesterday afternoon. Preference was given to yellow and white in the decorations, all of which were quite artistic. The tally cards were very pretty, being diamond shaped; they also carried out the color scheme. They were ornamented by tiny Gibson heads and eighteenth century maids.

Choice refreshments were partaken of by about thirty-five guests. Mrs. Edwin Wells won the first prize, a popular book, while Mrs. Tom Anderson got the consolation prize.

BILL TO REDUCE THE STATE TAX

Proposition to Cut State Levy From $5,500,000 Down to $2,000,000.

DOW TAX LAW EVADERS

Are Aimed At in a Plan to Bring Speakeasy Keepers to Time—Municipal Code Hearing—The Prince in Columbus.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 1.—Two more administration tax measures were dropped into the house hopper yesterday. One of them, by Mr. Cole, of Hancock, chairman of the finance committee, is a bill making a material reduction in the state tax. It was drawn up at a conference held in the governor's office on Thursday between Governor Nash, Secretary of State Laylin, Auditor of State Guilbert and several members of the legislature. It reduces the state levy from about five and a half millions to two millions, this reduction being made in anticipation of the revenue to be raised through the operation of the Cole and Willis bills taxing the capital stock of corporations and quasi-public corporations.

The Freaser measure is a resolution which seeks to extend the power of the legislature in the matter of taxation. A constitutional amendment will be necessary before it can become a law. It provides for the taxation of franchises and the gross earnings of corporations, and for the license of any class of business that the legislature may direct. Double taxation is strictly forbidden and subjects of taxation may be classified as is deemed desirable.

Auditor of State Guilbert has computed the amount of taxes that will be saved to the several counties of the state if the proposed administration tax measures are made laws. A tabulated statement which he has prepared shows the amounts which will be deducted from these eastern counties: Stark, $65,711.25; Columbiana, $45,505.33; Mahoning, $50,596; Summit, $55,694.65; Cuyahoga, $358,656.26.

Senator Archer's resolution dedicating the reservoirs and inland lakes of Ohio as public resorts and public parks has been recommended for passage by the senate committee.

Representative Brannock, of Clermont, is preparing a bill which he will introduce soon, enlarging the force of deputies of the state fire marshal and bringing prosecutors in closer relationship with the department. As the law now stands, prosecutors are not bound to give the department the co-operation which is often necessary in order to secure a conviction. State Fire Marshal Hollenbeck complains bitterly of the treatment he has received from prosecutors, and is sanguine if the law passes it will be productive of good results. There has been considerable talk to the effect that the fire marshal department would be abolished, but it is hardly likely this will be done.

The municipal code bill will be heard on March 10, 11 and 12. Delegations from all over the state will be heard on the measure, and there will be some interesting arguments pro and con. It is understood that Cleveland and Cincinnati are opposed to the bill.

The house labor committee has reported favorably on the Middleswart bill creating a state board of examiners for barbers. It requires all barbers, excepting those in towns of 300 inhabitants or less, to stand an examination and take out a license. There is no discrimination between white and colored barbers. The bill stipulates that all barber shops and barber implements shall be kept scrupulously clean and also provides that applicants must be of good moral character in order to receive licenses.

A proposition is under way to bring the Dow tax dodgers of the state to time. It is estimated that there are 5,000 places in Ohio where liquor is sold in violation of the Dow tax law. The state administration proposes to secure the enactment of a law authorizing the appointment of deputies by the auditor of state, whose duty it shall be to ferret out these violators and compel them to pay the tax. If this can be done, it is estimated that the state can be enriched to the extent of about $2,000,000 annually. The statement is made that there is 1,000 "speakeasies" in operation in Ohio. Among the violators are drug stores.

Prince Henry of Prussia and staff will arrive here at 4:20 this afternoon and will spend just 10 minutes in the city. The reception is to be somewhat exclusive. It will be held at the station and the general public will not be admitted to it. They may view the ceremonies from afar, and it is exceedingly questionable whether or not they will be able to get even a glimpse of his royal highness. Tickets to the show will be issued to a favored few. Governor Nash will greet the prince when he arrives. The band will strike up a lively air when the train draws into the station. The prince is traveling in the private car "Olympia," which was used by President McKinley.

HARD TIMES SOCIAL

Entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Last Night a Grand Success.

The "Hard Times Soshul" at the Y. M. C. A. last evening was one of the best entertainments East Liverpool has seen for many a long day. The basket ball game was exciting, the pictures and program excellent and the fun fast and furious. Ann Maria Jones, (Mrs. Ed. Hassey,) talked on woman's rights; Messrs. Hamilton and Berg sang most acceptably; the Sirius mandolin club played artistically; the baton juggling by Mr. Hughes and the buck and wing dancing by Mr. Conley were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and a genuine hobo drifted in and played two selections on the harmonica with a case of stage fright sandwiched between.

A great many of the boys came in costumes and a few of the girls, and when the lights were partly turned down to indicate closing time, few realized that it was after 11 o'clock. A nice lunch was served by the ladies' auxiliary.

SUIT FOR $1,000

Entered Against Wellsville for Damages for Change of Street Grade.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—Margaret J. Snider has asked the court to grant her $1,000 from the city of Wellsville for damages. Her petition states that she is in possession of lot 8 in Wells' 1830 addition to Wellsville. She erected buildings on the lot valued at $1,500, according to the grade established in 1872 for Third street, on which the property fronts.

The pavement of the street in 1901 was according to a different grade, so that she was compelled to raise the buildings four feet. She considers the damage to the property at least $1,000.

IT IS OUR PRICES, OUR METHODS OF DEALING, AND THE HAVING WHAT YOU WANT THAT MAKES OUR BUSINESS SUCCESSFUL. THESE POINTS WE HAVE IN MIND IN OFFERING THE SALE OF THE PROPERTIES LISTED HERE.

$1,250—New 6 room slate roofed house with front portico, water, gas and cellar and lot 30x100. Situate within 8 minutes walk of the Diamond; 7 minutes walk of ½ dozen factories and within ½ square of paved streets.
Sold Jan. 24th, 1902.
Call any time, we'll show it to you.

$1,325—New 4 room house, well built. Slate roof, good cellar, lot 30x100. Situated in central East End, 1 short square from the street car line.
Inquire of us for it, it will pay you.

$1,575—Four room slate roof house, with cellar, lot 40x100. Lot fronts on two streets; nice place to live; convenient and not far from center of the city.
It pays you to talk Real Estate with us.

$4,500—Won't attempt to describe it's advantages and conveniences, it has them all; its rooms number six; its location is on a paved street within 5 minutes walk of the Diamond.
We want to show it to you.

$2,300—Double house; 5 rooms on each side; rents for $25 per month; lot 40x110. Buy it, live in one side; the rent of the other side will help you pay for it.
A home and an investment.

$ 475—2 room and a 1 room cottage; should have been a three roomed cottage and can be so araanged. Lot 40x100. Situated on Northside car line near Riverview Cemetry. Low priced; it is worth more.
Sold Feb. 20, 1902.

$1,000—3 room cottage on Lisbon street, West End: fair sized lot, gas, water, paved streets; within easy reach of street car line.
Sold Feb. 10, 1902.
We'll sell it on easy terms.

$2,500—New and not yet occupied; 6 room frame slate roof dwelling with hall up and downstairs, bathroom, hot and cold water; porticoes, front and back; fair sized lot, situate in a part of the city within 10 minutes walk of the Diamond where more new buildings were erected—good ones—than any other part during season 1901.
Sold Feb. 15, 1902.
It will pay you to see it; it's new.

$2800—A Queen Ann house, 7 living rooms, finished attic, vestibule, reception hall, laundry, excellent cellar, bath, hot and cold water, electric light and gas throughout. Large front portico; house light and airy. Situated within 7 minutes walk of the Diamond in a good neighborhood and a pleasant place to live.
Will you not look at it?

VACANT LOTS—We have them everywhere, from the Pennsylvania line to the mouth of Yellow Creek; from the river to Calcutta; at prices commensurate with their location, size and conveniences. It matters not what locality, street, addition or allotment; you had better see what we have; get our prices and terms.

OTHER PROPERTIES—We have scores of them at any price, on any street, in any locality. Come in and see us about them; ordinary prudence and business caution should compel you to do this for we can give you price and values of properties in all parts of the city. We know of a lot of misguided folks who ignored the real estate dealer and consequently paid more for their properties than they were listed at in our office. Lots more are doing it every day. WHY CAN WE GIVE YOU A BETTER PRICE? Because we must, and because of our experience and knowledge of value of real estate.

TEST US—If we don't measure up, don't deal with us. There will be no hard feeling on our part. All we ask is to be allowed to consider your wants, quote our prices and show you our properties.

A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLLAR EARNED.

BILL TO REDUCE THE STATE TAX

Proposition to Cut State Levy From $5,500,000 Down to $2,000,000.

DOW TAX LAW EVADERS

Are Aimed At in a Plan to Bring Speakeasy Keepers to Time—Municipal Code Hearing—The Prince in Columbus.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 1.—Two more administration tax measures were dropped into the house hopper yesterday. One of them, by Mr. Cole, of Hancock, chairman of the finance committee, is a bill making a material reduction in the state tax. It was drawn up at a conference held in the governor's office on Thursday between Governor Nash, Secretary of State Laylin, Auditor of State Guilbert and several members of the legislature. It reduces the state levy from about five and a half millions to two millions, this reduction being made in anticipation of the revenue to be raised through the operation of the Cole and Willis bills taxing the capital stock of corporations and quasi-public corporations.

The Fraser measure is a resolution which seeks to extend the power of the legislature in the matter of taxation. A constitutional amendment will be necessary before it can become a law. It provides for the taxation of franchises and the gross earnings of corporations, and for the license of any class of business that the legislature may direct. Double taxation is strictly forbidden and subjects of taxation may be classified as is deemed desirable.

Auditor of State Guilbert has computed the amount of taxes that will be saved to the several counties of the state if the proposed administration tax measures are made laws. A tabulated statement which he has prepared shows the amounts which will be deducted from these eastern counties: Stark, $65,711.25; Columbiana, $45,505.33; Mahoning, $50,596; Summit, $55,694.65; Cuyahoga, $358,656.26.

Senator Archer's resolution dedicating the reservoirs and inland lakes of Ohio as public resorts and public parks has been recommended for passage by the senate committee.

Representative Brannock, of Clermont, is preparing a bill which he will introduce soon, enlarging the force of deputies of the state fire marshal and bringing prosecutors in closer relationship with the department. As the law now stands, prosecutors are not bound to give the department the co-operation which is often necessary in order to secure a conviction. State Fire Marshal Hollenbeck complains bitterly of the treatment he has received from prosecutors, and is sanguine if the law passes it will be productive of good results. There has been considerable talk to the effect that the fire marshal department would be abolished, but it is hardly likely this will be done.

The municipal code bill will be heard on March 10, 11 and 12. Delegations from all over the state will be heard on the measure, and there will be some interesting arguments pro and con. It is understood that Cleveland and Cincinnati are opposed to the bill.

The house labor committee has reported favorably on the Middleswart bill creating a state board of examiners for barbers. It requires all barbers, excepting those in towns of 300 inhabitants or less, to stand an examination and take out a license. There is no discrimination between white and colored barbers. The bill stipulates that all barber shops and barber implements shall be kept scrupulously clean and also provides that applicants must be of good moral character in order to receive licenses.

A proposition is under way to bring the Dow tax dodgers of the state to time. It is estimated that there are 5,000 places in Ohio where liquor is sold in violation of the Dow tax law. The state administration proposes to secure the enactment of a law authorizing the appointment of deputies by the auditor of state, whose duty it shall be to ferret out these violators and compel them to pay the tax. If this can be done, it is estimated that the state can be enriched to the extent of about $2,000,000 annually. The statement is made that there is 1,000 "speakeasies" in operation in Ohio. Among the violators are drug stores.

Prince Henry of Prussia and staff will arrive here at 4:20 this afternoon and will spend just 10 minutes in the city. The reception is to be somewhat exclusive. It will be held at the station and the general public will not be admitted to it. They may view the ceremonies from afar, and it is exceedingly questionable whether or not they will be able to get even a glimpse of his royal highness. Tickets to the show will be issued to a favored few. Governor Nash will greet the prince when he arrives. The band will strike up a lively air when the train draws into the station. The prince is traveling in the private car "Olympia," which was used by President McKinley.

HARD TIMES SOCIAL

Entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Last Night a Grand Success.

The "Hard Times Soshul" at the Y. M. C. A. last evening was one of the best entertainments East Liverpool has seen for many a long day. The basket ball game was exciting, the pictures and program excellent and the fun fast and furious. Ann Maria Jones, (Mrs. Ed. Hassey,) talked on woman's rights; Messrs. Hamilton and Berg sang most acceptably; the Sirius mandolin club played artistically; the baton juggling by Mr. Hughes and the buck and wing dancing by Mr. Conley were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and a genuine hobo drifted in and played two selections on the harmonica with a case of stage fright sandwiched between.

A great many of the boys came in costumes and a few of the girls, and when the lights were partly turned down to indicate closing time, few realized that it was after 11 o'clock. A nice lunch was served by the ladies' auxiliary.

SUIT FOR $1,000

Entered Against Wellsville for Damages for Change of Street Grade.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—Margaret J. Snider has asked the court to grant her $1,000 from the city of Wellsville for damages. Her petition states that she is in possession of lot 8 in Wells' 1830 addition to Wellsville. She erected buildings on the lot valued at $1,500, according to the grade established in 1872 for Third street, on which the property fronts.

The pavement of the street in 1901 was according to a different grade, so that she was compelled to raise the buildings four feet. She considers the damage to the property at least $1,000.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

U. P. Special Meeting—The meetings at the U. P. church are being well attended, both afternoon and even. Dr. Clark will be present at the meetings tomorrow.

Much Improved—Mrs. Cora Mount underwent an operation for rheumatism which lasted three hours. The operation was quite successful, and her condition is much improved.

Special Train—A special train containing W. H. Scriven, superintendent of the C. & P., and other officials of the road, passed over this division of the road yesterday afternoon, going to Cleveland from Rochester.

Will Build in Columbus—Ex-State Senator W. V. Blake has returned from Columbus. The senator states that his son, George Blake, formerly a newspaper man of this city, will erect a fine new residence at Columbus in the spring.

Sewing Circle Meeting—The Sewing circle met last night at the home of Miss Hattie Rayl on Cook street. Refreshments were served and the evening pleasantly spent in fancy work and music. The circle is composed of 10 young ladies.

Engineers' Meeting—Calhoun association, No. 41, Stationary Engineers held a meeting at which two new members were obligated and two new applications were received. The paper read before the association was "The lining up of an engine, and how to preserve centers."

M. E. Revival Meetings—The M. E. church meeting was well attended last evening. At tonight's service it will be decided how long the meetings will continue. At the close of the morning service tomorrow, Dr. Crawford wishes to meet the new converts for about ten minutes.

PLEASANT CARD PARTY

Given By Mrs. H. R. Hill And Mrs. Davidson to 35 Friends.

Mrs. H. R. Hill and daughter, Mrs. Geo. Davidson, were hostesses at a very pleasant card party yesterday afternoon. Preference was given to yellow and white in the decorations, all of which were quite artistic. The tally cards were very pretty, being diamond shaped; they also carried out the color scheme. They were ornamented by tiny Gibson heads and eighteenth century maids.

Choice refreshments were partaken of by about thirty-five guests. Mrs. Edwin Wells won the first prize, a popular book, while Mrs. Tom Anderson got the consolation prize.

PRINCE EN ROUTE.

Passed Through Pittsburg Today--Dinner at Embassy Last Night.

WENT RIDING WITH PRESIDENT.

Rode In the Rain—Prince Bade Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt Goodbye—Visit Paid to the Naval Academy, at Annapolis.

Pittsburg, March 1.—The train carrying Prince Henry and his suite reached Altoona at 7:55 this morning. Here it was met by some of the officials of the Pittsburg division, who had charge of it during the run to Pittsburg.

A stop of five minutes was made in Altoona, just long enough to allow for a change of engines. The start was made from Altoona at 8 o'clock. No stop was made until this city was reached at 11:20.

The train was in the Pittsburg station for 10 minutes. After its arrival here the officials of the Panhandle took charge of it. Ralph Peters, general superintendent of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, and Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent, joined the party here to travel on the train to Cincinnati.

The crew for the run over the Pittsburg division of the Panhandle was made up of T. E. Laughead, conductor; William Bell, engineer; Frank Hottel and James Nelly, brakemen.

The police arrangements at the station during the time the train was in Pittsburg was under the direction of Superintendent of Police John McAleese and Director of Public Safety A. H. Leslie.

Crowd Was Roped Out.

Director A. H. Leslie and Superintendent John McAleese had 200 policemen and many detectives at the station. As soon as the train arrived a rope was stretched across the tracks behind it and no one got inside this space save the chief executive of the city government, the resident German consul and the official committees. No person was allowed to get on or off the train without a government pass.

Traffic at the Union station was entirely suspended while the prince's train stopped here. Trains were not moved either in or out, and no tickets were honored at the gates.

Washington, March 1.—Prince Henry yesterday afternoon enjoyed one event not on his official itinerary when he and President Roosevelt went in a rain storm on a horseback ride of an hour and a quarter through Rock Creek valley and the suburbs of the northwestern section of the city. The ride was arranged personally between the two men during one of their talks at an official function. The prince returned from Annapolis between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon and went direct to the White House to pay a farewell visit, the members of his suite accompanying him. The farewell call was entirely informal. Captain Gilmore, of the artillery, met the prince and his suite at the door and escorted them to the blue room, where they were received by the president and Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt, each of whom gave the prince a hearty welcome and Godspeed.

The ceremony lasted only about five minutes and then the prince drove to the embassy and exchanged his admiral's uniform for a riding suit of dark blue with buff leggings and a fedora hat. The prince smoked several cigarettes and chatted with Ambassador Von Holleben in front of the embassy about 15 minutes while awaiting the arrival of the president. Mr. Roosevelt's riding garb was similar to that of the prince, save for a slouch hat of the rough rider style.

Prince Rode Lodge's Horse.

While the prince was mounting his horse, which was a handsome chestnut bay, belonging to Senator Lodge, Ambassador Holleben stepped forward to greet the president and as he did so the president remarked:

"Ambassador, I am sorry to put the prince to this trouble. I only hope he is not being too good natured."

In a drizzling rain, which later turned into a downpour, the two started off for a ride, accompanied by a sergeant of artillery. As they were leaving the president waved his hand to Ambassador Holleben and in a voice loud enough to be heard across the street said: "We will be back in an hour and a half."

A large crowd in front of the embassy greeted the distinguished pair as they rode off. They returned to the embassy at 6:10, having been gone an hour and a quarter. The ride was through the northwestern suburbs and rain fell a large part of the time, but both riders seemed to enjoy the outing.

Prince Henry's visit to the national capital had a fitting culmination last night in a splendid official dinner, given at the German embassy, and later a tremendous outburst of popular enthusiasm from the German residents of Washington, as the imperial visitor was about to start for his southern and western tour. The dinner was given at the embassy at 9 o'clock, his royal highness being the guest of honor, while those invited to meet him were representative of the highest official and diplomatic society. President Roosevelt was not present.

A driving rain did not deter Prince Henry from going to Annapolis yesterday to visit the United States naval academy. Prince Henry was accompanied by Adjutant Von Eisendecker, but as this was purely a naval trip the German ambassador and the civilian members of the embassy staff did not accompany the party. With him in the carriage rode General Corbin and Commander Cowles, aide to President Roosevelt. In the following carriages were General Sanger and Adjutant Von Eisendecker. The party was joined at the depot by a number of military and naval officers of the prince's suite and of the German embassy.

In the party were Secretary Long, Senator Hale, of Maine, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs; Representative Foss, of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs; Assistant Secretary of State Pierce, Admirals Bowles, Endicott, Kenney, O'Neill and Bradford; Commander Cowles, Captains Sigsbee and Lemly, General Haywood, of the Marine corps, and Chief Wilkie, of the secret service.

Admiral Evans did not accompany the party, owing to a lame knee.

Prince Visited Naval Academy.

Annapolis Md., March 1.—Commander Wainwright, commandant of the academy, formally welcomed the prince and showed him to a closed carriage. Local militiamen lined the streets from the Shore Line depot to the new grounds gate of the academy, and despite the driving storm hundreds of persons were out to see the distinguished visitor. As the carriage of the prince reached the grounds the first cannon of a salute of 21 guns sounded. The prince was driven to a canvas-covered stand on the west end of the grounds and the cadets marched past in review.

The visitors were then hurried into their carriages and driven through the army grounds. They visited the cadets' quarters the mechanical laboratory and also looked over the buildings that are being erected. They also witnessed boxing and other exhibitions by cadets

The general inspection of the academy buildings was made quite brief, on account of the storm, and the entire party found shelter in the house of Superintendent Wainwright, where they were guests at luncheon. Mrs. Wainwright assisted her husband in receiving and entertaining them.

In parts of Massachusetts it is thought that if a girl puts a piece of southern wood down her back the first boy she meets will be her husband. In Boston if a marriageable woman puts a bit of southern wood under her pillow on retiring the first man she sees in the morning will, so says the superstition, be the one whom she is to marry.

The Sleepless Shoe Co.

Special Announcement!

Commencing Saturday, March 1, The Sleepless Shoe Co. will do a STRICTLY CASH BUSINESS; we will not extend credit to anybody, rich or poor. We are going to sell shoes at such a close margin that we cannot afford to do a credit business. We have made a careful study of this subject and fully believe that we can increase our business to quite an extent, which together with the expense of a credit business cut off, will enable us to give our patrons much better value than on the credit plan.

We have been asked if this was not a "bluff" to do away with poor accounts. We wish to state such is not the case. It is CASH TO EVERYBODY.

In regard to goods on approval, we will allow goods to go out on approval (where we know the customer) when taking two or more pair. When only taking one pair we will insist on being paid the same.

Goods sent on approval must be returned within three days. Should you at any time buy of us that which does not suit you, we will cheerfully refund the money.

We have adopted this plan because it will be beneficial to everybody concerned.

SENATORS CENSURED.

Report of Committee as to Tillman and McLaurin Was Adopted.

TILLMAN MADE A PROTEST.

Kean Said Since Tillman Had Again Insulted Senate, He Changed His Vote—Tillman Asked to Withdraw Protest—Deitrich Wouldn't Allow.

Washington, March 1.—Senators McLaurin and Tillman, of South Carolina, yesterday were severely censured by the United States senate for the sensational personal encounter between the two senators on the floor of the senate last Saturday, during the consideration of the Philippine tariff bill.

Immediately after the senate convened Mr. Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, to which the McLaurin-Tillman controversy had been referred, reported the resolution of censure framed by a majority of the committee. Accompanying the resolution was a report setting out the conclusions of the majority.

Democrats Agreed to Resolution.

A brief statement was presented by Senators Bailey, Blackburn, Pettus, M. J. Foster and Dubois, Democratic members of the committee, dissenting from some of the conclusions of the majority. They agreed, however, to the resolution offered.

A minority report was presented by Senators McComas, Beveridge and Pritchard, Republicans, who maintained that the adoption of a resolution of censure was not sufficient punishment.

Practically there was no debate on the resolution, although Mr. Gallinger and Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, made it evident by brief statements that the resolution was not quite satisfactory to them. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 54 to 12.

When Mr. Tillman's name was called he added a new sensation to the proceedings by rising and saying with ill concealed emotion:

"Among gentlemen an apology for an offense committed under heat of blood is usually considered sufficient."

The auditors caught their breath as Mr. Tillman thus entered his protest against the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Tillman's words induced Mr. Kean, of New Jersey, to rise at the conclusion of the roll and say:

Tillman Made Another Protest.

"Having heard the senator from South Carolina again insult the senate, I change my vote from aye to no."

At the request of Mr. Burrows the statement of Mr. Tillman was read by the clerk. Instantly the South Carolina senator disclaimed any intention of being offensive to the senate and said that if they were so considered he would withdraw them. The chair (Mr. Frye) said that by unanimous consent they might be withdrawn but Mr. Dietrich, of Nebraska, objected. The incident was closed without further comment.

The senate adopted the conference report on the permanent census bill.

The senate also transacted other business.

Passed 159 Pension Bills.

Washington, March 1.—The house yesterday broke all its records in the matter of private pension legislation, clearing the calendar and passing 159 bills in a little over three hours. The conference report on the census bill was adopted and the house adjourned until Monday.

The Sanyasis of India.

Popular belief in India still credits Sanyasis and other holy vagabonds with miraculous powers. Even the native journals often chronicle marvels like the instantaneous cure of incurable diseases or the feeding of thousands out of a small measure of rice. One of these prints gives a description of how a saintly Sanyasi saved the lives of a certain rajah and his escort from a wild elephant. As the party was proceeding through the lower Himalayas a monstrous tusker broke out of the jungle and set to trumpeting. The rajah and his followers were considerably scared and were giving themselves up for lost when a noble looking Sanyasi appeared and, standing in front of the travelers, told them to shout a certain order to the elephant. This done, the animal bolted into the jungle, while the savior of the rajah and his party vanished without waiting to be thanked.

COLOMBIA MUST FIRST ASSENT

Panama Shareholders Informed by That Government—Believed Paving Way For Canal Transfer.

Paris, March 1.—At an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders of the new Panama Canal company yesterday President Bean read a message from the consul general of Colombia at Paris, setting forth that the company could not transfer its concession to another nation without first, with the assent of Colombia, modifying the stipulations of articles 21 and 22 of the agreement.

Colombia's Dispatch a Surprise.

The dispatch of the Colombian government was a complete surprise to the shareholders of the Panama Canal company, who met yesterday afternoon in expectation of merely ratifying the action of the board of directors in offering the Panama Canal company's property to the United States for $40,000,000, which offer was to remain open until March 4, 1903, and authorizing the board to carry out all the measures for the transfer of the property, and fix and accept all modes and terms of payment if the United States accepted the offer. A heated discussion broke out. The majority of the speakers concluded that the telegram meant the utter collapse of the negotiations with America and resentment against the United States was expressed.

Some speakers expressed the sudden conviction that if a proper appeal was made the money to complete the canal could be obtained in France. One of the shareholders informed the meeting that he knew on undeniable authority that President Loubet had personally taken steps to endeavor to have the canal built with French money.

Finally M. Marquis, the official representative of the shareholders, after speaking, said that the best course was to adjourn until explanations of Colombia's action were forthcoming. This proposal was adopted and the meeting adjourned.

Washington, March 1.—Officials at the Colombian legation expressed no surprise at the reported action of the company, declaring that the reported decision of the stockholders is directly in line with the work in which the Colombian government is now engaged—that of offsetting the prohibitions contained in articles 21 and 22 of the canal concession. Article 21 provides:

The Clauses That Are Obstacles.

"The grantees, or those who in the future may succeed them in their rights, may transfer these rights to other capitalists or financial companies, but are absolutely prohibited to cede or mortgage them under whatever consideration to any nation or foreign government." It is explained that Colombia even now is preparing the terms of an agreement by which the canal company may transfer its rights to the United States under certain conditions stipulated by Colombia.

Article 22 provides that the grantees or their representatives shall lose the rights acquired in the concession by a violation of article 21.

The top bowl stars are 10 degrees and the bottom ones 8 degrees apart.

Cheap at the Price.

A certain pompous and officious judge in a western town had just fined a young lawyer $10 for contempt of court. After it had been paid a grave old attorney walked up to the bench and laid down a ten dollar goldpiece.

"What is that for?" asked the judge.

"For contempt, your honor," was the reply.

"But I didn't fine you for contempt," answered the judge. "There must be some mistake."

"Oh, no, there isn't," replied the old man. "I have cherished a secret contempt for this court for a long time, and I'm willing to pay for it."—Chicago News.

PRINCE EN ROUTE.

WENT RIDING WITH PRESIDENT.

Rode In the Rain—Prince Bade Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt Goodbye—Visit Paid to the Naval Academy, at Annapolis.

Pittsburg, March 1.—The train carrying Prince Henry and his suite reached Altoona at 7:55 this morning. Here it was met by some of the officials of the Pittsburg division, who had charge of it during the run to Pittsburg.

A stop of five minutes was made in Altoona, just long enough to allow for a change of engines. The start was made from Altoona at 8 o'clock. No stop was made until this city was reached. at 11:20.

The train was in the Pittsburg station for 10 minutes. After its arrival here the officials of the Panhandle took charge of it. Ralph Peters, general superintendent of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, and Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent, joined the party here to travel on the train to Cincinnati.

The crew for the run over the Pittsburg division of the Panhandle was made up of T. E. Laughead, conductor; William Bell, engineer; Frank Hottel and James Nelly, brakemen.

The police arrangements at the station during the time the train was in Pittsburg was under the direction of Superintendent of Police John McAleese and Director of Public Safety A. H. Leslie.

Crowd Was Roped Out.

Director A. H. Leslie and Superintendent John McAleese had 200 policemen and many detectives at the station. As soon as the train arrived a rope was stretched across the tracks behind it and no one got inside this space save the chief executive of the city government, the resident German consul and the official committees. No person was allowed to get on or off the train without a government pass.

Traffic at the Union station was entirely suspended while the prince's train stopped here. Trains were not moved either in or out, and no tickets were honored at the gates.

Washington, March 1.—Prince Henry yesterday afternoon enjoyed one event not on his official itinerary when he and President Roosevelt went in a rain storm on a horseback ride of an hour and a quarter through Rock Creek valley and the suburbs of the northwestern section of the city. The ride was arranged personally between the two men during one of their talks at an official function. The prince returned from Annapolis between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon and went direct to the White House to pay a farewell visit, the members of his suite accompanying him. The farewell call was entirely informal. Captain Gilmore, of the artillery, met the prince and his suite at the door and escorted them to the blue room, where they were received by the president and Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt, each of whom gave the prince a hearty welcome and Godspeed.

While the prince was mounting his horse, which was a handsome chestnut bay, belonging to Senator Lodge, Ambassador Holleben stepped forward to greet the president and as he did so the president remarked:

"Ambassador, I am sorry to put the prince to this trouble. I only hope he is not being too good natured."

In a drizzling rain, which later turned into a downpour, the two started off for a ride, accompanied by a sergeant of artillery. Cheap at the Price.

A certain pompous and officious judge in a western town had just fined a young lawyer $10 for contempt of court. After it had been paid a grave old attorney walked up to the bench and laid down a ten dollar goldpiece.

"What is that for?" asked the judge.

"For contempt, your honor," was the reply.

"But I didn't fine you for contempt," answered the judge. "There must be some mistake."

"Oh, no, there isn't," replied the old man. "I have cherished a secret contempt for this court for a long time, and I'm willing to pay for it."—Chicago News.

If there is in the length and breadth of the United States a more fortunate individual than William A. Brady, I should like to have him pointed out to me. Brady some years ago bought at a ridiculously small price Dion Boucicault's venerable chestnut, "After Dark." Brady introduced a tank and in the role of Old Tom toured the country with "After Dark." Now, while Brady is by no means a uniquely bad actor, there are probably very few persons who will claim that he is a good one. But it is a fact that he did very creditable work as Old Tom, and, what is more to the purpose, he is said to have cleared $40,000 in one season with Old Tom and a canvas river filled with real hydrant water.

JOSEPH HART.

Brady had made a start, and, after several more or less successful theatrical ventures, he went in for prize-fighters as a sort of side line. James J. Corbett was his first "find," and every one knows how he of the pompadour became the world's champion. The man who wrested the pugilistic premiership from Corbett was the freckled Fitzsimmons. Brady seemed to be in temporarily hard luck from the pugilistic standpoint. Some years after Fitz himself was put to sleep by a mighty man of muscle.

This Hercules was Jeffries.

He had a manager.

What was the manager's name?

William A. Brady!

Maybe there has at some time lived a man who as manager handled two men who both became world's champions, but history certainly does not mention him. And yet that is what Brady has done. Of course all friends of the wiry, nervous, quick thinking and lightning acting little manager are pleased that he has permanently renounced connection with pugilistic matters, and this is merely written to demonstrate how lucky he has been even in what is generally considered the most unpromising field, in a financial way, into which a man can venture.

Brady also prospered amazingly with his theatrical ventures, for, while he naturally has not had an unbroken line of successes, those which have not won favor have been only comparative failures, while those which have caught the popular fancy have yielded enormous profits. His "'Way Down East" and "Lovers' Lane," for instance, have each earned him a very tidy fortune.

At the outset the public did not seem inclined to accept Grace George (Mrs. Brady) at the valuation put upon her ability by her fond husband, but at last, through that pertinacity for which Brady has ever been distinguished, he has succeeded in establishing Grace George as a paying star. This of itself was a task of no small proportions, especially since the field which she sought to occupy seemed at the time to be overcrowded.

When a few months ago Brady informed me that it was his purpose to send out a play broadly exploiting the pranks of Foxy Grandpa and his two grandsons, as shown in the Sunday colored supplements of one of the New York papers, I thought he had taken leave of his senses. The thing appeared to me to have been done to death. Brady, however, thought that another craze for that sort of entertainment was about due, and, as usual, he had the courage of his convictions. "Foxy Grandpa," or, at any rate, a tenuous story purporting to indicate in general the nature of the adventures of the impossible old man and his equally impossible grandchildren, was slapped together, a number of specialties were introduced, and the piece was sent out. It has been a consistent money winner and is now packing the Fourteenth Street theater in this city to the doors, even at the Wednesday matinees.

The entertainment is bound to continue its triumphal march, for it is one of those inexplicably convincing hodge-podges which will not permit you to question for a moment their potency as box office attractions.

But, after all, this is not a criticism of "Foxy Grandpa." Indeed the play simply defies criticism or, rather, baffles it. Viewed coldly there is nothing in it but is a long time since I have seen a more thoroughly enjoyed performance than that provided by Brady's vaudeville people in this same "Foxy Grandpa." So what is one to say in the face of such irrefragable evidence?

And, speaking of the vaudeville people, it is but fair to them to state that, deprived of their services—in other words, played by legitimate performers—"Foxy Grandpa" would be about as dreary an entertainment as one could find in New York, and just now that is saying a great deal.

On the programme "Foxy Grandpa" is tagged as "a musical snapshot in three acts by R. Melville Baker, music by Joseph Hart, introducing Joseph Hart and Carrie De Mar and a specially selected company."

It will be observed that the names of Mr. Hart and Miss De Mar are preceded by the word "introducing." This indicates that they are "featured" only. Had their names come before the title of the play they would have been entitled to regard themselves as the stars. It is a question, however, whether even Mr. Brady, who certainly is not lacking in courage, would have the temerity to offer this couple as stars without that saving word, "introducing." Mr. Hart and Miss De Mar, as Foxy Grandpa and Polly Bright, respectively, are in great luck to appear in the principal roles of any farce even in conjunction with the qualifying "preceding." They manage, it is true, to get a good many laughs from the audience, but any one could do that. All that is required of them is to look pleasant and emit their lines and songs. The imaginations of the children and their familiarity and sympathy with several of the characters depicted "do the rest." Mr. Hart works hard, and Miss De Mar is vivacious if she is commonplace, so the general result is quite satisfactory.

"It takes considerable nerve," says Maurice Campbell, "to decide almost in one minute to take off a play that has been produced in New York only the night before and lose, without an effort to get it back, the $15,000 or $18,000 spent in its production."

Mr. Campbell's remark was apropos of the withdrawal of Henrietta Crosman's play, "Joan o' the Shoals," from the stage of the Theater Republic and the substitution of "Mistress Nell" until "As You Like It" could be made ready.

"There are managers," continued Mr. Campbell, "who would have forced Mrs. Sutherland's play for a New York run and then take it on the road to get their investment back. This is done every day, and it is the reason why New York successes do not always play to big business in the provinces. There was a time when a New York run meant 'capacity' everywhere, but that time is passed and simply because you can't fool the people all the time. It is my aim to present Miss Crosman in great successes only. I shall never try to make her play anything else. Both Miss Crosman and myself want the confidence of our public. We want to please it, and if a play does not please it will be taken off. The consensus of opinion was that 'Joan' failed as a play, but Miss Crosman scored a triumph. Still, I take 'Joan' to be a better play than some others that have been produced and made so-called 'runs' in New York this season. Many persons ask why I took it off, and my reply has always been because I saw no hope for a great success. If the author had been willing to let either Miss Crosman or some one else work with the material she furnished and whip it into shape, I might have been persuaded to keep 'Joan' on. But the author decided that she was the one to fix it up, and it must be done her way. I saw long ago that Mrs. Sutherland's way was not the right way, so rather than waste time and take the life out of Miss Crosman I decided to take the initiative and shelve 'Joan.'

"In taking this action I think I am keeping faith with theater goers, and I want them to feel when they see Henrietta Crosman billed to appear in their cities that she comes in a play that will please, and that if it does not please and was not a success Henrietta Crosman would not be playing it."

There is a world of truth in this statement by Mr. Campbell. In justice to Mrs. Sutherland it should be mentioned that she recently published a signed statement, in which she declared that, with a single exception, every change requested by Mr. Campbell was made, even though some of them were counter to her judgment. Two things, however, in connection with "Joan o' the Shoals" stand out prominently—it contains the elements of a markedly successful play; as it was given in New York it had an amateurishly poor third and a ludicrously wrought fourth act. The responsibility for this poor work it is of course impossible to fix, but the fact remains that "Joan" is a mighty good play gone wrong.

The Actors Of Today the Best Ever Seen

By EDWARD J. MORGAN, Actor

THE ACTOR OF THE "MODERN SCHOOL" BELIEVES IN THE RAPIER THRUST RATHER THAN THE BLUDGEON BLOW, IN IMPRESSION RATHER THAN RANTING, IN UNDERSTANDING RATHER THAN OVERSTATEMENT, IN NATURALISM RATHER THAN EXAGGERATION, in the idea that the audience is one intelligent entity near at hand instead of countless groundlings far away.

Though conservatism is usually allied with age, it is the new school actors who are the real conservatives and the "old timers" who are the radicals in stage art.

TIME RINGS NO CHANGE MORE SURELY THAN THAT IN TASTE AND FASHION. PERHAPS I'M WRONG, BUT I DOUBT IF A MODERN AUDIENCE WOULD ACCEPT TODAY EVEN THE GREATEST ACTORS OF TWO OR THREE GENERATIONS AGO.

Dramatic art has refined immensely in the last fifty years, and I venture to say, speaking generally, that the plays and players before the public now represent as good as, and perhaps the best, the stage has known.

HOW IT'S BACKED

Undoubted Reliability Expressed in East Liverpool Endorsements.

What you want is home indorsement.

The backing of people you know.

East Liverpool proof for East Liverpool people.

That's what follows here.

Surely no better backing can be had than the following statement from Mrs. Edward Orr, of 220 Thompson street, who says: "My sister, Mrs. Borland, of Pittsburg, while visiting us, recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so highly that I was induced to try them. I had severe attacks of kidney complaint. Sometimes I was so bad I could not get up. Many times my neighbors came and found me lying on the lounge suffering, when I intended to do a big day's work. I was so miserable I could do nothing. After my sister told me of the pills I made up my mind to try them and got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. They did just what they claimed they would do—cured me well and sound in a few days. My little girl was feeling poorly and had a sallow complexion for some time. I gave her a few doses and after the treatment she felt splendidly."

ed from them, as the inner kernel, the starch, is devoid of anything other than a heat giver?

It has been proved by chemical analysis and demonstrated by microscopic experiments that the most valuable brain sustaining properties are resident in all skins of cereals, fruits and vegetables, and as an instance of the great difference to the health resultant from partaking or rejecting the skins here is an incident that occurred in India, as told by an Indian officer:

A regiment was stationed in a part of the country where grapes were the chief article of food. The officers, one after another, became so sick as to be invalided as unfit for service, but it being considered remarkable that the troops were all well a commission of inquiry was instituted, when it was found that while every trooper in eating grapes swallowed the skins the officers followed the fashionable habit of rejecting them. It was then ordered that the officers should swallow the skins, which was done, with the result that they immediately recovered.

Thus it will be seen that the skin of the grape, besides being a brain feeder, possesses other healthful and nutritive qualities necessary to the sustenance of the human body. The reason why asparagus, cabbage, string beans, lettuce, spinach and other green vegetables are so wholesome is that the skins are not rejected.—Our Friend.

A Tough Negro.

Stories of brute toughness and Homeric endurance are tenderly preserved in the folklore of the water front—how, for instance, Scipio Flanagan, "the biggest nigger in the business," supported the entire weight of an immense packing case, weighing upward of 1,800, on his prostrate body. The negro held the hand truck to receive the case, which in the hands of half a dozen men was being balanced at just the right angle to slip into place. But it hit the edge of the truck and knocked it away, and the negro unluckily lost his footing and fell flat with the great box on top of him. He shrieked in terror and groaned, it was said, like a siren whistle, but when a gang of fifteen men lifted the thing bodily and pulled him out all he did was to screw his fists into his eyes like a big child, stretch his long limbs grotesquely and return to work. Of course he talked about this feat for many a day.—Frank Leslie's Monthly.

Old Delusions.

It is inexplicable how the old delusion that a man cannot eat one quail a day for thirty days holds its own. Any man can eat one quail a day for thirty days. At Lawrence some years ago Will Upton ate two quails a day for more than thirty days. For the first week or two he starved himself with the idea that he must keep up an appetite. After that he sometimes ate three or four of the birds in a day.

Another old fraud on the public is the belief that a horse cannot pull a sack of sand at the end of a two hundred foot rope. Any cow pony in Kansas will go off on a lope with such a sack.—Kansas City Journal.

A Minute or So Late.

Sweet Wife—Oh, Herald, the hall clock just fell and narrowly missed mother. Had it struck her she would have been killed.

Herald (aloud)—You don't say so! (Aside) I always did say that clock was slow.—Indianapolis News.

Sounded Familiar.

"You wretch! You miscreant! You worst of villains!" exclaimed the heroine at rehearsal.

The heavy villain, who had just joined the company, looked patiently aggrieved and said:

"Excuse me, is that in the part or are you acting as stage manager."—Washington Star.

Travelers to California

Naturally desire to see the grandest and most impressive scenery en route. This you will do by selecting the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, "The Scenic Line of the World," and "The Great Salt Lake Route," in one or both directions, as this line has two separate routes across the Rocky mountains between Denver and Ogden. Tickets reading via this route are available either via its main line through the Royal George, Leadville, over Tennessee Pass, through the Canon of the Grand river and Glenwood Springs, or via the line over Marshall Pass and through the Black Canon of the Gunnison, thus enabling the traveler to use one of the above routes going and the other returning. Three splendidly equipped fast trains are operated to and from the Pacific coast, which carry through standard sleepers daily between Chicago, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco. FOOD IN FRUIT SKINS.

Nutritive Qualities In Them Believed to Be a Brain Food.

There are more nutritive qualities hidden in the skins of fruits, cereals and vegetables than the average person is aware of. In fact, the great bulk of the brain building foods are in the skins of the fruits and vegetables we eat.

If, as Savarin says, "the destiny of nations depends on their food," then the destiny, whether a healthy long life or insanity or suicide of every unit of the United States depends on how he or she is fed.

If the breed so much depends upon food, why should not every person capable of normal thought seek to procure such food as best sustains his or her normality? Brain starvation, through the lack of suitable brain and nerve nourishment in our daily food, is the sole cause of the craving for stimulants to supply, as they do, artificially and improperly what nature has provided in a natural form in the skin of the grape, which contains the best part of the wine; in the skins of all fruits and vegetables, and if not in the skins of the cereals, how comes it that stimulating properties are extract-

AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them.

We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained for elsewhere.

Most of your local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the mouldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainer.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

By EDWARD J. MORGAN, Actor

THE ACTOR OF THE "MODERN SCHOOL" BELIEVES IN THE RAPIER THRUST RATHER THAN THE BLUDGEON BLOW, IN IMPRESSION RATHER THAN RANTING, IN UNDERSTANDING RATHER THAN OVERSTATEMENT, IN NATURALISM RATHER THAN EXAGGERATION, in the idea that the audience is one intelligent entity near at hand instead of countless groundlings far away.

Though conservatism is usually allied with age, it is the new school actors who are the real conservatives and the "old timers" who are the radicals in stage art.

TIME RINGS NO CHANGE MORE SURELY THAN THAT IN TASTE AND FASHION. PERHAPS I'M WRONG, BUT I DOUBT IF A MODERN AUDIENCE WOULD ACCEPT TODAY EVEN THE GREATEST ACTORS OF TWO OR THREE GENERATIONS AGO.

Dramatic art has refined immensely in the last fifty years, and I venture to say, speaking generally, that the plays and players before the public now represent as good as, and perhaps the best, the stage has known.

FOOD IN FRUIT SKINS.

Nutritive Qualities In Them Believed to Be a Brain Food.

There are more nutritive qualities hidden in the skins of fruits, cereals and vegetables than the average person is aware of. In fact, the great bulk of the brain building foods are in the skins of the fruits and vegetables we eat.

If, as Savarin says, "the destiny of nations depends on their food," then the destiny, whether a healthy long life or insanity or suicide of every unit of the United States depends on how he or she is fed.

If the breed so much depends upon food, why should not every person capable of normal thought seek to procure such food as best sustains his or her normality? Brain starvation, through the lack of suitable brain and nerve nourishment in our daily food, is the sole cause of the craving for stimulants to supply, as they do, artificially and improperly what nature has provided in a natural form in the skin of the grape, which contains the best part of the wine; in the skins of all fruits and vegetables, and if not in the skins of the cereals, how comes it that stimulating properties are extracted from them, as the inner kernel, the starch, is devoid of anything other than a heat giver?

It has been proved by chemical analysis and demonstrated by microscopic experiments that the most valuable brain sustaining properties are resident in all skins of cereals, fruits and vegetables, and as an instance of the great difference to the health resultant from partaking or rejecting the skins here is an incident that occurred in India, as told by an Indian officer:

A regiment was stationed in a part of the country where grapes were the chief article of food. The officers, one after another, became so sick as to be invalided as unfit for service, but it being considered remarkable that the troops were all well a commission of inquiry was instituted, when it was found that while every trooper in eating grapes swallowed the skins the officers followed the fashionable habit of rejecting them. It was then ordered that the officers should swallow the skins, which was done, with the result that they immediately recovered.

Thus it will be seen that the skin of the grape, besides being a brain feeder, possesses other healthful and nutritive qualities necessary to the sustenance of the human body. The reason why asparagus, cabbage, string beans, lettuce, spinach and other green vegetables are so wholesome is that the skins are not rejected.—Our Friend.

A Tough Negro.

Stories of brute toughness and Homeric endurance are tenderly preserved in the folklore of the water front—how, for instance, Scipio Flanagan, "the biggest nigger in the business," supported the entire weight of an immense packing case, weighing upward of 1,800, on his prostrate body. The negro held the hand truck to receive the case, which in the hands of half a dozen men was being balanced at just the right angle to slip into place. But it hit the edge of the truck and knocked it away, and the negro unluckily lost his footing and fell flat with the great box on top of him. He shrieked in terror and groaned, it was said, like a siren whistle, but when a gang of fifteen men lifted the thing bodily and pulled him out all he did was to screw his fists into his eyes like a big child, stretch his long limbs grotesquely and return to work. Of course he talked about this feat for many a day.—Frank Leslie's Monthly.

Old Delusions.

It is inexplicable how the old delusion that a man cannot eat one quail a day for thirty days holds its own. Any man can eat one quail a day for thirty days. At Lawrence some years ago Will Upton ate two quails a day for more than thirty days. For the first week or two he starved himself with the idea that he must keep up an appetite. After that he sometimes ate three or four of the birds in a day.

Another old fraud on the public is the belief that a horse cannot pull a sack of sand at the end of a two hundred foot rope. Any cow pony in Kansas will go off on a lope with such a sack.—Kansas City Journal.

A Minute or So Late.

Sweet Wife—Oh, Herald, the hall clock just fell and narrowly missed mother. Had it struck her she would have been killed.

Herald (aloud)—You don't say so! (Aside) I always did say that clock was slow.—Indianapolis News.

Sounded Familiar.

"You wretch! You miscreant! You worst of villains!" exclaimed the heroine at rehearsal.

The heavy villain, who had just joined the company, looked patiently aggrieved and said:

"Excuse me, is that in the part or are you acting as stage manager."—Washington Star.

Travelers to California

Naturally desire to see the grandest and most impressive scenery en route. This you will do by selecting the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, "The Scenic Line of the World," and "The Great Salt Lake Route," in one or both directions, as this line has two separate routes across the Rocky mountains between Denver and Ogden. Tickets reading via this route are available either via its main line through the Royal George, Leadville, over Tennessee Pass, through the Canon of the Grand river and Glenwood Springs, or via the line over Marshall Pass and through the Black Canon of the Gunnison, thus enabling the traveler to use one of the above routes going and the other returning. Three splendidly equipped fast trains are operated to and from the Pacific coast, which carry through standard sleepers daily between Chicago, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco. Dining cars (service a la carte) on all through trains. If you contemplate such a trip, let us send you beautifully illustrated pamphlets, free. S. K. Hooper, G. P. & T. A., Denver, Col. 7-tf-3-tf

HOW IT'S BACKED

Undoubted Reliability Expressed In East Liverpool Endorsements.

What you want is home indorsement.

The backing of people you know.

East Liverpool proof for East Liverpool people.

That's what follows here.

Surely no better backing can be had than the following statement from Mrs. Edward Orr, of 220 Thompson street, who says: "My sister, Mrs. Borland, of Pittsburg, while visiting us, recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so highly that I was induced to try them. I had severe attacks of kidney complant. Sometimes I was so bad I could not get up. Many times my neighbors came and found me lying on the lounge suffering, when I intended to do a big day's work. I was so miserable I could do nothing. After my sister told me of the pills I made up my mind to try them and got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. They did just what they claimed they would do—cured me well and sound in a few days. My little girl was feeling poorly and had a sallow complexion for some time. I gave her a few doses and after the treatment she felt splendidly."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for hte United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them.

We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained for elsewhere.

Most of your local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the mouldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainer.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

ONE TRIP AND— ANOTHER...

By MARIE ALICE PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1901, by Marie Alice Phillips

The importunate cabbies and bustling porters failed to attract the attention of Frank Ryals except so far as a nervous person would notice mosquitoes or flies. He brushed them away without so much as a look as he passed down the long pier. With bent head and quickening footsteps he walked, unheeding and unnoticed, through the sweat and turmoil of the city to his home. As he rang the bell his hand shook and the muscles of his throat tightened.

The faithful butler, who had been valet to Frank Ryals before his marriage, held the door open and inquired solicitously if "Mis' Ryals" got off safe and sound.

The reply came after a pause, "Yes, Brown, thank you," but the white, drawn look of his beloved master's face repelled further inquiry, and the butler retired to the kitchen, there to unbosom himself to Cynthia.

"It's my opinion Marse Frank is mighty cut up 'bout Mis' Bess goin' off to Europe 'ithout no warnin' hardly at all."

Cynthia sniffed.

"And her a bride of jes' three months," continued the indignant Brown. "It's my opinion she don't care much about 'im, and 'im the best and jolliest man that ever lived." Brown was growing more aggrieved every minute.

"Gus Brown, would you have a 'oman tied to a man's coattails always jes' 'cause she happens to be married to 'im?" And Cynthia set the pan down sharply on the table.

"I don't expect much of women folks at no time," replied Brown stoutly, injecting as much scorn into his tones as he thought safe, "but I didn't much expect a young bride to go off so cheerful-like and leave her husband for six months on a stretch."

Cynthia turned sharply and looked into the face of the worthy butler. "Did you say six months, Gus Brown—six months?"

The faithful Brown could only bow his head in assent, and Cynthia, detecting traces of real grief in his usual woodeny countenance, was too shocked to take much account of the blister made on her hand by the overturned gravy.

Presently Brown put his head in the doorway of the drawing room to announce dinner, but, seeing his master with bowed head and bent shoulders, retired quietly to the kitchen.

Cynthia called Brown "a white livered coward" on his return, which emboldened that functionary to go back and touch his master's elbow.

"I don't care for dinner, Brown, thank you."

"'Thout so much as movin'," Brown confessed to Cynthia as they prepared to do justice to the dinner now almost cold.

* * * * * * *

Letters came across the ocean to Frank Ryals, full of life and vivacity, now brimming over with the joy of some bright experience, now breathing awe and wonder of the grandeur of some old cathedral or mystery of nature, but never once did she say "I miss you, dear," or "I wish I were back at home with you," or "I wonder what you are doing." Frank Ryals searched her letters feverishly for some such expression, but it never came.

Old friends welcomed him back to the club, and occasionally he went to the opera. Dinners at home were scarce and finally ceased altogether. Six months had extended into eight because Mrs. Raine wanted to take her party into Egypt, but now they were coming home.

The man who stood on the pier waiting for the North German Lloyd steamer to cast anchor on a bright April day looked very much like the same Frank Ryals who had stood there eight months before except for a certain air of composure and two little patches of gray hair on his temples that contrasted oddly with his fresh face. He received Bess and her friends cordially and told the latter he had made all arrangements to have them at his home during their short stay in New York.

Everybody talked at once at dinner, there was so much to say and the joy of being once more on American soil was so keen. The company rose, protesting vigorously when their host bade them good evening as he prepared to leave the house.

"We refuse to stay and turn you out of house and home this way. It atrocious," they said.

"It is my pleasure," was the grave answer, "and you must stay."

Bess for the first time in her life was thoughtful and said little. On the fourth evening after her arrival, when the guests had all departed and the clock was on the stroke of 11, Frank Ryals rose and, taking hat and cane, said good night.

Bess rose also.

"Where are you going, Frank?"

"To the club," he calmly answered.

For a moment she gasped with astonishment. Then pain, anger and wounded vanity chased in quick succession over her mobile face.

"Our first evening together," she managed to say, and, as he still held his hat and looked steadily at her, "Has the club grown so dear to you—that you can't give it up—one evening?"

"One has time to become attached to anything attractive in eight months," he said, "especially if it represents one's boyhood friends and companionship. The boys at the club have been very good to me, and I have come to depend on them. I would choose them in preference to scenery any time, I think," he commented, with a strained smile.

All color and brightness had fled from her face, and as she stood in the firelight, her white evening gown clinging about her, she looked almost pathetic.

"I—would like to know—the worst, Frank. Is it—any other woman?"

"No," he said; "I have never loved but one woman, and when I found it was all a mistake I suffered a great deal, more than you will ever know. But it is all over now. She didn't love me, and I have learned to do without her."

A pause. "We are on an equal footing now, Bess." And he stroked the gray hair on his temples without looking at her. "It is not as much happiness as—as the other way, but there is not so much pain."

Bess had lost all power of speech and was staring at him with eyes almost set in their horror. But he mistook the cause.

"Don't bother your head, Bess, about what the world will say. It need never know. You bear my name, you are the mistress of my home, and you will be free to enjoy your pleasures just as you see fit. You are welcome to all I have."

"Except your love."

"You had that, too, once. How long ago has it been, Bess? It seems years! Good night," he said as she made no answer. "The old servants are here, and you will be perfectly safe."

Still she said nothing, and he went out, closing the vestibule door quietly after him. Bess recovered sufficiently to reach the window in time to see him move down the lighted street toward the club.

"Oh, my God!" she moaned. "What have I done? Have I been dreaming all these months?"

She was awake now, with ten thousand accusing demons contending for the mastery of her soul.

Two months later Mrs. Raine was ushered unceremoniously into Mrs. Ryals' boudoir and found a grave faced young woman bending over the smoldering fire.

"Oh, my dear, I am so fortunate to find you at home!" was her cheery greeting. "I am in the greatest hurry, but I do so want you to join my party to the Yellowstone park tomorrow. It'll be such a glorious trip. I telephoned Mr. Ryals, and the dear, sweet man said he left it entirely with you. Really, my dear, you are to be congratulated— Why, Bess"—

Her hostess had risen and now stood facing her, a grayish pallor spreading over her face.

"Don't speak to me of traveling! I hate the word—the thought of boats and cars and hotels! I want to be left alone—alone!"

* * * * * * *

Frank Ryals was mounting the steps of his club when an imperious feminine voice stayed his steps. It was Mrs. Raine, and her ordinarily gushing manner had entirely disappeared.

"My dear boy, you don't want to stay at the club this afternoon. You really ought to run right up to the house. There's certainly something wrong with Bess. She's been treating me to a genuine case of hysterics. Imagine Bess in hysterics! And she won't go to California with us. Oh, she's altogether unreasonable! I left her in tears. You must have the doctor."

"Yes, I'll phone for him at once." Mr. Ryals' voice and manner were calm, perfunctory. He raised his hat and mounted two more steps. Then he paused irresolutely. Mrs. Raines was half way up the block. A man addressed him lightly and entered the door, and still Ryals stood undecided, a strange light playing in his moody eyes.

"She won't go to California. I left her in tears."

Tears for what? For him, after all!

Suddenly he turned on his heel and plunged down the steps. A hansom was drawn up at the curb. The driver knew him well and touched his hat interrogatively.

"Home!" exclaimed Ryals, and then as the hansom rumbled over the asphalt he murmured in softer tones, "Home!"

Our Navy Useless BECAUSE We Feed the World

By ANDREW CARNEGIE.....

THE GREAT NAVY WE ARE BUILDING IS PERFECTLY USELESS. NO NATION ON EARTH WOULD EVER MOVE AGAINST THIS COUNTRY EVEN IF IT DECLARED WAR AGAINST US.

It is a great matter for this country to feed the world. Any European nation in arms against this country would starve before it got through. IN LESS THAN THREE WEEKS THE PEOPLE OF THAT NATION—GREAT BRITAIN OR GERMANY—WOULD BE STARVING, AND THEY WOULD COMPEL PEACE.

This republic is impregnable against the world! I once said to Mr. Gladstone in discussing the possibilities of war between England and the United States, at the time of the Venezuelan dispute, that America feared no war or declaration of war, for she held the world at her mercy.

"You admit," I said, "that you have no army that you could put in the field in America?"

"Certainly; but we could send a fleet to blockade your ports."

"Before you did that," I replied, "we would ourselves blockade them. The president would issue an edict of nonexportation, and where would England be then?"

LET OUR EXPORT OF FOODSTUFFS BE REDUCED BY ONLY 10 PER CENT, AND PRICES IN EUROPE WOULD DOUBLE, WHILE REDUCE THEM 50 PER CENT, AND THE STARVING PEOPLE OF THE NATION THAT HAD MADE WAR WITH THE UNITED STATES WOULD QUICKLY FORCE PEACE UPON THEIR GOVERNMENT.

Cigars and Tobacco.

There are between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 brands of cigars sold in this country, and your average smoker thinks that every brand means a different kind of tobacco. As a matter of fact 150 is an outside estimate of the different kinds of tobacco that can be procured from all sources, and even experts can't tell some of these apart.

His Propensity.

ONE TRIP AND— ANOTHER...

By MARIE ALICE PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1901, by Marie Alice Phillips

The importunate cabbies and bustling porters failed to attract the attention of Frank Ryals except so far as a nervous person would notice mosquitoes or flies. He brushed them away without so much as a look as he passed down the long pier. With bent head and quickening footsteps he walked, unheeding and unnoticed, through the sweat and turmoil of the city to his home. As he rang the bell his hand shook and the muscles of his throat tightened.

The faithful butler, who had been valet to Frank Ryals before his marriage, held the door open and inquired solicitously if "Mis' Ryals" got off safe and sound.

The reply came after a pause, "Yes, Brown, thank you," but the white, drawn look of his beloved master's face repelled further inquiry, and the butler retired to the kitchen, there to unbosom himself to Cynthia.

"It's my opinion Marse Frank is mighty cut up 'bout Mis' Bess goin' off to Europe 'ithout no warnin' hardly at all."

Cynthia sniffed.

"And her a bride of jes' three months," continued the indignant Brown. "It's my opinion she don't care much about 'im, and 'im the best and jolliest man that ever lived." Brown was growing more aggrieved every minute.

"Gus Brown, would you have a 'oman tied to a man's coattails always jes' 'cause she happens to be married to 'im?" And Cynthia set the pan down sharply on the table.

"I don't expect much of women folks at no time," replied Brown stoutly, injecting as much scorn into his tones as he thought safe, "but I didn't much expect a young bride to go off so cheerful-like and leave her husband for six months on a stretch."

Cynthia turned sharply and looked into the face of the worthy butler. "Did you say six months, Gus Brown—six months?"

The faithful Brown could only bow his head in assent, and Cynthia, detecting traces of real grief in his usual woodeny countenance, was too shocked to take much account of the blister made on her hand by the overturned gravy.

Presently Brown put his head in the doorway of the drawing room to announce dinner, but, seeing his master with bowed head and bent shoulders, retired quietly to the kitchen.

Cynthia called Brown "a white livered coward" on his return, which emboldened that functionary to go back and touch his master's elbow.

"I don't care for dinner, Brown, thank you."

"'Thout so much as movin'," Brown confessed to Cynthia as they prepared to do justice to the dinner now almost cold.

Letters came across the ocean to Frank Ryals, full of life and vivacity, now brimming over with the joy of some bright experience, now breathing awe and wonder of the grandeur of some old cathedral or mystery of nature, but never once did she say "I miss you, dear," or "I wish I were back at home with you," or "I wonder what you are doing." Frank Ryals searched her letters feverishly for some such expression, but it never came.

Old friends welcomed him back to the club, and occasionally he went to the opera. Dinners at home were scarce and finally ceased altogether. Six months had extended into eight because Mrs. Raine wanted to take her party into Egypt, but now they were coming home.

The man who stood on the pier waiting for the North German Lloyd steamer to cast anchor on a bright April day looked very much like the same Frank Ryals who had stood there eight months before except for a certain air of composure and two little patches of gray hair on his temples that contrasted oddly with his fresh face. He received Bess and her friends cordially and told the latter he had made all arrangements to have them at his home during their short stay in New York.

Everybody talked at once at dinner, there was so much to say and the joy of being once more on American soil was so keen. The company rose, protesting vigorously when their host bade them good evening as he prepared to leave the house.

"We refuse to stay and turn you out of house and home this way. It atrocious," they said.

"It is my pleasure," was the grave answer, "and you must stay."

Bess for the first time in her life was thoughtful and said little. On the fourth evening after her arrival, when the guests had all departed and the clock was on the stroke of 11, Frank Ryals rose and, taking hat and cane, said good night.

Bess rose also.

"Where are you going, Frank?"

"To the club," he calmly answered.

For a moment she gasped with astonishment. Then pain, anger and wounded vanity chased in quick succession over her mobile face.

"Our first evening together," she managed to say, and, as he still held his hat and looked steadily at her, "Has the club grown so dear to you—that you can't give it up—one evening?"

"One has time to become attached to anything attractive in eight months," he said, "especially if it represents one's boyhood friends and companionship. The boys at the club have been very good to me, and I have come to depend on them. I would choose them in preference to scenery any time, I think," he commented, with a strained smile.

All color and brightness had fled from her face, and as she stood in the firelight, her white evening gown clinging about her, she looked almost pathetic.

"I—would like to know—the worst, Frank. Is it—any other woman?"

"No," he said; "I have never loved but one woman, and when I found it was all a mistake I suffered a great deal, more than you will ever know. But it is all over now. She didn't love me, and I have learned to do without her."

A pause. "We are on an equal footing now, Bess." And he stroked the gray hair on his temples without looking at her. "It is not as much happiness as—as the other way, but there is not so much pain."

Bess had lost all power of speech and was staring at him with eyes almost set in their horror. But he mistook the cause.

"Don't bother your head, Bess, about what the world will say. It need never know. You bear my name, you are the mistress of my home, and you will be free to enjoy your pleasures just as you see fit. You are welcome to all I have."

"Except your love."

"You had that, too, once. How long ago has it been, Bess? It seems years! Good night," he said as she made no answer. "The old servants are here, and you will be perfectly safe."

Still she said nothing, and he went out, closing the vestibule door quietly after him. Bess recovered sufficiently to reach the window in time to see him move down the lighted street toward the club.

"Oh, my God!" she moaned. "What have I done? Have I been dreaming all these months?"

She was awake now, with ten thousand accusing demons contending for the mastery of her soul.

Two months later Mrs. Raine was ushered unceremoniously into Mrs. Ryals' boudoir and found a grave faced young woman bending over the smoldering fire.

"Oh, my dear, I am so fortunate to find you at home!" was her cheery greeting. "I am in the greatest hurry, but I do so want you to join my party to the Yellowstone park tomorrow. It'll be such a glorious trip. I telephoned Mr. Ryals, and the dear, sweet man said he left it entirely with you. Really, my dear, you are to be congratulated— Why, Bess"—

Her hostess had risen and now stood facing her, a grayish pallor spreading over her face.

"Don't speak to me of traveling! I hate the word—the thought of boats and cars and hotels! I want to be left alone—alone!"

* * * * * * *

Frank Ryals was mounting the steps of his club when an imperious feminine voice stayed his steps. It was Mrs. Raine, and her ordinarily gushing manner had entirely disappeared.

"My dear boy, you don't want to stay at the club this afternoon. You really ought to run right up to the house. There's certainly something wrong with Bess. She's been treating me to a genuine case of hysterics. Imagine Bess in hysterics! And she won't go to California with us. Oh, she's altogether unreasonable! I left her in tears. You must have the doctor."

"Yes, I'll phone for him at once." Mr. Ryals' voice and manner were calm, perfunctory. He raised his hat and mounted two more steps. Then he paused irresolutely. Mrs. Raines was half way up the block. A man addressed him lightly and entered the door, and still Ryals stood undecided, a strange light playing in his moody eyes.

"She won't go to California. I left her in tears."

Tears for what? For him, after all!

Suddenly he turned on his heel and plunged down the steps. A hansom was drawn up at the curb. The driver knew him well and touched his hat interrogatively.

"Home!" exclaimed Ryals, and then as the hansom rumbled over the asphalt he murmured in softer tones, "Home!"

Our Navy Useless BECAUSE We Feed the World

By ANDREW CARNEGIE .....

THE GREAT NAVY WE ARE BUILDING IS PERFECTLY USELESS. NO NATION ON EARTH WOULD EVER MOVE AGAINST THIS COUNTRY EVEN IF IT DECLARED WAR AGAINST US.

It is a great matter for this country to feed the world. Any European nation in arms against this country would starve before it got through. IN LESS THAN THREE WEEKS THE PEOPLE OF THAT NATION—GREAT BRITAIN OR GERMANY—WOULD BE STARVING, AND THEY WOULD COMPEL PEACE.

This republic is impregnable against the world! I once said to Mr. Gladstone in discussing the possibilities of war between England and the United States, at the time of the Venezuelan dispute, that America feared no war or declaration of war, for she held the world at her mercy.

"You admit," I said, "that you have no army that you could put in the field in America?"

"Certainly; but we could send a fleet to blockade your ports."

"Before you did that," I replied, "we would ourselves blockade them. The president would issue an edict of nonexportation, and where would England be then?"

LET OUR EXPORT OF FOODSTUFFS BE REDUCED BY ONLY 10 PER CENT, AND PRICES IN EUROPE WOULD DOUBLE, WHILE REDUCE THEM 50 PER CENT, AND THE STARVING PEOPLE OF THE NATION THAT HAD MADE WAR WITH THE UNITED STATES WOULD QUICKLY FORCE PEACE UPON THEIR GOVERNMENT.

Cigars and Tobacco.

There are between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 brands of cigars sold in this country, and your average smoker thinks that every brand means a different kind of tobacco. As a matter of fact 150 is an outside estimate of the different kinds of tobacco that can be procured from all sources, and even experts can't tell some of these apart.

White House Gayety

Dinner to PRINCE HENRY Climax of Brilliant Season

WITH the elaborate dinner given to Prince Henry of Prussia the winter festivities at the White House reached a climax. Since the Roosevelts have been in the historic mansion there has been a constant round of revelry and merrymaking. No administration remembered by this generation has been so profuse in hospitality, one form of entertainment succeeding another with unremitting regularity. In fact, the Roosevelt administration will go down in the social history of the national capital as the most brilliant known in recent years.

With such a reputation established Washington society naturally expected that the reception and banquet to Prince Henry would eclipse all previous social functions. Nor was it disappointed. Not only the White House conservatories, but the city propagating gardens, were drawn on for flowers and ornamental plants. The supply of roses proving inadequate for the lavish decoration required, the markets were scoured to supply the deficiency. As the price of fine roses at this season is about $1 apiece and they were purchased in quantities, the expense was considerable.

The banquet to Prince Henry was served in the east room. This is another innovation of the Roosevelts. The first time this room was used for a state dinner was on the occasion of the "spread" given to the diplomatic corps in January, when the whole of the historic apartment was literally covered with flowers and ornamental plants.

When a state banquet is to be given, the bulk of the preparation falls on Colonel Theodore A. Bingham, superintendent of the White House. He must plan it all out in advance; likewise with dancing parties and receptions. He has under his direction a large corps of carpenters, electricians, florists and others. There must be kept on hand ready for instant use a large supply of wire frameworks for floral designs, ladders, wires and electric bulbs, crash to cover the carpets, trestles and other structures of wood that go to make up the big dining table.

The outsider has little notion of the labor that is involved in the preparation for a state dinner. From twenty to thirty men are kept at work for three days arranging the preliminaries. Immediately after breakfast on the day of the event the carpet is covered with crash to preserve it from injury, and the decorators arrive, bringing palms and beautiful plants of many kinds. While they tack up smilax on the ceilings and walls, draping it in festoons, carpenters put the great table on its trestles, screw its parts together and wedge up the whole affair so that it shall be firm.

The electricians meanwhile are putting in wires and devising new and beautiful effects in lighting. When the table has been put up, flannel is tacked upon it, and, the cloth having been laid over this, the festive board is adorned with electric bulbs of various colors to harmonize with the floral decorations. The crystal chandeliers and mirrors are adorned with greenery and the large made pieces placed in position. Lastly the room is swept up in time for the dust to settle before the fun begins.

The expense involved in entertaining on such a scale is enormous. A state dinner at the White House costs something like $1,000, varying, of course, with the number of guests. At a small dinner of this kind perhaps fifty people may sit down, whereas at a big one twice that number will be entertained. A reasonable reckoning for the dinner is $6 per head, with $2 a head extra for wine. But necessarily there are incidentals which add hundreds of dollars to the bill.

To serve properly a state dinner at the White House requires one head cook and two assistant cooks. Of course extra scullions are engaged to do dishwashing and other incidental labor. The caterer furnishes all the food, and the culinary department of the executive mansion is placed for the time being under his management and authority, the household staff contributing as much help as possible.

This method is adopted because it makes things much easier, just as would be the case in any private house. It is Mrs. Roosevelt, however, who decides upon the menu. As a rule, Mrs. Roosevelt herself superintends the decoration of the table, a happy circumstance, inasmuch as she possesses admirable taste. Four wines are served usually at these dinners—sherry, champagne with the roast, burgundy afterward and sauterne or chablis to wind up with. Of late a fashion has spread among "smart" people for serving Scotch whisky and apollinaris right through a dinner, instead of a series of wines, but this idea has not been adopted by the mistress of the White House.

There is no question of the fact that this administration is leading society as no other administration has done for a generation past. It is setting the fashions and has already given a wonderful boom to the amusement of riding horseback. All of the Roosevelts ride, the president and his wife going out for a gallop every fine afternoon, and as a consequence, whereas formerly only a few persons in Washington indulged in the pastime, now all of the young people are taking it up. What the Roosevelts do is the proper thing, and everybody is looking to the executive mansion to see whether Simon says thumbs up or thumbs down.

Such hospitality has not reigned in the White House for many a long day. It is a thoroughly wholesome, healthy sort of family life that goes on there. The Roosevelts are living now just about as they have always done, keeping open house and making their friends welcome. Even the casual stranger is at home within their gates, and most of the entertaining is extremely informal. The family hardly sits down to a meal, unless it be breakfast, without guests.

When anybody comes to see the president during office hours, the latter is as apt as not to say: "I'm busy. Come back and take lunch." Lunch is at 1:30 o'clock in the private dining room, and Mrs. Roosevelt and the children are present.

Yes, it is a gay and merry administration, but the genial Mr. Roosevelt, if he continues to be so lavish in his hospitality, is likely to find that his salary of $50,000 does not cover his bills. He is certainly not saving any money in the White House.

ARTIFICIAL ICE.

Principle Upon Which This Commodity Is Manufactured.

The principle upon which the manufacture of ice is based is that a gas when compressed gathers heat enormously, and if robbed of this heat and allowed to escape at a future time it seeks to regain its heat by withdrawing heat from its surroundings. Ammonia gas is generally preferred to others because it can be liquefied with comparatively little pressure. On removing the water from common ammonia by distillation anhydrous ammonia is obtained. This is compressed by a combined steam pump and a compressor, and the resulting liquefaction induces heat, which is economized by circulating water about the vessel or pipe containing the liquefied ammonia. Thus the ammonia is cooled and the heat largely transferred to the water, which is then pumped back to the boiler that supplies the steam pump. The liquid ammonia is then carried in a pipe to expansion coils that afford plenty of room for its evaporation, when it begins to return to the gaseous form and to draw heat from its surroundings, which gradually reduces the temperature. Proper vessels of water are placed in contact with the expansion coils, and in due time ice is formed.

Two Wrongs.

A clergyman, lecturing on "Capital Punishment," took strong grounds against the death penalty, arguing that while it was wrong for a man to commit murder it was but another wrong to kill the murderer and that two wrongs never made a right.

"At least," said he, "I never heard of but one case where they did." And he proceeded to relate the following story, presumably in support of his argument:

"A man entered a country grocery, where a number of the villagers sat around on barrels and boxes, and asked if two wrongs ever made a right. The response was 'Never.' So I thought till recently," continued he, "when I met a stranger who asked me to change a five dollar bill for him. I did so and after his departure found the bill was a counterfeit. So I kept it till the other day and shoved it on a fellow greener than I." The listeners exclaimed that those were two wrongs certainly, but they didn't make a right. "Well," replied the man, "they made me all right."

English Jewelers' Tricks.

Many working jewelers with whom articles are left to repair are very tricky individuals indeed, and women are their chief victims. A great device of the working jeweler, so far as gold chains go, is to take off the hallmarked fastening loops and to substitute for these an exact imitation in metal, so that these should always be most carefully examined. In ladies' lockets the jeweler fraud usually takes out the gold inside rim which fastens the glass, and of course he puts in a sham substitute. Where an article sent to him contains a great number of tolerably small stones he will take one or two of these out and put in imitation articles specially made to deceive, says Woman's Life. A working jeweler has been known to make pounds a week by taking away the hallmarked crossbars of gold alberts and replacing them with brass. These remarks only, of course, apply to the small number of black sheep to be found in this as in every trade.

Decadence In Penmanship.

"While the people as a whole may write more legibly than they did a generation ago," said an old writing teacher, "there are not so many really excellent penmen. The multiplication of business colleges has improved the handwriting of a portion of the public, while the invention of the typewriter has made it useless to acquire extra skill in penmanship. Time was when the first class penmen commanded high salaries, but now there is such a slight demand for good writers that the market is overstocked. No penman can compete with a typewriter, and so the art of superior penmanship is gradually dying out and will soon be lost."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Our First Canal Lock.

The first canal lock built in America is preserved as a relic near the present site of the Soo canal. It was built by the Northwestern Fur company in 1790. It is 38 feet long and 8 feet 9 inches wide. It had a lift of nine feet and a depth of two and a half feet. During the war of 1812 it was badly wrecked. The early day fur companies used this little waterway to lock down their small cargoes of valuable furs.

Pictorial Wash Lists.

Pretty old inventions are our modern wash lists. The old German housewife had an odd way of keeping track of the garments she gave out to be washed. She had a picture of each article and wrote down the number of everything opposite to it with a piece of chalk, which was rubbed out when the article was returned, to be used again the next week. It was really a pictorial and perpetual wash list.

What Won Her.

"I thought she was going to marry Tom?"

"No; Jack."

"Why, she told me Tom was willing to die for her and"—

"Yes, but Jack offered to make a good living for her."

Conservation of Energy.

"You say you never gossip?"

"Never," answered Miss Cayenne. "When I feel disposed to hear my neighbors discussed, I merely mention a name and proceed to listen."—Washington Star.

With the opening of the baseball season but a short time off, the National league magnates, for some reason, do no appear to be in any hurry to bring about a final adjustment of their differences or to present well formulated plans for the coming time for play.

Andrew Freedman is now spending his time in sending agents out to gather in young players for his New York team, which, in the face of the fact that he says there will be no compromise suggested from his side, looks as if the Gotham magnate was preparing for something.

The Phillies have also been busy in signing young blood and have almost completed the team, and Manager Shettsline is now looking up some place to take his colts for the annual thawing out process. Pittsburg, Brooklyn and Chicago are all in fairly good shape, and so far as the Spaldingites are concerned they are nearly ready for work, but, like the immortal Micawber, are waiting for something to turn up. Just what this something is cannot be surmised, except that, failing to effect satisfactory arrangements with the enemy, a four club circuit will be formed and the season played out on that scale.

gated by Ban Johnson it appears that Chicago and Philadelphia may have a runaway race for the championship, with Boston and Detroit in third and fourth places.

Chicago has Griffith, Callahan, Garvin, Katoll, Skopeck and Patterson for pitchers, McFarland and Sullivan for catchers, Isbell, Daly, Davis and Strong in the infield and Jones, Mertes and Green in the outfield. The team is strong in the batterics, strong in the infield and strong in the outfield. Strong, Mertes and Green are the weak sisters of the nine. The first cannot bat, and the last two are not what might be called "brainy" players.

Philadelphia signed Frazer, Bernhard, Plank and Dugglesby for pitchers, Steelman and Powers for catchers, Davis, Lajoie, Monte Cross and "Lave" Cross for the infield and Hartsel, Fultz and Flick for the outfield. The team's strength lies in its batting and the work of its infielders. The pitchers are not high water mark, and Steelman has a long way to go before he becomes a first class catcher. Hartsel is an outfielder of only average ability, Fultz an experiment and Flick none too certain. What the players lack in fielding ability, however, they are almost sure to make up in their batting, and the pitcher who meets the team when it has one of its good days will wish himself sunk in the Schuylkill before the game is three innings old.

Neither the Chicago team nor the Philadelphia team is up to the standard of the present Pittsburg team of the National league or up to that of the former Brooklyn champions, Boston champions or Baltimore champions.

Boston has Young, Winter, Dineen, Prentice and Williams, pitchers; Warner and Criger, catchers; La Chance, Ferris, Parent and Collins in the infield and Hickman, Stahl and Freeman in the outfield. This team is strong in pitchers unless Cy Young has reached the limit of his effectiveness, strong behind the bat if Criger is not ill two-thirds of the time, strong at third base and shortstop and weak in the outfield, though good at the bat. It does not rate up like a team of championship caliber.

White House Gayety

Dinner to PRINCE HENRY Climax of Brilliant Season

WITH the elaborate dinner given to Prince Henry of Prussia the winter festivities at the White House reached a climax. Since the Roosevelts have been in the historic mansion there has been a constant round of revelry and merrymaking. No administration remembered by this generation has been so profuse in hospitality, one form of entertainment succeeding another with unremitting regularity. In fact, the Roosevelt administration will go down in the social history of the national capital as the most brilliant known in recent years.

With such a reputation established Washington society naturally expected that the reception and banquet to Prince Henry would eclipse all previous social functions. Nor was it disappointed. Not only the White House conservatories, but the city propagating gardens, were drawn on for flowers and ornamental plants. The supply of roses proving inadequate for the lavish decoration required, the markets were scoured to supply the deficiency. As the price of fine roses at this season is about $1 apiece and they were purchased in quantities, the expense was considerable.

The banquet to Prince Henry was served in the east room. This is another innovation of the Roosevelts. The first time this room was used for a state dinner was on the occasion of the "spread" given to the diplomatic corps in January, when the whole of the historic apartment was literally covered with flowers and ornamental plants.

When a state banquet is to be given, the bulk of the preparation falls on Colonel Theodore A. Bingham, superintendent of the White House. He must plan it all out in advance; likewise with dancing parties and receptions. He has under his direction a large corps of carpenters, electricians, florists and others. There must be kept on hand ready for instant use a large supply of wire frameworks for floral designs, ladders, wires and electric bulbs, crash to cover the carpets, trestles and other structures of wood that go to make up the big dining table.

The outsider has little notion of the labor that is involved in the preparation for a state dinner. From twenty to thirty men are kept at work for three days arranging the preliminaries. Immediately after breakfast on the day of the event the carpet is covered with crash to preserve it from injury, and the decorators arrive, bringing palms and beautiful plants of many kinds. While they tack up smilax on the ceilings and walls, draping it in festoons, carpenters put the great table on its trestles, screw its parts together and wedge up the whole affair so that it shall be firm.

The electricians meanwhile are putting in wires and devising new and beautiful effects in lighting. When the table has been put up, flannel is tacked upon it, and, the cloth having been laid over this, the festive board is adorned with electric bulbs of various colors to harmonize with the floral decorations. The crystal chandeliers and mirrors are adorned with greenery and the large made pieces placed in position. Lastly the room is swept up in time for the dust to settle before the fun begins.

The expense involved in entertaining on such a scale is enormous. A state dinner at the White House costs something like $1,000, varying, of course, with the number of guests. At a small dinner of this kind perhaps fifty people may sit down, whereas at a big one twice that number will be entertained. A reasonable reckoning for the dinner is $6 per head, with $2 a head extra for wine. But necessarily there are incidentals which add hundreds of dollars to the bill.

19TH YEAR. NO. 51. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1902—TWELVE PAGES. TWO CENTS.

GREAT DAMAGE BY HIGH WATER IS THREATENED

Filled With Heavy Ice, the Ohio River Is On Another Rampage.

And Reports From Points Above Give Warning of Disastrous Flood.

LOW POINTS ALL SUBMERGED

Street Car Traffic Blocked, And River Potteries Forced to Close Down. Anxiety at Smith's Ferry—Many Barges Going Down Stream.

The river is at flood stage and great anxiety exists. At noon today Wharfmaster Gus Martindill received the following message from Pittsburg:

"Thirty feet two inches and rising at the rate of two inches an hour. Monongahela and Allegheny rising at headwaters.

"JAMES A. HENDERSON."

Water is in the low parts of practically all river potteries and materials are being moved to upper floors. Fire in the kilns at the Thompson pottery have been put out. The stage of water at this port at 2 o'clock registered 37 feet and rising four to five inches an hour. It is expected the river will reach 40 feet before evening.

At 3 o'clock Pittsburg reported 32 feet and rising.

This city is in the midst of what may be the greatest flood since 1884, when the water completely flooded the entire lowland district of this city and caused thousands of dollars of loss. At 11 o'clock this morning no damage had resulted to river craft moored about this city, although the stream was running full of ice and the chunks measuring anywhere from three inches to as many feet in thickness.

Already factories have been caused much inconvenience and the workmen in some of the river potteries have lost thousands of dollars in wages. At noon today the river was rising at the rate of three inches an hour and arrangements were even being made by the street railway company to move all the cars from the barn to the East End, instead of placing them on West Market street, as was during the flood of one year ago. Supt. Thomas Reed this morning announced that the cars would not beremoved from the barn unless it was absolutely necessary.

All day yesterday the Ohio river at this port was rising at the rate of from three to five inches an hour. The Beaver river was on the rampage yesterday and early in the afternoon the ice from that stream commenced to pass here. This ice, while it was very thick, went out without doing any damage. Some of the large pieces which passed yesterday afternoon protruded at least five feet out of the water. Considerable wreckage passed out, but no attempt was made to catch any of it, as it was considered dangerous to venture out in the river in a skiff on account of the thick ice.

While word was received from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon that a flood was coming, nothing was done during the afternoon toward moving materials in the upper potteries until last evening. Officials of the plants located between the bridge and the power house were at their several plants last evening, and at the Wallace & Chetwynd word was telephoned not to start the engine this morning and to turn all the gas off. However, this morning it was found that the water had not reached the factory and the engine was started and the plant operated until noon today.

During the morning the river rose steadily and many men were employed in removing materials on the first floor to other parts of the building, as the water at this plant was then coming into the fly wheel pit. All the belts had been taken from the wheels, and if the worst comes, the plant will be in excellent shape.

Mr. Healy, treasurer of the East Liverpool Railway company, this morning announced that conditions

DAILY CIRCULATION 2,600 COPIES.

The Evening News Review Printed 877 Papers a Year Ago, and Now Circulates Three Times that Number---The Favorite Home Newspaper.

The facts presented below speak for themselves. The Evening News Review, which a year ago today, circulated but 877 copies, now circulates 2,600 copies every day, and the figures are steadily mounting upward. The newspaper which trebles its business in a year, must be a favorite with the public. Advertisers show constant appreciation of that fact. Our circulation is a home circulation, and bonafide. The appended table and affidavits require no comment.

CUT TO PIECES UNDER WHEELS OF FAST TRAIN

Roy Wilson, a Wellsville Boy, Met With a Shocking Death.

BODY FEARFULLY MANGLED

And the Features So Mutilated That Identification Was Impossible.

Enabled the Dead Boy's Mother to Identity Him—Believed to Have Been Thrown Under the Train While Jumping Off.

Mangled so horribly that identification was impossible, the body of a young man which was later found to be that of Roy Wilson, was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning on the C. & P. railroad, just west of the Wellsville depot.

So awfully mutilated were the features that the sight presented was shocking in the extreme. Teddy Marshall, Charles Marshall and Simeon Sheets were the ones who made the discovery and immediately reported it.

A stretcher was procured, and after the corpse had been picked up from the railroad track it was removed to Haugh's undertaking rooms. A search of the pockets of the dead man's clothing resulted in the finding of a letter, by which his identity was learned. It was addressed to William Phillips at Canton.

Remembering that she had written a letter to Canton to the above address, Mrs. Joseph Wilson, mother of the dead boy, went at once to the undertaking rooms, where she identified him as being her son, Roy Wilson. After the remains had been prepared for burial they were taken to the home of the mother, on Second street.

Nothing definite is known as to how Wilson met his death, though it is thought he was thrown under the wheels of fast freight No. 89, which passed through Wellsville, west bound, shortly before the mangled corpse was found. He had been away from home for several days and it is thought he was at Pittsburg. It is further conjectured that he came home on the fast freight and in jumping off at Wellsville, stumbled on the platform and rolled under the car wheels. Judging from the frightful manner in which the body was cut up, it is evident that nearly all the cars of the train passed over it.

The dead boy is aged 20 years and was well known in Wellsville. His father died several years ago, but he is survived by his mother, together with a brother, Alva, and two sisters, Maude and Bertha.

JAMES LOWE FINED $70

West End Park Policeman in Jail Convicted of Furnishing Liquor.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—James Lowe, of East Liverpool, a West End park policeman, was fined $35 and costs on each of two counts of furnishing liquor to minors.

Lowe is unable to pay the fine and is now in the county jail.

LEAKING GAS PIPE

Caused a Small Fire in the Packing Shed at Brunt's Pottery.

A leaking gas pipe in the ceiling caused a small fire in the packing shed of the Brunt pottery this morning.

The fire department was summoned and by the use of a few extinguishers soon subdued the flames.

The damage amounted to little or nothing.

ELECTION BULLETINS

The News Review, as usual, has made arrangements for receiving and bulletining election returns tonight from the city and the county.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY EXPRESS TRAIN

TWO FRANKLIN SQUARE MINERS OVERTAKEN IN A CUT.

Could Neither See Nor Hear the Train—Their Bodies Frightfully Mangled.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—James O'Conner and Fred Good, miners employed at the McKeefrey Coal company's works, near Franklin Square, were struck and instantly killed by Pennsylvania train No. 6 yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

The men were going to their homes, about half a mile up the track from the coal bank. Just at this place is a deep cut and the track is curved. It is thought they could neither see nor hear the approaching train.

They were mangled beyond recognition. The remains were taken to Leetonia, and today brought back to Franklin Square.

INDICATIONS ALL POINT TO A VERY LARGE VOTE

With the possible exception of the Fifth ward the polls were opened at 12:30 today in a very quiet manner.

The First ward polling places were thronged with workers, but they were out for county candidates in a majority of cases. This is the home of Candidate Betz, for the position of city treasurer, and it was expected that he would do well there. Johnston and Heddleston are fighting hard for council, and while the friends of both are claiming victory, it is conceded by the more conservative prophets that the contest will be close.

In the Second ward there is the usual number of workers, and on account of its taking in the Diamond and uptown streets, there is much interest.

The Third was always noted for quiet elections, and the present one will not be an exception. John Reark, for township clerk, resides here, and must draw a good vote if he expects to win.

The excitement is high in the Fourth, where there are several warm fights.

The council contest in the Fifth is overshadowing all else and it is doubtful if much interest will be taken in the remainder of the city ticket or even county contests. Jamison's friends are working hard, but it is regarded as a losing fight.

At 2:45 p. m. the vote cast indicated a large poll. The votes cast in the several precincts of the city up to that time were as follows:

First ward, first precinct, 145; second precinct, 98.

Second ward, first precinct, 109; second precinct, 150.

Third ward, first precinct, 118; second precinct, 120.

Fourth ward, first precinct, 110; second precinct, 103.

Fifth ward, 121.

NARROWLY ESCAPED A WATERY GRAVE

WM. GLENDENNING, OF CHESTER, UPSET FROM A BOAT.

Obliged to Swim Ashore, Only Succeeding By Heroic Efforts.

While drifting for logs in the river opposite the Crester tin mills yesterday afternoon, William Glendenning narrowly escaped a watery grave. He and E. S. Good were in a skiff when a large chunk of ice struck the frail craft, partially upsetting it, and in so doing hurled Glendenning into the ice water.

Good was powerless to assist his unfortunate partner and it was only by heroic efforts that Glendenning was able to swim to shore. After his escape he was taken to his home and by the application of stimulants he soon revived.

WANTS HER HUSBAND

PITTSBURG WOMAN ASKS MAYOR FOR INFORMATION.

Charles Wendler Is the Man Who Is Wanted—Accused of a Robbery.

Mayor Davidson is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Mary Wendler, residing at 9741 Liverty avenue, Pittsburg, asking for information concerning the whereabouts of her husband, Charles Wendler, who came from Pittsburg several months ago to this city.

The letter was written in the German language and the mayor was unable to read it. He asked F. H. Schlegel to do so and thus learned its contents.

Wendler is the man who was accused of robbing a stranger last November at the home of Mrs. Ernestine Deidrick, on Franklin street. Wendler was sleeping in a room at the Deidrick domicile and the stranger was one night put to bed with him.

When he awoke in the morning he found Wendler missing and a search of his pockets revealed that $10 were gone also. He at once suspected that his bed fellow had robbed him and reported the case to the mayor. Wendler in the meantime had safely made his escape and the officers were thus unable to lay hands on him. However, there was never any warrant issued for his arrest.

It is not known by either the mayor or the police where Wendler is at the present time. His wife states in her letter that she four children and is badly in need of her husband's aid.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

Bills Providing For It In All Cities of Over 10,000 Population.

Supt. R. E. Rayman, of the city schools, is in receipt of a house bill numbered 153, introduced by Representative Hayes, referring to the observance of labor day in the public schools and all institutions of learning in which the pupils and students are to be instructed in forestry and the duty of the public to care for trees and to protect the birds.

Senate bill No. 80 has also been introduced by State Senator Warner requiring that physical education be introduced into all the schools of cities of 10,000 inhabitants or more. A specialist in physical culture is to be employed. The specialist is to give a certain number of lessons in smaller cities to provide training for the teachers to enable them to do this work. The bill will soon be presented to the house and senate.

A PECULIAR MIXUP

Marriage of a West Virginia Man Makes Him His Father's Father.

Some very peculiar family relationships grow out of the marriage of a son of Salem Bennett, of Crawford, near Weston, W. Va., which occurred one day this week. Some years ago Salem Bennett became a widower and not long thereafter married Miss Abbie Smith, the daughter of a widow, Mrs. Sarah Smith. On Wednesday Markwood Bennett, Salem Bennett's son, married Mrs. Smith, thus making himself his father's father.

Markwood's wife is now Salem's daughter-in-law as well as his mother-in-law, Salem is now her father-in-law and the step-son of his own son. His wife is her mother's mother-in-law, grandmother to herself and great grandmother to her own children. Markwood in addition to being his father's father becomes under the new order of things his own grandfather and likewise grandfather to his brothers and sisters.

If children should be born to him, he will be their great grandfather in addition to being their father.

IF MARSHALL TAKES SUCH INTEREST IN THE STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYES, WHY DID HE FIGHT THOMAS AT THE NOMINATION AND ELECTION LAST YEAR? 50-h

ATTENTION, FIFTH WARD VOTERS!

WHY DOES THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY WANT MARSHALL DEFEATED FOR COUNCIL? BECAUSE MARSHALL INSISTS ON THEM LIVING UP TO THEIR FRANCHISE AND GIVING A GOOD SERVICE TO THEIR PATRONS.

WHY DOES THE AGENT OF THE SEWER PIPE WORKS WANT MARSHALL DEFEATED FOR COUNCIL? BECAUSE MARSHALL INSISTS THAT LABORING WAGES SHOULD BE $1.75 PER DAY INSTEAD OF $1.50.

WHY DOES THE DIVE KEEPER WANT MARSHALL DEFEATED FOR COUNCIL? BCAUSE MARSHALL INSISTS THAT THEY SHALL CEASE TO EXIST OR OBEY THE LAW. 49-r

FIFTH WARD VOTERS

PLAIN TALK TO THEM FROM COUNCILMAN R. J. MARSHALL.

His Motto Is to Take Good Care of the Ward's Interests, Regardless of Those Who Object.

To the Voters of the Fifth Ward.

Gentlemen—I desire to call your attention to the fact that the saloonkeepers, more particularly the ones who run dives and gambling places, and also the street railway company, have decided that I am an obnoxious councilman to their interests, and therefore that I must be defeated at any cost. Hence the withdrawal of Mautz and the bespeaking of his support for one of my opponents whom the two forces have centered on.

My crime against the street railway company has been to insist on their giving decent service to their patrons; to insist on their running the cars over the Klondike extension and the 12-minute schedule. I have always been a friend of the boys on the line when they asked for a square deal at the hands of the company. In fact, as George Anderson says: "He has made our company spend hundreds of dollars they wouldn't have had to spend if it had not been for him, and we are going to beat him."

With all that we are not getting the service we should have, and I promise to keep on kicking until we do providing you again repose confidence in me.

My crime against the saloon—or, more particularly, the divekeeper—is familiar to all and was the drafting of the screen ordinances which council passed.

Now, gentlemen, from such a source and with the above named "crimes" to be avenged, you can look for all sorts of tales. But, let me tell you it will not be for the benefit of the Fifth ward that they will be told, but to get rid of a councilman who insists, first, on common decency, and, second, that the street railway company shall live up to its franchise.

I, therefore, ask you to be on the alert, those of you, who wish the East End to go forward. And if you choose to repose confidence in me again, I will do in the future as I have done in the past—take good care of the Fifth ward. There are many, many things that we need, and, depend upon it, I know what they are.

Yours,
R. J. MARSHALL.

DR. R. J. MARSHALL'S UNIONISM IS BEST ILLUSTRATED BY HIS ACTION IN ERECTING HIS NEW HOUSES IN CHAFFINSVILLE AND OTHER PARTS OF THE EAST END. HE TURNED DOWN UNION LABOR TO GIVE THE WORK TO CHEAP NON-UNION LABORERS AND THAT'S THE FELLOW CALLING HIMSELF A FRIEND OF THE LABORING PEOPLE. 50-h

THERE IS EVERY REASON WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR R. G. BOYD, HOME CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER. THERE IS NO COMMISSIONER FROM THE SOUTHERN PART OF THE COUNTY AND THERE SHOULD BE IN ORDER FOR US TO GET THE IMPROVEMENTS WE ARE ENTITLED TO. ROADS AND BRIDGES IN THIS END OF THE COUNTY WILL BE TAKEN CARE OF IN PROPER SHAPE IF MR. BOYD IS ELECTED.

The city's indebtedness eight years ago was $280,000. At present it is $470,000. Marshall has been a member of Council all this time and president the greater part of the time. 49-r

ON THE EVENING OF JANUARY 21ST, 1902, DR. R. J. MARSHALL, IN OPEN COUNCIL MEETING, MADE THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT HE WOULD NOT AGAIN BE A CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION. IS IT NOT RATHER SUSPICIOUS THAT HE SHOULD SO RADICALLY CHANGE HIS MIND IN SO SHORT A PERIOD? POSSIBLY HE HAS IN MIND THE ERECTION OF A FEW MORE NON-UNION HOUSES WITHIN TWO YEARS. 50-h

SALVATIONISTS WED

Took the Marriage Vows Before a Large Crowd in an Opera House.

Alliance, March 1.—The most novel wedding ceremony ever performed in this city was that which made Ira E. Perrin, of Conneaut, and Tillie Gallier, of Alliance, man and wife Thursday night. Both are members of the Salvation Army.

A large crowd gathered to witness the proceedings, for which privilege 25 cents was charged at the door. The usual crowd of youngsters occupied the gallery and for a time it was a tossup with them whether the doings would be religious or of the burlesque order. They started out with whistling, hand-clapping and cat calls and kept it up during the opening song service.

Col. Holz, of Cleveland, officiated and gave an idea of how the state of matrimony was looked upon by conscientious Salvationists.

Col. Holz, Major Bonnett, Ensign Parker, Captain Manuel and Ensign Storey then gave the bride and groom some advice upon the subject of marriage, which was made interesting by the fact that Ensign Parker, who is still single, took exceptions to the reasoning of Major Bonnett on the wedded state, and proceeded to knock the props out from under his deductions.

After a short scriptural reading, Col. Holz requested the contracting parties to step forward. They were accompanied by Captain Manuel and Miss Lucy Hoiles. Beneath the folds of the stars and stripes and the flag of the Salvation Army, the marriage vows were exchanged and Colonel Holz pronounced the couple husband and wife.

MODEST HERO.

Why He Wished No Reward For Saving His Officer's Life.

An officer in one of the English volunteer regiments who had made himself exceedingly unpopular with the men was coming home one evening, when he slipped and fell into deep water. He was rescued with great difficulty by a private in his own regiment.

The officer was profuse in his expressions of gratitude and asked his preserver how he could reward him.

"The best way," said the soldier, "is to say nothing about it."

"But why?" asked the officer in amazement.

"Because," was the blunt reply, "if the other fellows knew I'd pulled you out they'd chuck me in."—Youth's Companion.

His Apprehension.

Lady—Well, but, judging by your face, I should hardly say you were a person I should care to give alms to.

Beggar—Excuse me, lady. You're laborin' under a delusion. What you're takin' notice of is due to these 'ere cheap soaps we pore people is obliged to use.

TOWN TOPICS.

Atlanta is a good town, and some day may be automobile size, but an effort should be made to break her men of the habit of wearing their evening clothes in daytime.—Washington Post.

St. Louis is planning to use the upper Maramec river for a water supply. Possibly the city may get better water than ever, thanks to the construction of the Chicago drainage canal.—Boston Globe.

No sign should be allowed on top of New York's high buildings unless it be so fastened that no wind can blow it off. There were many narrow escapes during one recent storm when wooden sign frames twenty feet long and seven feet or more in height came crashing down to the street.—Brooklyn Citizen.

FILTHY LUCRE.

It was the apostle Peter who used the term "filthy lucre," and he had never seen any of the tattered and grimy bills that pass for money in this great and progressive republic.—Pittsburg Gazette.

There is no doubt in the minds of physicians that contagious diseases may be transmitted through the agency of soiled notes. Clean, crisp notes would naturally be less dangerous. The government and the national banks should unite in the effort to withdraw from circulation worn and soiled bills, even to the extent of not issuing any bill a second time.—Philadelphia Ledger.

ARTHUR TYNG IS AN ATHLETIC PHENOMENON.

Nineteen-year-old Harvard Boy Who Broke Collegiate Strength Record.

A Harvard boy still in his teens has come out this year as the strongest young Samson in the collegiate world. His name is Arthur Tyng. He is a plucky, stocky little chap, a bunch of muscles and nervous energy, and in a recent test he bettered the intercollegiate strength test by almost 300 points.

Tyng is a self made athlete. The son of a missionary in Japan, he was never remarkable for his strength during his boyhood and never gave evidence of the wonderful power which all the time had rested latent in his frame. Like any other active boy, he had been healthy and muscular, but the idea of becoming a record breaking athlete was as far from his mind as it was from that of the people who knew him.

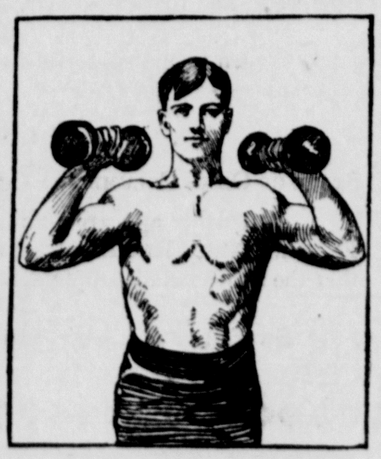

Two years ago Tyng entered Harvard and became interested in gymnasium work. He saw the wonderful possibilities that were open to the man who trained systematically, and more from a spirit of self satisfaction than desire for fame he determined to see how strong he could make himself.

"I never trained for my tests," he says in speaking of his feats. "I simply worked regularly every day, eating what I pleased and only denying myself those things which I knew were positively injurious to any man. The main thing was not to overdo. Lots of men have natural strength, but they let themselves out too fast and lose their power.

"Then, too, there are men who seem to have all kinds of strength, but when it comes to the test they fizzle out. They seem to lack the nervous energy or the vitality that is necessary for the strain. They are like big, strong engines without the steam. I don't know any particular reason why I should be stronger than other fellows. I never trained any harder, and there are lots of men who have more muscle than I. If I was going to give any reason at all, it would be that they haven't quite got the knack of handling themselves or else haven't the energy to make their muscles do what they ought to do."

Tyng's statement about himself is the exact truth and one which is borne out in every particular by Dr. Sargeant, director of the Hemenway gymnasium, in which the young athlete's test was made. Tyng has all the requisites for a strength champion—knack, grit, strength and perfect symmetry of form—all of which, regardless of size, go to make up the gymnastic star.

Tyng is probably the smallest athlete, with the exception of Guy Carl

ARTHUR TYNG'S DEVELOPMENT.

Herbert, that has ever made a great name for himself as a strong man. Both Cochems and Allis, who have at different times held the intercollegiate record, are bigger, taller and heavier men, and from all the list of competitors at Harvard the little champion is the smallest and least striking in physique. But what he lacks in size he makes up in pure grit, vitality and knack.

Three years ago Herbert's record of thirty pull ups and forty-six push ups was thought to be a wonderful one, yet in his test the other day Tyng chinned himself sixty times and pushed up fifty-two times. In performing this wonderful feat the young sophomore works with wonderful rapidity, getting a swing and momentum which seem to carry him up with perfect ease. His form is rigid, and he moves like a perfect, well oiled machine, going through the motions accurately and swiftly.

Tyng's arms, chest and shoulders show a wonderful development, but his legs, outside of his hips and thighs, are not so highly trained. The reason for this is that he does not use his calves in any of his tests, his back and thighs aiding the most in the back and leg lifts.

Tyng's record compares with the three previous holders of strength records as follows:

	Herbert.	Cochems.	Allis.	Tyng.

HOBSON'S EYESIGHT FAILS.

Hero of the Merrimac to Be Retired From the United States Navy.

Naval Constructor Richmond P. Hobson, hero of the Merrimac incident in Santiago harbor, is to retire from the navy because of failing eyesight. Some time ago Captain Hobson asked to be retired, but his request was refused. Now, in response to a message from President Roosevelt, a bill has been introduced in the senate providing for Captain Hobson's retirement.

Since the close of the Spanish war the captain has been employed constantly in the severest kind of labor. He succeeded in raising the Maria Teresa, one of the ships of Admiral Cervera's fleet, but she was afterward lost on her trip to the Norfolk navy yard.

Afterward Captain Hobson went to the Philippines and raised several of the ships that Admiral Dewey sent to the bottom of Manila bay. It was while superintending the reconstruction of these vessels at Hongkong that his eyesight began to fail. Fearing total blindness, he asks special legislation authorizing his retirement. Captain Hobson is now in the United States.

FLOOD AT PITTSBURG

MAYBE 30 FT. THIS AFTERNOON.

Residents of Lower Portions of Two Cities Warned to Be Prepared. Flood In Blair County, Pa.—High Water at Philadelphia.

Pittsburg, March 1.—Thousands of tons of ice swept out of the Allegheny river into the Ohio yesterday. Swirling, sweeping along in an eddying curent, tossing the muddy waters into foam and bringing down from points many miles up the Allegheny valley debris of all kinds, this great ice floe, riding on a swollen stream, passed along Fittsburg's water front, while 5,000 people looked at it, fascinated.

The damage caused by the crushing force of the ice was great. What it is will not be known for several days. Many hundreds of dollars were sacrificed in the maw of the ice king.

No lives were lost as far as positively known throughout the entire course of 70 miles of the gorge's race. Numerous narrow escapes were reported, however, and some intensely thrilling experiences were had by persons in the affected districts along the river.

In the wake of the river of ice came the danger of a big flood. This danger is not yet past, and the rains and melting rays of the sun that rotted the huge chunks of ice until they were robbed of their destructive powers, caused the headwaters of the Allegheny to pour out torrents of water, which appreciably raised the stage here, until this morning the ordinary flood stage of a spring freshet had already been reached, threatening still more serious trouble.

May Reach 30-Foot Stage.

The long expected flood may reach 30 feet by noon today. Until 6 o'clock yesterday evening danger from such a flood was not anticipated by Local Weather Forecaster Frank Ridgway or any of the experienced river men.

At that hour special reports from the river observers along the Monongahela and Alegheny rivers and their tributaries showed that the water from the mountain streams was beginning to have an effect on the rivers, causing them to rise rapidly. Mr. Ridgway at once issued warnings through the police departments of the two cities to notify the residents of the lower wards to prepare for 30 feet. The rise is due almost entirely to the melting of snow in the mountains during the last few days of high temperature.

As the river and other interests had been warned that a flood was likely to occur almost any hour today, nearly every person was well prepared and the amount of loss, in spite of the high water, is not expected to be as large as it might otherwise have been. When the ice gorge passed out of the Allegheny river the water rose to about 18 feet and remained stationary for several hours.

Backed by Great Volume of Water.

Reports from up river points at that time indicated that a rise of 22 feet might be expected. Later reports showed that the river was rising more rapidly than earlier in the day, and that the volume of water behind it was great. Mr. Ridgway said last night:

"The rise in reports from up river points show that the snow is melting in the mountains and causing all of the rivers to rise again. The rise is from the melting snow, which has been lying in the mountains all winter. It is impossible to predict accurately what stage of water will be reached here, as it is not known what depth of snow is in the mountains. Under similar circumstances the rivers have been known to rise continuously for from 20 to 36 hours, and the reports received tonight indicate that they will continue to rise all day. The maximum stage will probably be reached Saturday afternoon or Saturday night."

The weather prediction for Pittsburg and vicinity today is partly cloudy, with falling temperature and probably light rains.

Although the residents of the low lying districts of Pittsburg and Allegheny were more or less prepared for a flood, there was a general hurrying and scurrying to get household goods moved to the upper stories of dwellings and away from the danger of the high water.

Goods Loaded Into Skiffs.

Many skiffs which have been kept high and dry on account of the ice were brought out and put to good use in the Allegheny streets near the river. There were the usual picturesque scenes of boats loaded with furniture and families being transported to higher ground.

Philadelphia, March 1. — The Schuylkill river through this city rose rapidly last night and both the east and west banks were under water from Fairmount park to the Delaware river, into which the Schuylkill empties. Scores of wharves were three feet under water and considerable damage will result. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad had to abandon its service over the main line on the eastern shore, as the tracks were covered with water from Fairmount park to Wharton street, a distance of two miles. At the city depot at Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets the tracks were three feet under water and the lower waiting room had nine inches of water on the floor at 11 o'clock last night.

Altoona, Pa., March 1.—Blair county is now experiencing the highest water known here since the days of the Johnstown flood. A bridge on the Canoe Creek branch of the Pennsylvania railroad was carried away yesterday morning. The trestles of another railroad bridge on Piney creek were also swept away. Williamsburg, this county, is isolated by the flood. Last night there was a sharp thunder and lightning storm, the electric flashes being very vivid. Washouts prevented the running of trains from here, going east of Connellsville.

Cumberland, Md., March 1.—Gorman, a town north of here, was reported drowned out. Other towns are floded.

A Good Hearted Man,

or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. If you are short of breath, have pain in left side, smothering spells, palpitation, unable to lie on side, especially the left, you should begin taking

FROM 30 TO 75 ARE DEAD.

Party Attempting to Rescue Men Buried by Snowslide, Caught by Another Slide.

Telluride Colo., March 1.—The most terrible snowslide ever known in Colorado caused the deaths of from 30 to 75 men at the Liberty Bell mine, on Smuggler mountain, yesterday. Although the scene of the disaster is scarcely two miles from this town, information is difficult to obtain on account of the precipitous character of the roads and the vast amount of snow. Nearly all the buildings of the Liberty Bell mine were carried down by the slide, all the books which show the number and names of the men employed being lost, so that the death list can hardly be known for many hours, possibly not until the rescuers shall have removed the immense quantity of snow, rocks and logs from the canyon where the victims lie buried.

It seems that two slides occurred practically in the same place, the second burying those who were trying to rescue the victims of the first.

BOERS WERE DEFEATED.

Thirty-Six Men Killed—DeWet's Son Among the Prisoners.

London, March 1.—An official dispatch to the war office from Pretoria reports a fight between Colonel Remington's and Colonel Byng's columns and a force of Boers.

Manie Botha, the Boer leader, was killed and 35 dead were left on the field. One hundred horses were killed and 600 head of cattle were captured.

Among the prisoners were General DeWet's son and secretary, Commandants Meyer and Fruther and several field cornets.

The scene of the fight was between Wilger river and the Natal frontier.

General Kitchener adds: "The fighting was at close quarters, the Boers attempting to break through the British line, as usual driving a herd of cattle in front of them. The New Zealand regiment fought most gallantly. Two smaller attempts by the Boers to break away succeeded."

Regarding the present attempt to round up the Boers, by forming a cordon about them, Lord Kitchener reports: "All the columns have not yet reported, as the operations are over a very wide area. Over 600 Boers have been either killed or taken prisoner; also 2,000 horses, 28,000 cattle, 200 wagons, 60,000 sheep, 600 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition. These are satisfactory results and very appropriate an the anniversary of Majuba."

MANUFACTURERS CENSURED FOR LOSS OF 30 LIVES.

Detroit, Mich., March 1.—The coroner's jury, which has been investigating the cause of the explosion of the boiler at the Penberthy Injector company's plant here, Nov. 26 last, which resulted in the loss of 30 lives, brought in a verdict that the boiler was defective and censured its makers.

AFTER THE GRIP COMES CATARRH.

LIKE A TERRIBLE CYCLONE grip bacillus has passed over our country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, leaving behind it a dark cloud of anguish and despair.

Catarrh follows grip as effect follows cause.

A multitude of catarrh victims will spring up in the trail of the awful epidemic of grip that has just passed over our fair country.

The hope to these people is Peruna.

Most people know this already.

Everyone who has had the least touch of grip, should not fail to take a course of treatment with Peruna.

Peruna eradicates every vestige of the disease and leaves the system in a normal condition.

Hon. Joseph B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"After giving Peruna a fair trial I can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with coughs, colds, la grippe and all catarrhal complaints."—J. B. Crowley.

Hon. George H. White, Congressman from North Carolina, writes:

"I am more than satisfied with Peruna, and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family, and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent remedy."—George H. White.

Hon. J. P. Megrew, Superintendent U. S. Capital Police Force, of Washington, D. C., says:

"Having suffered from the grip, I was advised by a friend to use your Peruna. I also used it for my catarrh, and I can now cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone who is suffering from the grip and catarrh."—J. P. Megrew.

Miss Anna Russell, Past Worthy Counselor, Loyd Mystic Legion, 293 Endicott Building, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"For years I have unfortunately found my system in a peculiarly receptive condition for catarrh when I was exposed in any way to inclement weather. At those times I would be severely afflicted with la grippe and its unpleasant consequences.

"Now for the past year and a half I have used Peruna in such cases and have found that it not only cures me quickly, but it also cleanses my blood and renders me less liable to catch cold. It is the finest preventative of colds that I know of and a very superior tonic."—Anna Russell.

Miss Emily Milburne, President of the Westside Young Woman's Club, No. 152 West Congress street, Chicago, Ill., writes of several members of the club of which she is president, who have had the Grip and have been quickly restored to health by Peruna.

Mr. Nicolas F. Rossiter, of 463 Norwood avenue, Cleveland, O., had a severe attack of the Grip, was very sick and under the physician's care. He, like many others, passed the acute stage but did not receive strength. Peruna not only quickly restored him to his former health, but to much better health than he has had for years. He gives Peruna all the praise.

Hon. Max J. Porges, Alderman of the Eighth District, residing at 36 Rivington street, New York, suffered with the Grip. two bottles of Peruna cured him. He also writes that he knows a large number of people who have been cured of the Grip by Peruna.

Hon. Charles W. Culkin, Alderman of the Seventh Assembly District of the Borough of Manhattan, residing at 45 Eighth avenue, New York, writes that he was laid up several days with the Grip. On the fifth day he was advised to try Peruna. He did so and found himself better within twenty-four hours. This remedy soon restored him to his usual vigorous health.

Mr. Martin Edwards, President of the County Clare Men's Benefit Society, 523 West Forty-Ninth street, New York, writes that he was cured of the Grip by a short course of treatment with Peruna.

Miss Blanche Dumont, President of the Athenia Club, 4110 Aldrich avenue North, Camden Place, Minneapolis, Minn., says she was cured of the Grip. Nothing helped her until she tried Peruna. Felt better next day after beginning its use. Was able to be out of bed the third day. She also tells of others who were cured by Peruna.

La Grippe is epidemic catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh, hence Peruna is a specific for la grippe.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

TWELVE PAGES.

ONE YEAR'S PROGRESS.

A year ago today the News Review changed owners. It also changed in other respects. That the change was for the better, in the opinion of the reading public, is shown by its phenomenal growth since that time. Instead of 877 copies daily, the number printed March 1, 1901, the paper now has a daily circulation of 2,600 copies or treble that of one year ago. Advertising patronage has grown proportionately, while the job department of the paper is doing four times as much business as formerly. The News Review one year ago had five short columns to the page. Today it has six columns of standard length, and pressure of advertising matter frequently necessitates the addition of four extra pages. In one year the paper has made more progress than in the preceding 18 years of its history.

The News Review and its weekly edition, the Saturday Review, are now recognized as the leading newspapers of Columbiana county—alert, alive and up to date in every particular. The Republicans of the county have watched its expansion with unbounded satisfaction and now fully realize that the county has a Republican newspaper worthy of such a Republican stronghold and faithfully devoted to the best interests of the party. In politics as in everything else it leaves the public in no doubt as to where it stands. Its course has won favor with men of all parties, for honest men respect honest opinions, whether they agree with them or not. The mugwump and the nondescript journal are out of place in a community where political feeling runs as high as it does in Columbiana county.

But politics aside, the News Review is first of all a newspaper. It works for the good of the city and county, gives all the home news while it is fresh, and presents it in a crisp, entertaining and reliable form. It is constantly adding to its facilities for gathering the news and publishing it. The next few weeks will witness such a transformation of the mechanical department as cannot fail to be an agreeable surprise to all patrons.

Progress is the watchword with this newspaper. It has only just begun to grow. But all must admit, it has begun well. It will keep it up, and never weary in well-doing.

A healthy indication throughout the country is shown in the fact that nobody claims any fellowship with Wellington, of Maryland. The Republicans threw him out long ago, and none of the Democrats show any disposition to pick him up. Even though Wellington's effacement on March 4 next brings Gorman to the front, the Republicans of the United States will rejoice at the transition. Gorman is not a model senator, but he is better than no man at all.

The genuine welcome which the prince has received ever since he arrived in America will be as cordial in Ohio as anywhere that he is likely to go. Ohio has many citizens of German origin. They are loyal Americans, though they have not forgotten the Fatherland. They fully appreciate and understand the motive back of the kaiser's brother's visit, and welcome it as an evidence of the German government's good-will.

Bryan scared a horse at Uniontown and it followed the example of his party, running away from him. Good horse sense.

The Philippine tariff bill was passed earlier by the senate than was expected, and the changes which were made in it were fewer than were looked for. It ought not to take long for the two branches to come to an agreement on the measure. There is a strong incentive to get it enacted at the earliest possible date. No long deadlock will prevail between the two bodies.

You would be highly offended if anybody were to deprive you of your right to vote. Don't deprive yourself of it, then.

March is so lamb-like, it seems possible that the ground hog may have made a mistake.

Good Republican weather.

AT THE THEATER

The attraction at the Grand on Tuesday, March 4, will be the enormously successful drama, "Two Little Vagrants," presented by Edward C. White's well known company of artists. Rarely, if ever, has a dramatic attraction enjoyed such continuous runs of equal length. It had an astonishing run in Paris of over 900 nights, in London over 500 nights, and in New York City it was presented the greater part of an entire season. While in Boston it held the stage for something like three months. Since then it has done a phenomenal business in all the principal cities.

The Orpheon Extravaganza company of Chicago is making a strong feature of its chorus, having gathered together 40 of as pretty girls as ever carried a tin spear. In the production here of "Fiddle-dee-dee" and "Whirl-I-Gig" the chorus girl will wear elaborate costumes made from the original designs used by Weber & Fields for the safe plays. The engagement here is for Wednesday evening.

"The Mystery of Woodlawn," an interesting play, was well presented to a large house by the Keystone Dramatic club last evening. Tonight this company will present "Heart of the Mountain," a strong drama, closing a most successful week's engagement.

The theatrical papers of this week speak in the highest terms of Arthur C. Aiston's "At the Old Cross Roads." The attraction has been secured by the ushers of the Grand opera house and will appear here March 17.

POTTERY NEWS

An Akron paper, commenting upon the late combine talk, says:

"Up to the present time the Akron China company and the Summit China company of Akron, and the Barberton company have not been approached or made application to enter the combine.

"John G. Ingalls, treasurer of the Akron China company, states that he does not think it will develop into a general combine.

"An officer of the Summit stated he understood the American Potteries company was reaching out and that he hoped the efforts of the promoters would be successful.

"The Barberton pottery will not enter the combine. An officer of this company said he did not believe the combination would absorb any more beside the Union Potteries company, of East Liverpool."

Workmen employed in the clay department of the Union pottery expect to see the bonus wage scale recently adopted at that plant and at the Chelsea taken down soon. The scheme was rejected by the men soon after the notices providing for it were posted. The notices have not been molested since they were placed in the factories.

Owing to a rush of business in the clay shops at the Union the clay makers have been compelled to work at night during the past week. Additional machinery for the department is expected to be installed during the next few days.

Edward Devon, manager of the lower shop of the McNicol, who has been confined to his home on College street for several days with a severe attack of grip, is expected to be able to be able to resume his work by Monday.

Bert Hershner, a glost kilnman at Laughlin No. 2, who was injured by the falling in of a kiln at that plant recently, has recovered from his injuries, and is expected to resume his work next week.

Miss Ada Knox, of the decorating department of the Goodwin, left today for Steubenville where she will visit her mother for several days. One year ago today the father of Miss Knox died.

The largest glost crew ever employed at the Buckeye is now at work. Two extra kilns were made at the last pay.

Several kilnmen at the Buckeye are off duty on account of illness. Among the number is John Gray, and Aaron Coleman. They are expected at their benches Monday.

The beneficial feature will be added to No. 17 tonight. The committee having this task in hand has completed its labors, and this evening officers will be elected.

Miss Ada Eardley, a filler-in at the Burford, entertained a number of friends at her home on Waterloo street last evening. About 15 couples were present.

Stephen Leighton, who has been employed as a presser at the Thomas pottery at Lisbon, has taken a position at the Smith-McNicol at Wellsville.

Lot Haney, of the East End, who recently returned from a short visit at Niles, will likely take a position in the biscuit end of the Laughlin No. 2.

James Bowlls, a dipper at Cartwright's, who has been off duty on account of illness, resumed work yesterday.

J. B. Witherow, a cup jiggerman at the Union, has been unable to work for several days on account of sore eyes.

Zach Denning, a dish maker at the East Liverpool, who has been ill for a few days, has resumed his work.

Basil Vogle, who has been working on the biscuit end at the Buckeye, will go to Goodwin's Monday.

After a shut-down of almost a week the clay department at the National will resume Monday.

Evas Sebring, who has been in the city for several days, has returned to his home in Sebring.

Five turners will be employed at the Union next week, the fifth lathe to be started Monday.

Harry Huntsman, a jiggerman, making saucers, has resigned his position at the Union.

Ralph Turner, a glost kilnman at McNicol's is unable to work on account of illness.

James Irwin has taken a position as sticker-up at the East Liverpool.

Washingtonville Man Claims Arrest Damaged His Reputation.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—Thomas Layden, a minor, by Maggie Layden, his next friend, has filed suit against George Charlton and his sureties, William Dalrymple and J. D. Smith. Charlton was marshal at Washingtonville, and on March 1, 1901, caused Layden, aged 20 years, to be arrested. Layden was imprisoned four hours and now considers his reputation injured to the extent of $100. He alleges that the arrest was malicious and without cause.

CIVIL WAR TOPICS

The Theme of Interesting Discussion By the Twentieth Century Club.

The Twentieth Century club held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Miss Mary Cope, Main street, yesterday afternoon.

The following program was rendered: Roll call; anecdotes of the civil war; paper, "Character Sketches of Grant and Lee," Mrs. Dennis; paper, "Political Parties in the United States," Miss Smith; conversation, "Women During the Civil War," led by Miss Moore; five-minute talk, "The National Bank," Mrs. Wells; "Civil War, 1863-1865," the club.

The visitors present were Mrs. W. M. Glasgow and Mrs. C. E. Clark and Miss Hazlett, of East Liverpool. Mrs. Glasgow and Mrs. Clark were elected honorary members, the former to perform the duties of Mrs. Denham, who is on an extended visit in the south.

IN HER BROTHER'S HONOR

Miss Margaret Arnold Charmingly Entertained Her Young Friends.

In a charming manner Miss Margaret Arnold entertained at her home, Third street, last evening in honor of her brother, Corydon. Music, dancing the playing of social games and the partaking of a choice three-course luncheon were the highly enjoyable features of the evening.

Those present were: Misses Kate Donaldson, Lena Lowary, Gertrude Lyth, Ethel Clark, Mabel Hewitt, Tillie Demlar, Stella Donnelly, Nellie Davis, Mary Yost, Beulah Wells and Beulah Williamson. Messrs. Wayne Wells, Paul Menough, Bennett Porter, Walter Moore, Thomas Hammond Sidney Smith, Dave Crumrine, Sam Myers, Thomas Silvers and Thomas Sheets.

EAST LIVERPOOL LOST

An Interesting Bowling Contest Played at Wellsville Last Night.

On the Campbell alleys last evening a bowling series of three games between the second team of Wellsville and Carnahan's team, of East Liverpool, was played, the latter losing by 62 pins. The score:

Wellsville—113, 121, 100; Stahl, 133, 190, 146; Brockett, 148, 137, 137; Cornelius, 114, 112, 136; Harsha, 108, 152, 111.

Cut Her Hand Badly.

Mrs. Erla Cusick, Eighteenth street, had the misfortune to break a dish on her hand, the pieces badly lacerating the hand and wrist. A cut in her wrist caused blood to flow profusely, and it was thought an artery had been severed, but luckily such was not the case. The wounds are not serious.

THROWN FROM A CAR

A Brakeman's Head in Contact With a Water Spout—Hurled to the Ground.

An accident which might have proven fatal to A. J. Healy, of Center street, occurred in the West End yards. He is a brakeman employed by the C. & P. and it was while riding on top of a car that he met with the accident. A water spout extending out over the track came in violent contact with his head and precipitated him to the ground with great force.

An ugly gash on the side of his head was the result. He will be off duty for some time.

Social Club Dance.

The Young Men's Social club gave a dance at city hall last evening. The dancing classes of Profs. McDougall and Cassidy were invited and a pleasant time resulted.

were favorable at their plant and no damage was expected from the flood there. However, all precautions are being taken should an unusual rise come.

Tal McCain, manager of the McCain stave mill, will suffer considerable loss on account of water coming into the works. There is considerable green lumber lying about this plant, and while the engine has been stopped for several days on account of improvements being made, work will be stopped entirely. A large force of men was employed at noon today building a boom about the logs lying on the river bank near this plant, extending from a point near the power house to opposite the miixng department of the Globe pottery. Mr. McCain stated this was the only way the property could be protected and as a large lot of staves is piled near the cooper shop it is desired to save as many of them as possible. Everything at this plant is in the best possible shape, although some loss will surely occur.

John Horwell, local manager of the Globe pottery, stated this morning that work had been stopped and some of the workmen were employed preparing for a flood. The water at this plant, it was expected, would reach a point in the biscuit kiln shed first and then enter the biscuit ware house. All the ware in these departments was removed to upper floors this morning, and by noon the lower floors were practically cleared of all materials, with the exception of the mixing rooms. The materials of this department are being protected as much as possible.

At the pump station of the water works department a large force of men was employed this morning under the direction of Supt. Phil Morley taking the linoleum from the floors and doing other work necessary to protect the plant from damage. All the machinery was being oiled in order that the muddy water might not affect it. Mr. Morley said the engines would be kept running. It will be remembered that the pumps were kept running constantly last year, although the floors were covered with water to the depth of two feet.

Manager Harker, of the Harker pottery, stated no damage was expected to result to his plant and at noon today the factory was still in operation. The slip house at this plant would be first affected by high water, and necessary precautions are being taken to prevent extended damage.

Conditions at the Laughlin No. 1 were favorable this morning and arrangements were made to protect the plant from damage.

Employes of the C. C. Thompson pottery this morning were engaged in preparing for a flood. An official of this firm stated that three feet of water was expected on the lower floors, and that all ware and materials were being removed to the upper floors. A number of poles which were delivered to this plant from Chester last week, to be used as piles, were removed from the river side of this pottery this morning to the north side. This was done to prevent the piles from being carried away by the flood.

The Diamond pottery, of the East Liverpool Potteries company, is in good shape, and while the water will surely reach the kilnshed, no serious damage is looked for. President Geo. C. Murphy said at noon today that all the company's factories along the river were in excellent shape and he did not look for any great damage.

A continued rise would put water in the Cartwright pottery, but precautions were taken during the night and this morning to prevent damage.

Two inches of water was on the cellar floor of the Potters' Supply company plant at noon. It is not thought this plant will have to suspend operations.

Pilgrim's coal office at the wharf was flooded during the early morning, but all furniture and the office safe was removed from the office last evening.

The flood is causing much damage in the West End, and occupants of houses in the lower parts of Jethro Hollow were compelled to remove from their homes during the morning. Furniture was removed to high ground in skiffs. This district is flooded every high water and the back water extends quite a distance up the hollow.

Occupants of shanty boats moored along the river bank from Market street to a point near the power house are watching their boats, which are tied close to the shore. So far no damage has been done.

The ice from the Allegheny river commenced to pass this city about 8 o'clock last evening, and when the ice struck the piers of the East Liverpool bridge, water was thrown high in the air. The swift current at the head of Babb's island caused much ice to be lodged on the island. The continued rise has almost completely covered the island and washed the ice away.

Not for years has so much wreckage been carried past this city by a flood. Many flats, belonging to the Twin City Sand company, of Pittsburg passed down this mornin, some being broken. No attempt was made to catch them owing to the danger.

The low lands of Wellsville are partially submerged and the residents of Third street are moving their furniture to other parts of the town. The United States Pottery is in danger of being flooded also.

Anxiety exists in Smith's Ferry and Glasgow. There is back water in Beaver creek for more than four miles, and there is four feet of water in the property of W. L. Wade, Smith's Ferry. Families in Glasgow are moving to upper floors. It is feared that if the river rises much more the ice will cause much damage at Smith's Ferry.

At 11 o'clock this morning travel on the East Liverpool railway was stopped, the water flooding the tracks at Thompson's pottery. Many cars were caught this side of the pottery and were unable to reach the barns.

Fear was expressed this morning over the safety of the towboat Tornado, which passed up the river last evening just before the ice from the Allegheny river commenced to come down. The owners of the boat at Pittsburg tried to reach the captain of the Tornado before it reached this city, but failed. The boat reached Smith's Ferry just as the ice commenced to pass and was quickly run to the shore.

PLAIN QUESTIONS FOR FIFTH WARD

TAXPAYERS' INTERESTS

Where Dr. Marshall Might Have Looked After Them, But Is Accused of Not Doing So—Can He Escape Responsibility?

Editor News Review: With much eclat Dr. R. J. Marshall proclaims himself for the fifth time a seeker after councilmanic honors at the hands of the voters of the Fifth ward. In his accustomed ostentatious manner he feigns great friendship for the man of limited means. Sirenlike he attempts to lull the voters into the belief that he will do all kinds of possible and impossible things for them only to forget his promises after election day. He professes to have looked after the interests of the taxpayers at all times, and so he has—the wealthy ones. I have known and taken great interest in the doctor for years, and always found him to be for himself first, last and all the time. Take for instance the matter of improving the hill road connecting the city proper with the East End.

The city engineer's estimate on the cost of this improvement was $9,000, the city's share of which was to be $185. Based on this estimate Dr. Marshall managed to induce council to pass the improving ordinance. And now what do we find the actual cost of the improvement to be? Thirty-two thousand dollars, of which amount only $25,000 can be levied against the property benefited, thus leaving $7,000 to be saddled on the city, provided all the assessments can be collected. But that is not all.

There are damage suits as a result of this improvement amounting to about $28,000, running the eventual cost of the improvement up to the stupendous sum of $60,000. And what are the returns for this price? How many of our working people in any part of the city are benefited by this vast expenditure of money? Less than one-half of this amount expended on the river road would mean money in the pockets of all classes—the working man and woman in the saving of car fares, etc. But would not satisfy the doctor and his friends, for at that time the street railway company was opposed to the improvement of the river road, the doctor was on very friendly terms with the management and carried out their wishes.

Here is another evidence of the doctor's extreme friendliness towards the poorer classes. The long list of assessments for Pennsylvania avenue improvements show Dr. Marshall's friends—those able to pay taxes—have all been very carefully "taken care" of. Permit me to cite but one case: Wm. C. Thompson is the owner of a bunch of lots along the line of improvement and is required to pay only $10 for each lot of 50 feet, while L. Gardner and Wm. H. Kinney adjoining are compelled to pay $20 each for the same number of feet frontage, or 100 per cent more than the former.

Instances of this kind are too numerous to be crowded into the limited space at my disposal. Two years ago the doctor was re-elected on the postive promise that he would give his hearty support to the improvement of the river road, but not one dollar has been expended on that dilapidated road since then, and never will be as long as he is in power. When Dr. Marshall entered city council eight years ago the bonded indebtedness of the city amounted to $280,000. It has now increased to $470,000—almost doubled in that time. Marshall more than any other man is responsible for this, for has he not been the leading spirit of the finance committee and council for over six years? Only recently it was necessary to sell bonds to the amount of $50,000 to relieve the floating indebtedness of the city, the banks having curtailed the credit of the city, even flatly refusing to honor the city's paper. Thus is Marshall's policy drifting East Liverpool toward bankruptcy.

Are your taxes and rents lower now than formerly? You all know what your taxes were last year. With Marshall back in council next year taxes will be higher, sure pop. In view of these facts is it not for the best interests of the city that the doctor should be retired this time and a friend of the workingman put in his place? If there is no compensation in the office for the doctor, why is it he is after it so hard and so everlastingly?

DR. MARSHALL'S ATTITUDE CHANGED

With Reference to the Street Railway Company's Affairs.

HIS CHANCE OF HEART

Must Have Been Experienced—Only a Year Ago, as Formerly He Worked With Them Against the Taxpayers' Interests.

(From the Operative Potter.)

To the Editor of the Operative Potter

It is very amusing to me to hear Dr. R. J. Marshall telling about what great things he has done since entering the city Council against the street railway company in favor of the citizens. He must have experienced a change of heart lately for I remember that it was only about a year ago that he was an earnest supporter of an ordinance in which the the residents along the line of the new extension of the street railway in the east were thrown down.

The ordinance as first introduced in Council only a few meetings prior to the election of the new members last Spring was a free gift of the right of way over the streets of that section of the city. Dr. Marshall endeavored to make it appear that he was compelling them to make this extension when in reality the street railway campany considered it "pie" to be allowed to do so. Mr. McLane put a quietus on the ordinance, however, by moving an amendment compelling the street railway company to light its tracks along this extension, placing a light every sixth of a mile.

Of course Mr. Marshall could not go against this amendment as it was too apparent that it was in favor with the people. Another move was made, however. Mr. Marshall working in conjunction with the street railway company came up at the meeting of the old council last spring and stated that the company had refused to accept the franchise which compelled them to light their tracks. He again brought up the old ordinance which did not contain this feature and succeeded in railroading it through under suspension of the rules. He afterwards came in Council and asked that these lights, or at least a portion of them be put in place, and they are now being paid for by the city.

And still Mr. Marshall claims that he is the one great enemy of the street railway company, and the friend of the taxpayer of the Fifth ward. I leave those matters to the reflection of the voters of that ward and I feel sure that they will not allow themselves to be buncoed in this respect. 50-h

MAUTZ WITHDRAWS

And Throws His Support to the Laboring Man's Candidate.

To the Public: Having come to the conclusion that the interests of the small property owners of the East End are dependent on the election of a man who will represent their interests in council and realizing that I, as a candidate, will only complicate matters in my ward, I respectfully withdraw as a candidate for the nomination.

While I have all the sympathy of the working men at heart I feel that Mr. James Jameson, being a member of a potters' local and a staunch supporter of all union labor, is in a position to more freely ask the support of this contingent, and for this reason I, while thanking all my friends for their promised support, ask them to transfer their preference to Mr. Jameson, who is a man capable of filling the position and one who will see to it that the interests of the laboring people is first of importance.

GOSSIP OF BIG AND LITTLE BOXERS.

Lenny and Smith Are Two Featherweights of Ability—Current Pugilistic Comment.

While pugilistic circles are rife with predictions and comment relative to the forthcoming conflict between Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries it will not be unprofitable to diverge a bit from the general run of events and give a small portion of consideration to the doughty little fellows who make things lively in the lighter weight divisions.

A glance along the line will show the keen observer a large number of light and feather weight boxers who are as able and fit in their class as Jeffries, Fitzsimmons, Sharkey, Corbett, Ruhlin and McCoy. And their contests are full of interest and excitement too. Who will deny that it is less attractive to watch two agile, lightning quick little fellows spar and feint for openings and land heavily on their opponents than it is to follow the maneuvers of two burly, slow moving heavyweights lunging at each other, intent on deciding all with one terrific sledgehammer blow?

The featherweight branch of the boxing game is showing great activity these days. The young gamecocks are thirsting for human blood and real spending money, and they are taking advantage of every opportunity that offers.

Two of the most promising featherweights in the ring today are Sammy Smith, the plucky Pennsylvanian, and Eddie Lenny of Buffalo. These lads have provided some royal sport for the lovers of fistiana, and their successes have paved the way for still more numerous and more important matches in the future.

Lenny is now in the best form of his pugilistic career and is acknowledged to be a dangerous man for any "pug" of the same division to go up against. His recent quick knockout of George Dixon at Baltimore verified the prediction of his manager, Jim Dougherty, when he said he would make Lenny a champion. Dougherty knew Eddie's real ability. The Buffalonian has had several offers to appear in the west, but thus far he has refused them all. It is very probable, however, that he will fight in Chicago and San Francisco before the summer days arrive.

Sammy Smith will some day be the champion of his class if the predictions of his backers come true. Smith is one of the most scientific little fighters Philadelphia has ever turned out. He is only nineteen years of age and has been fighting for two years, during which time he has lost but one decision, and that a questionable one, to Tommy Feltz at Savannah. Since boxing was revived in Philadelphia he has defeated such boxers as Joe Fairburn, Lew Ryall, Jimmy Simister, George Richardson and Patsy Haley of Buffalo.

Geers' Mule Trotter.

It is said that Ed Geers recently added to his chattels a mule trotter that turned the Memphis track in 2:47¾. He is to be started in Murray Howe's "Transmulla" at Memphis, a renewal of what was probably the most amusing event ever decided on a race track.

RED NOSE.

Sure Sign of Bad Blood—Can Be Cured with Blood Wine.

Many of our Citizens Thus Afflicted Are Obtaining Wonderful Results from this Great Remedy.

Red nose, red, flushed face, pimply skin, sallow complexion, and sores all belong in the same class, known as diseases of the blood. There is really no excuse for a person suffering with these disfigurements, because the proper treatment brought to bear on the blood will quickly correct them. "Blood Wine" cures disease by working on the blood. It makes new blood and extracts from it the poisonous matter that create sores, etc. It literally permeates the blood with new life. It causes redness of the skin to gradually disappear and the tint of health to return. It makes sores, ulcers and pimples dry up and fade away. Its action on the blood is never failing.

This is a picture of Mr. Geo. A. Carter, one of Worcester's leading business men and a power in the industrial life of Massachusetts, who says:

"I am much pleased to be able to give my testimony as to the worth and curative properties of 'Blood Wine.' Having used this remedy for more than a year, I can truthfully say it is the best medicine I have ever used for the blood. I would not be without it at any price. After using the first bottle I was greatly benefited, and my entire system seemed renewed with energy, health, and strength before I had finished my second bottle. I can heartily and conscientiously recommend it for old or young as being a remedy that will not disappoint you."

You should try this great medicine; you will feel the effect of it the moment it strikes the stomach. "Blood Wine" contains no wine or opiates. It is not a temporary relief but an everlasting cure.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores.

The Quickest Cough Eradicator.

(From the Shortsville, N. Y., Enterprise.)

This is the month that one takes cold so easily and quickly—secures that hacking cough, which is so persistently disagreeable as we know by personal experience. And we also know that the quickest eradicator of such cough has been Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and which has been our staunch standby for several years. This is no paid "puff," but merely a just recognition for an invariable remedy for for coughs, colds, and all lung affections, and like the editor, it has scores of other staunch friends in this town. This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

TRADE MOST SATISFACTORY.

So Were Industrial Results, In Spite of Short Month, Two Holidays and Storms.

New York, March 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today said in part:

Although the shortest month of the year was further curtailed by two holidays and handicapped by the most severe storms of the winter industrial and trade results were most satisfactory. The closing week brought a general resumption of activity in lines that suffered from the weather and preparation for an exceptionally heavy spring business was reported at many points, southern cities alone being backward. Insufficient motive power and bad weather combined to restrict the movement of coke from Connellsville and pig iron production suffers at a time when a maximum output would not be excessive. This difficulty extends all along the line. Pressure for structural material is already severe, and will probably be still more so as the regular building season draws nearer. Further hardening of quotations is reported and inquiries for delivery in 1903 are not exceptional. More foreign steel has been engaged, and domestic concerns are still bidding in the German market.

As a rule woolen goods are well maintained and in brisk demand, but new lines of heavy weights are not sought.

Cereals opened the week with a decided reaction. As usual, speculative liquidation carried the decline too far, and there followed the customary recovery. Wheat came into sight rather more freely than a year ago, and the Atlantic shipment of flour made a better comparison than in recent preceding weeks, but total exports of wheat from the United States, flour included, were but 3,185,052 bushels, against 4,324,249 bushels a year ago.

Corn showed the customary loss in both movements, receipts amounting to only 2,312,664 bushels, against 4,849,783 last year, while Atlantic coast shipments were 184,682 bushels, compared with 3,421,682 in the same week of 1901. Wool has been taken less freely by mills, but dealers show lack of confidence in the future of that staple.

Failures for the week numbered 215 in the United States, against 179 last year, and 35 in Canada, against 31 last year.

DRAGGED PRICES DOWNWARD.

Effect Friday of Forecast of Bank Statement.

New York, March 1.—The forecast of the bank statement and the prospect of additional heavy requirements upon New York bank reserves overcame the market Friday and dragged prices downward. The decline toward the latter part of the trading showed more consistency than any previous movement during the week. Prices of all classes of stocks were alike affected, both the minor specialties, among which there had been some show of strength earlier in the day and the leading standard stocks, which had lain inert until the selling movement began. The liquidation was not urgent and showed no signs of being forced, but it was evident that it was thought best to be prepared for contingencies in the money market and take in all sail possible. The preliminary figures of the week's cash movement as usually published on Friday, which include the known movement of money up to Thursday night, indicates that the banks have lost nearly $6,000,000 in cash during the week. The exports of gold called exactly for $3,513,823. The routine sub-treasury operations took $2,893,177. The regular express movement with the interior was in favor of New York to the extent of less than a million dollars and Friday there was deposited at the sub-treasury $500,000 for transfer to Chicago which would about wipe out the earlier gain by the banks. With surplus reserves of the banks last Saturday already down to the modest showing of $12,456,650, the money outlook seems somewhat formidable for speculators on margin who are dependent upon the call loan market for accommodation with which to carry their holdings. On the other hand March interest and dividend disbursements will be unprecedentedly large this year, estimates of the amount running to $57,000,000. The speculators, however, evidently took the view that caution was desirable and they sold their holdings. The day's net losses run over a point for some of the important stocks.

The bond market was dull and moved very narrowly. Total sales, par value, $3,220,000.

Illustrious She.

She's a woman with a mission; 'tis her heaven born ambition to reform the world's condition, you will please to understand.

She's a model of propriety, a leader in society and has a great variety of remedes at hand,

Each a sovereign specific, with a title scientific, for the cure of the morbific things that vex the people sore,

For the swift alleviation of the evils of the nation is her foreordained vocation on this sublunary shore.

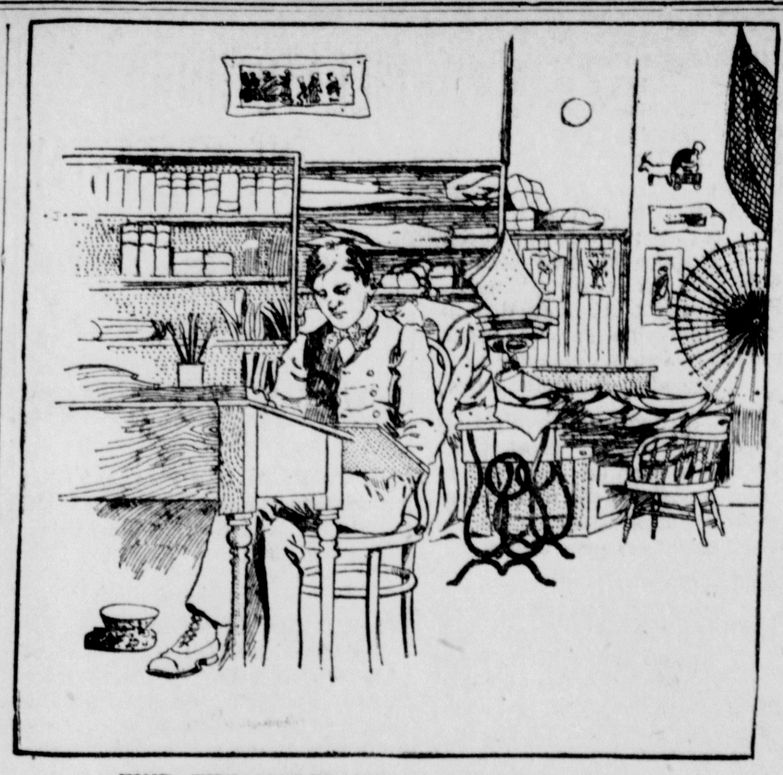

She can lecture by the hour, with incomparable power, on the gloomy clouds that lower o'er the country's fair domain,

And you weep for Eve and Adam, for the devil ne'er had had 'em if they'd only known the madam, and we'd all been proud of Cain.

And while thus she's up and coming, always hurrying and humming, and occasionally slumming, this reformer of renown,

Her neglected little Dicky, ragged, dirty, tough and tricky, with his fingers soiled and sticky, is the terror of the town.

CAPTURED THE CRITICS.

Brilliant Success of American Girl In Grand Opera at Paris.

Miss Bessie Abbott, the charming young American whose recent debut in grand opera in Paris was so pronounced a success, leaped into prominence at one bound. It is a rare thing for an operatic debutante to gain the good will of the French critics in a single performance. But this Miss Abbott accomplished, and the public has indorsed the opinion.

Miss Abbott is a native of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and less than five years ago she was singing coon songs with her sister Jessie in American vaudeville houses. It was Jean de Reszke who by chance discovered the capabilities of her voice. In company with her sister Miss Abbott was on her way to England to fill an engagement at a London music hall. M. de Reszke, who by a lucky chance was on board the steamer, heard the sisters sing a coon duet at a concert and at once singled out the soprano as an unusually gifted vocalist.

Following De Reszke's advice, Miss Abbott returned to New York and began to study vocal art under the direction of Mrs. Frida Ashforth. She continued her studies with Mrs. Ashforth until last May, when her instructor took her to Paris and had her sing for M. Capoul. The result of this hearing was that he arranged to have her sing for M. Gailhard, director of the opera, who was so favorably impressed with her voice that he engaged her.

Miss Abbott made her first appearance in the part of Juliet in "Romeo and Juliet," and it was considered the finest debut ever made on the stage in grand opera.

Miss Abbott's real name is Pickens, and she belongs to a branch of the well known southern family of that name. At one time her father was wealthy, but he lost his money, and the sisters were obliged to go on the stage to support themselves.

Equal.

Some years ago at a Mardi Gras ball at the Hopkins Institute of Art a man, masked, approached a woman, masked, and asked her for a dance, as is considered right and proper at Mardi Gras.

"But I don't know you, sir," said the lady in her most icy tone.

"Well, I'm taking as big a risk as you are," retorted the man.

ON THE EVENING OF JANUARY 21ST, 1902, DR. R. J. MARSHALL, IN OPEN COUNCIL MEETING, MADE THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT HE WOULD NOT AGAIN BE A CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION. IS IT NOT RATHER SUSPICIOUS THAT HE SHOULD SO RADICALLY CHANGE HIS MIND IN SO SHORT A PERIOD? POSSIBLY HE HAS IN MIND THE ERECTION OF A FEW MORE NON-UNION HOUSES WITHIN TWO YEARS. 50-h

MARITIME EXPRESSIONS.

Used In a Metaphorical Sense, They Are Quite Common.

Maritime expressions, used metaphorically, are, in fact, very common. We say a couple are "spliced," a young man is the "mainstay" of his family, an intruder "puts his oar in," the member from Wayback "steers through," a man is "hard up," sometimes "taken aback" or has "the wind taken out of his sails," a toper is "slewed," a loafer "spins a yarn," sometimes "tries the other tack," and a ruler "steers the ship of state" through troublesome times.

This last metaphor is extremely ancient, by the way. Horace refers to Rome as a ship at sea, and Plutarch says the Delphic oracle referred to Athens in the same way. A Tamil saying embodies a like metaphor, "The soul is the ship, reason is the helm, the oars are the soul's thoughts, and truth is the port." An old collection of English proverbs contains this one: "The tongue is the rudder of our ship." A Malay maxim says, "The boat which is swamped at sea may be bailed out, but the shipwreck of the affections is final."

Aristophanes, Plautus and others use an expression which comes down to us as an English saw, "To row one way and look another." An old English proverb (1614) was, "It is not good to have an oar in every one's boat."—United Service.

PLEASANT CARD PARTY

Given By Mrs. H. R. Hill And Mrs. Davidson to 35 Friends.

Mrs. H. R. Hill and daughter, Mrs. Geo. Davidson, were hostesses at a very pleasant card party yesterday afternoon. Preference was given to yellow and white in the decorations, all of which were quite artistic. The tally cards were very pretty, being diamond shaped; they also carried out the color scheme. They were ornamented by tiny Gibson heads and eighteenth century maids.

Choice refreshments were partaken of by about thirty-five guests. Mrs. Edwin Wells won the first prize, a popular book, while Mrs. Tom Anderson got the consolation prize.

BILL TO REDUCE THE STATE TAX

Proposition to Cut State Levy From $5,500,000 Down to $2,000,000.

DOW TAX LAW EVADERS

Are Aimed At in a Plan to Bring Speakeasy Keepers to Time—Municipal Code Hearing—The Prince in Columbus.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 1.—Two more administration tax measures were dropped into the house hopper yesterday. One of them, by Mr. Cole, of Hancock, chairman of the finance committee, is a bill making a material reduction in the state tax. It was drawn up at a conference held in the governor's office on Thursday between Governor Nash, Secretary of State Laylin, Auditor of State Guilbert and several members of the legislature. It reduces the state levy from about five and a half millions to two millions, this reduction being made in anticipation of the revenue to be raised through the operation of the Cole and Willis bills taxing the capital stock of corporations and quasi-public corporations.

The Freaser measure is a resolution which seeks to extend the power of the legislature in the matter of taxation. A constitutional amendment will be necessary before it can become a law. It provides for the taxation of franchises and the gross earnings of corporations, and for the license of any class of business that the legislature may direct. Double taxation is strictly forbidden and subjects of taxation may be classified as is deemed desirable.

Auditor of State Guilbert has computed the amount of taxes that will be saved to the several counties of the state if the proposed administration tax measures are made laws. A tabulated statement which he has prepared shows the amounts which will be deducted from these eastern counties: Stark, $65,711.25; Columbiana, $45,505.33; Mahoning, $50,596; Summit, $55,694.65; Cuyahoga, $358,656.26.

Senator Archer's resolution dedicating the reservoirs and inland lakes of Ohio as public resorts and public parks has been recommended for passage by the senate committee.

Representative Brannock, of Clermont, is preparing a bill which he will introduce soon, enlarging the force of deputies of the state fire marshal and bringing prosecutors in closer relationship with the department. As the law now stands, prosecutors are not bound to give the department the co-operation which is often necessary in order to secure a conviction. State Fire Marshal Hollenbeck complains bitterly of the treatment he has received from prosecutors, and is sanguine if the law passes it will be productive of good results. There has been considerable talk to the effect that the fire marshal department would be abolished, but it is hardly likely this will be done.

The municipal code bill will be heard on March 10, 11 and 12. Delegations from all over the state will be heard on the measure, and there will be some interesting arguments pro and con. It is understood that Cleveland and Cincinnati are opposed to the bill.

The house labor committee has reported favorably on the Middleswart bill creating a state board of examiners for barbers. It requires all barbers, excepting those in towns of 300 inhabitants or less, to stand an examination and take out a license. There is no discrimination between white and colored barbers. The bill stipulates that all barber shops and barber implements shall be kept scrupulously clean and also provides that applicants must be of good moral character in order to receive licenses.

A proposition is under way to bring the Dow tax dodgers of the state to time. It is estimated that there are 5,000 places in Ohio where liquor is sold in violation of the Dow tax law. The state administration proposes to secure the enactment of a law authorizing the appointment of deputies by the auditor of state, whose duty it shall be to ferret out these violators and compel them to pay the tax. If this can be done, it is estimated that the state can be enriched to the extent of about $2,000,000 annually. The statement is made that there is 1,000 "speakeasies" in operation in Ohio. Among the violators are drug stores.

Prince Henry of Prussia and staff will arrive here at 4:20 this afternoon and will spend just 10 minutes in the city. The reception is to be somewhat exclusive. It will be held at the station and the general public will not be admitted to it. They may view the ceremonies from afar, and it is exceedingly questionable whether or not they will be able to get even a glimpse of his royal highness. Tickets to the show will be issued to a favored few. Governor Nash will greet the prince when he arrives. The band will strike up a lively air when the train draws into the station. The prince is traveling in the private car "Olympia," which was used by President McKinley.

NOT many friends but we soon will have hosts. A sale to commence Saturday, March 1st, to close out three car loads of Wall Paper at the first cost to manufacture All borders to be sold while these 3 cars last at the same price as sidewalls they match. 12 rolls sidewall, 2 rolls border, 6 rolls ceiling, good dark white blanks, all for 20c.

HARD TIMES SOCIAL

Entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Last Night a Grand Success.

The "Hard Times Soshul" at the Y. M. C. A. last evening was one of the best entertainments East Liverpool has seen for many a long day. The basket ball game was exciting, the pictures and program excellent and the fun fast and furious. Ann Maria Jones, (Mrs. Ed. Hassey,) talked on woman's rights; Messrs. Hamilton and Berg sang most acceptably; the Sirius mandolin club played artistically; the baton juggling by Mr. Hughes and the buck and wing dancing by Mr. Conley were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and a genuine hobo drifted in and played two selections on the harmonica with a case of stage fright sandwiched between.

A great many of the boys came in costumes and a few of the girls, and when the lights were partly turned down to indicate closing time, few realized that it was after 11 o'clock. A nice lunch was served by the ladies' auxiliary.

SUIT FOR $1,000

Entered Against Wellsville for Damages for Change of Street Grade.

Lisbon, March 1.—(Special)—Margaret J. Snider has asked the court to grant her $1,000 from the city of Wellsville for damages. Her petition states that she is in possession of lot 8 in Wells' 1830 addition to Wellsville. She erected buildings on the lot valued at $1,500, according to the grade established in 1872 for Third street, on which the property fronts.

The pavement of the street in 1901 was according to a different grade, so that she was compelled to raise the buildings four feet. She considers the damage to the property at least $1,000.

PRINCE EN ROUTE.

Passed Through Pittsburg Today--Dinner at Embassy Last Night.

WENT RIDING WITH PRESIDENT.

Rode In the Rain—Prince Bade Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt Goodbye—Visit Paid to the Naval Academy, at Annapolis.

Pittsburg, March 1.—The train carrying Prince Henry and his suite reached Altoona at 7:55 this morning. Here it was met by some of the officials of the Pittsburg division, who had charge of it during the run to Pittsburg.

A stop of five minutes was made in Altoona, just long enough to allow for a change of engines. The start was made from Altoona at 8 o'clock. No stop was made until this city was reached at 11:20.

The train was in the Pittsburg station for 10 minutes. After its arrival here the officials of the Panhandle took charge of it. Ralph Peters, general superintendent of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, and Frank Van Dusen, chief assistant general passenger agent, joined the party here to travel on the train to Cincinnati.

The crew for the run over the Pittsburg division of the Panhandle was made up of T. E. Laughead, conductor; William Bell, engineer; Frank Hottel and James Nelly, brakemen.

The police arrangements at the station during the time the train was in Pittsburg was under the direction of Superintendent of Police John McAleese and Director of Public Safety A. H. Leslie.

Crowd Was Roped Out.

Director A. H. Leslie and Superintendent John McAleese had 200 policemen and many detectives at the station. As soon as the train arrived a rope was stretched across the tracks behind it and no one got inside this space save the chief executive of the city government, the resident German consul and the official committees. No person was allowed to get on or off the train without a government pass.

Traffic at the Union station was entirely suspended while the prince's train stopped here. Trains were not moved either in or out, and no tickets were honored at the gates.

Washington, March 1.—Prince Henry yesterday afternoon enjoyed one event not on his official itinerary when he and President Roosevelt went in a rain storm on a horseback ride of an hour and a quarter through Rock Creek valley and the suburbs of the northwestern section of the city. The ride was arranged personally between the two men during one of their talks at an official function. The prince returned from Annapolis between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon and went direct to the White House to pay a farewell visit, the members of his suite accompanying him. The farewell call was entirely informal. Captain Gilmore, of the artillery, met the prince and his suite at the door and escorted them to the blue room, where they were received by the president and Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt, each of whom gave the prince a hearty welcome and Godspeed.

The ceremony lasted only about five minutes and then the prince drove to the embassy and exchanged his admiral's uniform for a riding suit of dark blue with buff leggings and a fedora hat. The prince smoked several cigarettes and chatted with Ambassador Von Holleben in front of the embassy about 15 minutes while awaiting the arrival of the president. Mr. Roosevelt's riding garb was similar to that of the prince, save for a slouch hat of the rough rider style.

Prince Rode Lodge's Horse.

While the prince was mounting his horse, which was a handsome chestnut bay, belonging to Senator Lodge, Ambassador Holleben stepped forward to greet the president and as he did so the president remarked:

"Ambassador, I am sorry to put the prince to this trouble. I only hope he is not being too good natured."

In a drizzling rain, which later turned into a downpour, the two started off for a ride, accompanied by a sergeant of artillery. As they were leaving the president waved his hand to Ambassador Holleben and in a voice loud enough to be heard across the street said: "We will be back in an hour and a half."

A large crowd in front of the embassy greeted the distinguished pair as they rode off. They returned to the embassy at 6:10, having been gone an hour and a quarter. The ride was through the northwestern suburbs and rain fell a large part of the time, but both riders seemed to enjoy the outing.

Prince Henry's visit to the national capital had a fitting culmination last night in a splendid official dinner, given at the German embassy, and later a tremendous outburst of popular enthusiasm from the German residents of Washington, as the imperial visitor was about to start for his southern and western tour. The dinner was given at the embassy at 9 o'clock, his royal highness being the guest of honor, while those invited to meet him were representative of the highest official and diplomatic society. President Roosevelt was not present.

A driving rain did not deter Prince Henry from going to Annapolis yesterday to visit the United States naval academy. Prince Henry was accompanied by Adjutant Von Eisendecker, but as this was purely a naval trip the German ambassador and the civilian members of the embassy staff did not accompany the party. With him in the carriage rode General Corbin and Commander Cowles, aide to President Roosevelt. In the following carriages were General Sanger and Adjutant Von Eisendecker. The party was joined at the depot by a number of military and naval officers of the prince's suite and of the German embassy.

In the party were Secretary Long, Senator Hale, of Maine, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs; Representative Foss, of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs; Assistant Secretary of State Pierce, Admirals Bowles, Endicott, Kenney, O'Neill and Bradford; Commander Cowles, Captains Sigsbee and Lemly, General Haywood, of the Marine corps, and Chief Wilkie, of the secret service.

Admiral Evans did not accompany the party, owing to a lame knee.

Prince Visited Naval Academy.

Annapolis, Md., March 1.—Commander Wainwright, commandant of the academy, formally welcomed the prince and showed him to a closed carriage. Local militiamen lined the streets from the Shore Line depot to the new grounds gate of the academy, and despite the driving storm hundreds of persons were out to see the distinguished visitor. As the carriage of the prince reached the grounds the first cannon of a salute of 21 guns sounded. The prince was driven to a canvas-covered stand on the west end of the grounds and the cadets marched past in review.

The visitors were then hurried into their carriages and driven through the army grounds. They visited the cadets' quarters the mechanical laboratory and also looked over the buildings that are being erected. They also witnessed boxing and other exhibitions by cadets.

The general inspection of the academy buildings was made quite brief, on account of the storm, and the entire party found shelter in the house of Superintendent Wainwright, where they were guests at luncheon. Mrs. Wainwright assisted her husband in receiving and entertaining them.

Massachusetts Superstitions.

In parts of Massachusetts it is thought that if a girl puts a piece of southern wood down her back the first boy she meets will be her husband. In Boston if a marriageable woman puts a bit of southern wood under her pillow on retiring the first man she sees in the morning will, so says the superstition, be the one whom she is to marry.

The Sleepless Shoe Co.

Special Announcement!

Commencing Saturday, March 1, The Sleepless Shoe Co. will do a STRICTLY CASH BUSINESS; we will not extend credit to anybody, rich or poor. We are going to sell shoes at such a close margin that we cannot afford to do a credit business. We have made a careful study of this subject and fully believe that we can increase our business to quite an extent, which together with the expense of a credit business cut off, will enable us to give our patrons much better value than on the credit plan.

We have been asked if this was not a "bluff" to do away with poor accounts. We wish to state such is not the case. It is CASH TO EVERYBODY.

In regard to goods on approval, we will allow goods to go out on approval (where we know the customer) when taking two or more pair. When only taking one pair we will insist on being paid the same.

Goods sent on approval must be returned within three days. Should you at any time buy of us that which does not suit you, we will cheerfully refund the money.

We have adopted this plan because it will be beneficial to everybody concerned.

SENATORS CENSURED.

Report of Committee as to Tillman and McLaurin Was Adopted.

TILLMAN MADE A PROTEST.

Kean Said Since Tillman Had Again Insulted Senate, He Changed His Vote—Tillman Asked to Withdraw Protest—Deitrich Wouldn't Allow.

Washington, March 1.—Senators McLaurin and Tillman, of South Carolina, yesterday were severely censured by the United States senate for the sensational personal encounter between the two senators on the floor of the senate last Saturday, during the consideration of the Philippine tariff bill.

Immediately after the senate convened Mr. Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, to which the McLaurin-Tillman controversy had been referred, reported the resolution of censure framed by a majority of the committee. Accompanying the resolution was a report setting out the conclusions of the majority.

Democrats Agreed to Resolution.

A brief statement was presented by Senators Bailey, Blackburn, Pettus, M. J. Foster and Dubois, Democratic members of the committee, dissenting from some of the conclusions of the majority. They agreed, however, to the resolution offered.

A minority report was presented by Senators McComas, Beveridge and Pritchard, Republicans, who maintained that the adoption of a resolution of censure was not sufficient punishment.

Practically there was no debate on the resolution, although Mr. Gallinger and Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, made it evident by brief statements that the resolution was not quite satisfactory to them. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 54 to 12.

When Mr. Tillman's name was called he added a new sensation to the proceedings by rising and saying with ill concealed emotion:

"Among gentlemen an apology for an offense committed under heat of blood is usually considered sufficient."

The auditors caught their breath as Mr. Tillman thus entered his protest against the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Tillman's words induced Mr. Kean, of New Jersey, to rise at the conclusion of the roll and say:

Tillman Made Another Protest.

"Having heard the senator from South Carolina again insult the senate, I change my vote from aye to no."

At the request of Mr. Burrows the statement of Mr. Tillman was read by the clerk. Instantly the South Carolina senator disclaimed any intention of being offensive to the senate and said that if they were so considered he would withdraw them. The chair (Mr. Frye) said that by unanimous consent they might be withdrawn, but Mr. Dietrich, of Nebraska, objected. The incident was closed without further comment.

The senate adopted the conference report on the permanent census bill.

The senate also transacted other business.

Passed 159 Pension Bills.

Washington, March 1.—The house yesterday broke all its records in the matter of private pension legislation, clearing the calendar and passing 159 bills in a little over three hours. The conference report on the census bill was adopted and the house adjourned until Monday.

The Sanyasis of India.

Popular belief in India still credits Sanyasis and other holy vagabonds with miraculous powers. Even the native journals often chronicle marvels like the instantaneous cure of incurable diseases or the feeding of thousands out of a small measure of rice. One of these prints gives a description of how a saintly Sanyasi saved the lives of a certain rajah and his escort from a wild elephant. As the party was proceeding through the lower Himalayas a monstrous tusker broke out of the jungle and set to trumpeting. The rajah and his followers were considerably scared and were giving themselves up for lost when a noble looking Sanyasi appeared and, standing in front of the travelers, told them to shout a certain order to the elephant. This done, the animal bolted into the jungle, while the savior of the rajah and his party vanished without waiting to be thanked.

COLOMBIA MUST FIRST ASSENT

Panama Shareholders Informed by That Government—Believed Paving Way For Canal Transfer.

Paris, March 1.—At an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders of the new Panama Canal company yesterday President Bean read a message from the consul general of Colombia at Paris, setting forth that the company could not transfer its concession to another nation without first, with the assent of Colombia, modifying the stipulations of articles 21 and 22 of the agreement.

Colombia's Dispatch a Surprise.

The dispatch of the Colombian government was a complete surprise to the shareholders of the Panama Canal company, who met yesterday afternoon in expectation of merely ratifying the action of the board of directors in offering the Panama Canal company's property to the United States for $40,000,000, which offer was to remain open until March 4, 1903, and authorizing the board to carry out all the measures for the transfer of the property, and fix and accept all modes and terms of payment if the United States accepted the offer. A heated discussion broke out. The majority of the speakers concluded that the telegram meant the utter collapse of the negotiations with America and resentment against the United States was expressed.

Some speakers expressed the sudden conviction that if a proper appeal was made the money to complete the canal could be obtained in France. One of the shareholders informed the meeting that he knew on undeniable authority that President Loubet had personally taken steps to endeavor to have the canal built with French money.

Finally M. Marquis, the official representative of the shareholders, after speaking, said that the best course was to adjourn until explanations of Colombia's action were forthcoming. This proposal was adopted and the meeting adjourned.

Washington, March 1.—Officials at the Colombian legation expressed no surprise at the reported action of the company, declaring that the reported decision of the stockholders is directly in line with the work in which the Colombian government is now engaged—that of offsetting the prohibitions contained in articles 21 and 22 of the canal concession. Article 21 provides:

The Clauses That Are Obstacles.

"The grantees, or those who in the future may succeed them in their rights, may transfer these rights to other capitalists or financial companies, but are absolutely prohibited to cede or mortgage them under whatever consideration to any nation or foreign government." It is explained that Colombia even now is preparing the terms of an agreement by which the canal company may transfer its rights to the United States under certain conditions stipulated by Colombia.

Article 22 provides that the grantees or their representatives shall lose the rights acquired in the concession by a violation of article 21.

The "Big Dipper."

In astronomy the "Big Dipper," so called, is in the constellation of Ursa Major, or the Great Bear. The stars forming the tail of the bear also form the handle of the dipper. The first star in the handle is Benetnasch, the second Mizar, the third Alioth. The other four, which go to form the bowl of the dipper, are Megres, Phad, Merak and Dudhe. The two last named are called "The Pointers," because they point or guide the eye to the pole star, which is distant 29 degrees. The top bowl stars are 10 degrees and the bottom ones 8 degrees apart.

Cheap at the Price.

A certain pompous and officious judge in a western town had just fined a young lawyer $10 for contempt of court. After it had been paid a grave old attorney walked up to the bench and laid down a ten dollar goldpiece.

"What is that for?" asked the judge.

"For contempt, your honor," was the reply.

"But I didn't fine you for contempt," answered the judge. "There must be some mistake."

"Oh, no, there isn't," replied the old man. "I have cherished a secret contempt for this court for a long time, and I'm willing to pay for it."—Chicago News.

If there is in the length and breadth of the United States a more fortunate individual than William A. Brady, I should like to have him pointed out to me. Brady some years ago bought at a ridiculously small price Dion Boucicault's venerable chestnut, "After Dark." Brady introduced a tank and in the role of Old Tom toured the country with "After Dark." Now, while Brady is by no means a uniquely bad actor, there are probably very few persons who will claim that he is a good one. But it is a fact that he did very creditable work as Old Tom, and, what is more to the purpose, he is said to have cleared $40,000 in one season with Old Tom and a canvas river filled with real hydrant water.

JOSEPH HART.

Brady had made a start, and, after several more or less successful theatrical ventures, he went in for prize-fighters as a sort of side line. James J. Corbett was his first "find," and every one knows how he of the pompadour became the world's champion. The man who wrested the pugilistic premiership from Corbett was the freckled Fitzsimmons. Brady seemed to be in temporarily hard luck from the pugilistic standpoint. Some years after Fitz himself was put to sleep by a mighty man of muscle.

This Hercules was Jeffries.

He had a manager.

What was the manager's name?

William A. Brady!

Maybe there has at some time lived a man who as manager handled two men who both became world's champions, but history certainly does not mention him. And yet that is what Brady has done. Of course all friends of the wiry, nervous, quick thinking and lightning acting little manager are pleased that he has permanently renounced connection with pugilistic matters, and this is merely written to demonstrate how lucky he has been even in what is generally considered the most unpromising field, in a financial way, into which a man can venture.

Brady also prospered amazingly with his theatrical ventures, for, while he naturally has not had an unbroken line of successes, those which have not won favor have been only comparative failures, while those which have caught the popular fancy have yielded enormous profits. His "'Way Down East" and "Lovers' Lane," for instance, have each earned him a very tidy fortune.

At the outset the public did not seem inclined to accept Grace George (Mrs. Brady) at the valuation put upon her ability by her fond husband, but at last, through that pertinacity for which Brady has ever been distinguished, he has succeeded in establishing Grace George as a paying star. This of itself was a task of no small proportions, especially since the field which she sought to occupy seemed at the time to be overcrowded.

When a few months ago Brady informed me that it was his purpose to send out a play broadly exploiting the pranks of Foxy Grandpa and his two grandsons, as shown in the Sunday colored supplements of one of the New York papers, I thought he had taken leave of his senses. The thing appeared to me to have been done to death. Brady, however, thought that another craze for that sort of entertainment was about due, and, as usual, he had the courage of his convictions. "Foxy Grandpa," or, at any rate, a tenuous story purporting to indicate in general the nature of the adventures of the impossible old man and his equally impossible grandchildren, was slapped together, a number of specialties were introduced, and the piece was sent out. It has been a consistent money winner and is now packing the Fourteenth Street theater in this city to the doors, even at the Wednesday matinees.

The entertainment is bound to continue its triumphal march, for it is one of those inexplicably convincing hodge-podges which will not permit you to question for a moment their potency as box office attractions.

But, after all, this is not a criticism of "Foxy Grandpa." Indeed the play simply defies criticism or, rather, baffles it. Viewed coldly there is nothing in it but it is a long time since I have seen a more thoroughly enjoyed performance than that provided by Brady's vaudeville people in this same "Foxy Grandpa." So what is one to say in the face of such irrefragable evidence?

And, speaking of the vaudeville people, it is but fair to them to state that, deprived of their services—in other words, played by legitimate performers—"Foxy Grandpa" would be about as dreary an entertainment as one could find in New York, and just now that is saying a great deal.

On the programme "Foxy Grandpa" is tagged as "a musical snapshot in three acts by R. Melville Baker, music by Joseph Hart, introducing Joseph Hart and Carrie De Mar and a specially selected company."

It will be observed that the names of Mr. Hart and Miss De Mar are preceded by the word "introducing." This indicates that they are "featured" only. Had their names come before the title of the play they would have been entitled to regard themselves as the stars. It is a question, however, whether even Mr. Brady, who certainly is not lacking in courage, would have the temerity to offer this couple as stars without that saving word, "introducing." Mr. Hart and Miss De Mar, as Foxy Grandpa and Polly Bright, respectively, are in great luck to appear in the principal roles of any farce even in conjunction with the qualifying "preceding." They manage, it is true, to get a good many laughs from the audience, but any one could do that. All that is required of them is to look pleasant and emit their lines and songs. The imaginations of the children and their familiarity and sympathy with several of the characters depicted "do the rest." Mr. Hart works hard, and Miss De Mar is vivacious if she is commonplace, so the general result is quite satisfactory.

"It takes considerable nerve," says Maurice Campbell, "to decide almost in one minute to take off a play that has been produced in New York only the night before and lose, without an effort to get it back, the $15,000 or $18,000 spent in its production."

Mr. Campbell's remark was apropos of the withdrawal of Henrietta Crosman's play, "Joan o' the Shoals," from the stage of the Theater Republic and the substitution of "Mistress Nell" until "As You Like It" could be made ready.

"There are managers," continued Mr. Campbell, "who would have forced Mrs. Sutherland's play for a New York run and then take it on the road to get their investment back. This is done every day, and it is the reason why New York successes do not always play to big business in the provinces. There was a time when a New York run meant 'capacity' everywhere, but that time is passed and simply because you can't fool the people all the time. It is my aim to present Miss Crosman in great successes only. I shall never try to make her play anything else. Both Miss Crosman and myself want the confidence of our public. We want to please it, and if a play does not please it will be taken off. The consensus of opinion was that 'Joan' failed as a play, but Miss Crosman scored a triumph. Still, I take 'Joan' to be a better play than some others that have been produced and made so-called 'runs' in New York this season. Many persons ask why I took it off, and my reply has always been because I saw no hope for a great success. If the author had been willing to let either Miss Crosman or some one else work with the material she furnished and whip it into shape, I might have been persuaded to keep 'Joan' on. But the author decided that she was the one to fix it up, and it must be done her way. I saw long ago that Mrs. Sutherland's way was not the right way, so rather than waste time and take the life out of Miss Crosman I decided to take the initiative and shelve 'Joan.'

"In taking this action I think I am keeping faith with theater goers, and I want them to feel when they see Henrietta Crosman billed to appear in their cities that she comes in a play that will please, and that if it does not please and was not a success Henrietta Crosman would not be playing it."

There is a world of truth in this statement by Mr. Campbell. In justice to Mrs. Sutherland it should be mentioned that she recently published a signed statement, in which she declared that, with a single exception, every change requested by Mr. Campbell was made, even though some of them were counter to her judgment. Two things, however, in connection with "Joan o' the Shoals" stand out prominently—it contains the elements of a markedly successful play; as it was given in New York it had an amateurishly poor third and a ludicrously wrought fourth act. The responsibility for this poor work it is of course impossible to fix, but the fact remains that "Joan" is a mighty good play gone wrong.

The Actors Of Today the Best Ever Seen

By EDWARD J. MORGAN, Actor

THE ACTOR OF THE "MODERN SCHOOL" BELIEVES IN THE RAPIER THRUST RATHER THAN THE BLUDGEON BLOW, IN IMPRESSION RATHER THAN RANTING, IN UNDERSTANDING RATHER THAN OVERSTATEMENT, IN NATURALISM RATHER THAN EXAGGERATION, in the idea that the audience is one intelligent entity near at hand instead of countless groundlings far away.

Though conservatism is usually allied with age, it is the new school actors who are the real conservatives and the "old timers" who are the radicals in stage art.

TIME RINGS NO CHANGE MORE SURELY THAN THAT IN TASTE AND FASHION. PERHAPS I'M WRONG, BUT I DOUBT IF A MODERN AUDIENCE WOULD ACCEPT TODAY EVEN THE GREATEST ACTORS OF TWO OR THREE GENERATIONS AGO.

Dramatic art has refined immensely in the last fifty years, and I venture to say, speaking generally, that the plays and players before the public now represent as good as, and perhaps the best, the stage has known.

That's what follows here.

Surely no better backing can be had than the following statement from Mrs. Edward Orr, of 220 Thompson street, who says: "My sister, Mrs. Borland, of Pittsburg, while visiting us recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so highly that I was induced to try them. I had severe attacks of kidney complant. Sometimes I was so bad I could not get up. Many times my neighbors came and found me lying on the lounge suffering, when I intended to do a big day's work. I was so miserable I could do nothing. After my sister told me of the pills I made up my mind to try them and got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. They did just what they claimed they would do—cured me well and sound in a few days. My little girl was feeling poorly and had a sallow complexion for some time. FOOD IN FRUIT SKINS.

Nutritive Qualities In Them Believed to Be a Brain Food.

There are more nutritive qualities hidden in the skins of fruits, cereals and vegetables than the average person is aware of. In fact, the great bulk of the brain building foods are in the skins of the fruits and vegetables we eat.

If, as Savarin says, "the destiny of nations depends on their food," then the destiny, whether a healthy long life or insanity or suicide of every unit of the United States depends on how he or she is fed.

If the breed so much depends upon food, why should not every person capable of normal thought seek to procure such food as best sustains his or her normality? Brain starvation, through the lack of suitable brain and nerve nourishment in our daily food, is the sole cause of the craving for stimulants to supply, as they do, artificially and improperly what nature has provided in a natural form in the skin of the grape, which contains the best part of the wine; in the skins of all fruits and vegetables, and if not in the skins of the cereals, how comes it that stimulating properties are extracted from them, as the inner kernel, the starch, is devoid of anything other than a heat giver?

It has been proved by chemical analysis and demonstrated by microscopic experiments that the most valuable brain sustaining properties are resident in all skins of cereals, fruits and vegetables, and as an instance of the great difference to the health resultant from partaking or rejecting the skins here is an incident that occurred in India, as told by an Indian officer:

A regiment was stationed in a part of the country where grapes were the chief article of food. The officers, one after another, became so sick as to be invalided as unfit for service, but it being considered remarkable that the troops were all well a commission of inquiry was instituted, when it was found that while every trooper in eating grapes swallowed the skins the officers followed the fashionable habit of rejecting them. It was then ordered that the officers should swallow the skins, which was done, with the result that they immediately recovered.

Thus it will be seen that the skin of the grape, besides being a brain feeder, possesses other healthful and nutritive qualities necessary to the sustenance of the human body. The reason why asparagus, cabbage, string beans, lettuce, spinach and other green vegetables are so wholesome is that the skins are not rejected.—Our Friend.

A Tough Negro.

Stories of brute toughness and Homeric endurance are tenderly preserved in the folklore of the water front—how, for instance, Scipio Flanagan, "the biggest nigger in the business," supported the entire weight of an immense packing case, weighing upward of 1,800, on his prostrate body. The negro held the hand truck to receive the case, which in the hands of half a dozen men was being balanced at just the right angle to slip into place. But it hit the edge of the truck and knocked it away, and the negro unluckily lost his footing and fell flat with the great box on top of him. He shrieked in terror and groaned, it was said, like a siren whistle, but when a gang of fifteen men lifted the thing bodily and pulled him out all he did was to screw his fists into his eyes like a big child, stretch his long limbs grotesquely and return to work. Of course he talked about this feat for many a day.—Frank Leslie's Monthly.

Old Delusions.

It is inexplicable how the old delusion that a man cannot eat one quail a day for thirty days holds its own. Any man can eat one quail a day for thirty days. At Lawrence some years ago Will Upton ate two quails a day for more than thirty days. For the first week or two he starved himself with the idea that he must keep up an appetite. After that he sometimes ate three or four of the birds in a day.

Another old fraud on the public is the belief that a horse cannot pull a sack of sand at the end of a two hundred foot rope. Any cow pony in Kansas will go off on a lope with such a sack.—Kansas City Journal.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them.

We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained for elsewhere.

Most of your local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the mouldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainer.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

ONE TRIP AND— ANOTHER...

By MARIE ALICE PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1901, by Marie Alice Phillips

The importunate cabbies and bustling porters failed to attract the attention of Frank Ryals except so far as a nervous person would notice mosquitoes or flies. He brushed them away without so much as a look as he passed down the long pier. With bent head and quickening footsteps he walked, unheeding and unnoticed, through the sweat and turmoil of the city to his home. As he rang the bell his hand shook and the muscles of his throat tightened.

The faithful butler, who had been valet to Frank Ryals before his marriage, held the door open and inquired solicitously if "Mis' Ryals" got off safe and sound.

The reply came after a pause, "Yes, Brown, thank you," but the white, drawn look of his beloved master's face repelled further inquiry, and the butler retired to the kitchen, there to unbosom himself to Cynthia.

"It's my opinion Marse Frank is mighty cut up 'bout Mis' Bess goin' off to Europe 'ithout no warnin' hardly at all."

Cynthia sniffed.

"And her a bride of jes' three months," continued the indignant Brown. "It's my opinion she don't care much about 'im, and 'im the best and jolliest man that ever lived." Brown was growing more aggrieved every minute.

"Gus Brown, would you have a 'oman tied to a man's coattails always jes' 'cause she happens to be married to 'im?" And Cynthia set the pan down sharply on the table.

"I don't expect much of women folks at no time," replied Brown stoutly, injecting as much scorn into his tones as he thought safe, "but I didn't much expect a young bride to go off so cheerful-like and leave her husband for six months on a stretch."

Cynthia turned sharply and looked into the face of the worthy butler. "Did you say six months, Gus Brown—six months?"

The faithful Brown could only bow his head in assent, and Cynthia, detecting traces of real grief in his usual woodeny countenance, was too shocked to take much account of the blister made on her hand by the overturned gravy.

Presently Brown put his head in the doorway of the drawing room to announce dinner, but, seeing his master with bowed head and bent shoulders, retired quietly to the kitchen.

Cynthia called Brown "a white livered coward" on his return, which emboldened that functionary to go back and touch his master's elbow.

"I don't care for dinner, Brown, thank you."

"'Thout so much as movin'," Brown confessed to Cynthia as they prepared to do justice to the dinner now almost cold.

Letters came across the ocean to Frank Ryals, full of life and vivacity, now brimming over with the joy of some bright experience, now breathing awe and wonder of the grandeur of some old cathedral or mystery of nature, but never once did she say "I miss you, dear," or "I wish I were back at home with you," or "I wonder what you are doing." Frank Ryals searched her letters feverishly for some such expression, but it never came.

Old friends welcomed him back to the club, and occasionally he went to the opera. Dinners at home were scarce and finally ceased altogether. Six months had extended into eight because Mrs. Raine wanted to take her party into Egypt, but now they were coming home.

The man who stood on the pier waiting for the North German Lloyd steamer to cast anchor on a bright April day looked very much like the same Frank Ryals who had stood there eight months before except for a certain air of composure and two little patches of gray hair on his temples that contrasted oddly with his fresh face. He received Bess and her friends cordially and told the latter he had made all arrangements to have them at his home during their short stay in New York.

Everybody talked at once at dinner, there was so much to say and the joy of being once more on American soil was so keen. The company rose, protesting vigorously when their host bade them good evening as he prepared to leave the house.

"We refuse to stay and turn you out of house and home this way. It atrocious," they said.

"It is my pleasure," was the grave answer, "and you must stay."

Bess for the first time in her life was thoughtful and said little. On the fourth evening after her arrival, when the guests had all departed and the clock was on the stroke of 11, Frank Ryals rose and, taking hat and cane, said good night.

Bess rose also.

"Where are you going, Frank?"

"To the club," he calmly answered.

For a moment she gasped with astonishment. Then pain, anger and wounded vanity chased in quick succession over her mobile face.

"Our first evening together," she managed to say, and, as he still held his hat and looked steadily at her, "Has the club grown so dear to you—that you can't give it up—one evening?"

"One has time to become attached to anything attractive in eight months," he said, "especially if it represents one's boyhood friends and companionship. The boys at the club have been very good to me, and I have come to depend on them. I would choose them in preference to scenery any time, I think," he commented, with a strained smile.

All color and brightness had fled from her face, and as she stood in the firelight, her white evening gown clinging about her, she looked almost pathetic.

"I—would like to know—the worst, Frank. Is it—any other woman?"

"No," he said; "I have never loved but one woman, and when I found it was all a mistake I suffered a great deal, more than you will ever know. But it is all over now. She didn't love me, and I have learned to do without her."

A pause. "We are on an equal footing now, Bess." And he stroked the gray hair on his temples without looking at her. "It is not as much happiness as—as the other way, but there is not so much pain."

Bess had lost all power of speech and was staring at him with eyes almost set in their horror. But he mistook the cause.

"Don't bother your head, Bess, about what the world will say. It need never know. You bear my name, you are the mistress of my home, and you will be free to enjoy your pleasures just as you see fit. You are welcome to all I have."

"Except your love."

"You had that, too, once. How long ago has it been, Bess? It seems years! Good night," he said as she made no answer. "The old servants are here, and you will be perfectly safe."

Still she said nothing, and he went out, closing the vestibule door quietly after him. Bess recovered sufficiently to reach the window in time to see him move down the lighted street toward the club.

"Oh, my God!" she moaned. "What have I done? Have I been dreaming all these months?"

She was awake now, with ten thousand accusing demons contending for the mastery of her soul.

Two months later Mrs. Raine was ushered unceremoniously into Mrs. Ryals' boudoir and found a grave faced young woman bending over the smoldering fire.

"Oh, my dear, I am so fortunate to find you at home!" was her cheery greeting. "I am in the greatest hurry, but I do so want you to join my party to the Yellowstone park tomorrow. It'll be such a glorious trip. I telephoned Mr. Ryals, and the dear, sweet man said he left it entirely with you. Really, my dear, you are to be congratulated— Why, Bess"—

Her hostess had risen and now stood facing her, a grayish pallor spreading over her face.

"Don't speak to me of traveling! I hate the word—the thought of boats and cars and hotels! I want to be left alone—alone!"

* * * * * * *

Frank Ryals was mounting the steps of his club when an imperious feminine voice stayed his steps. It was Mrs. Raine, and her ordinarily gushing manner had entirely disappeared.

"My dear boy, you don't want to stay at the club this afternoon. You really ought to run right up to the house. There's certainly something wrong with Bess. She's been treating me to a genuine case of hysterics. Imagine Bess in hysterics! And she won't go to California with us. Oh, she's altogether unreasonable! I left her in tears. You must have the doctor."

"Yes, I'll phone for him at once." Mr. Ryals' voice and manner were calm, perfunctory. He raised his hat and mounted two more steps. Then he paused irresolutely. Mrs. Raines was half way up the block. A man addressed him lightly and entered the door, and still Ryals stood undecided, a strange light playing in his moody eyes.

"She won't go to California. I left her in tears."

Tears for what? For him, after all!

Suddenly he turned on his heel and plunged down the steps. A hansom was drawn up at the curb. The driver knew him well and touched his hat interrogatively.

"Home!" exclaimed Ryals, and then as the hansom rumbled over the asphalt he murmured in softer tones, "Home!"

Our Navy Useless BECAUSE We Feed the World

By ANDREW CARNEGIE.....

THE GREAT NAVY WE ARE BUILDING IS PERFECTLY USELESS. NO NATION ON EARTH WOULD EVER MOVE AGAINST THIS COUNTRY EVEN IF IT DECLARED WAR AGAINST US.

It is a great matter for this country to feed the world. Any European nation in arms against this country would starve before it got through. IN LESS THAN THREE WEEKS THE PEOPLE OF THAT NATION—GREAT BRITAIN OR GERMANY—WOULD BE STARVING, AND THEY WOULD COMPEL PEACE.

This republic is impregnable against the world! I once said to Mr. Gladstone in discussing the possibilities of war between England and the United States, at the time of the Venezuelan dispute, that America feared no war or declaration of war, for she held the world at her mercy.

"You admit," I said, "that you have no army that you could put in the field in America?"

"Certainly; but we could send a fleet to blockade your ports."

"Before you did that," I replied, "we would ourselves blockade them. The president would issue an edict of nonexportation, and where would England be then?"

LET OUR EXPORT OF FOODSTUFFS BE REDUCED BY ONLY 10 PER CENT, AND PRICES IN EUROPE WOULD DOUBLE, WHILE REDUCE THEM 50 PER CENT, AND THE STARVING PEOPLE OF THE NATION THAT HAD MADE WAR WITH THE UNITED STATES WOULD QUICKLY FORCE PEACE UPON THEIR GOVERNMENT.

Cigars and Tobacco.

There are between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 brands of cigars sold in this country, and your average smoker thinks that every brand means a different kind of tobacco. As a matter of fact 150 is an outside estimate of the different kinds of tobacco that can be procured from all sources, and even experts can't tell some of these apart.

White House Gayety

Dinner to PRINCE HENRY Climax of Brilliant Season

WITH the elaborate dinner given to Prince Henry of Prussia the winter festivities at the White House reached a climax. Since the Roosevelts have been in the historic mansion there has been a constant round of revelry and merrymaking. No administration remembered by this generation has been so profuse in hospitality, one form of entertainment succeeding another with unremitting regularity. In fact, the Roosevelt administration will go down in the social history of the national capital as the most brilliant known in recent years.

With such a reputation established Washington society naturally expected that the reception and banquet to Prince Henry would eclipse all previous social functions. Nor was it disappointed. Not only the White House conservatories, but the city propagating gardens, were drawn on for flowers and ornamental plants. The supply of roses proving inadequate for the lavish decoration required, the markets were scoured to supply the deficiency. As the price of fine roses at this season is about $1 apiece and they were purchased in quantities, the expense was considerable.

The banquet to Prince Henry was served in the east room. This is another innovation of the Roosevelts. The first time this room was used for a state dinner was on the occasion of the "spread" given to the diplomatic corps in January, when the whole of the historic apartment was literally covered with flowers and ornamental plants.

When a state banquet is to be given, the bulk of the preparation falls on Colonel Theodore A. Bingham, superintendent of the White House. He must plan it all out in advance; likewise with dancing parties and receptions. He has under his direction a large corps of carpenters, electricians, florists and others. There must be kept on hand ready for instant use a large supply of wire frameworks for floral designs, ladders, wires and electric bulbs, crash to cover the carpets, trestles and other structures of wood that go to make up the big dining table.

The outsider has little notion of the labor that is involved in the preparation for a state dinner. From twenty to thirty men are kept at work for three days arranging the preliminaries. Immediately after breakfast on the day of the event the carpet is covered with crash to preserve it from injury, and the decorators arrive, bringing palms and beautiful plants of many kinds. While they tack up smilax on the ceilings and walls, draping it in festoons, carpenters put the great table on its trestles, screw its parts together and wedge up the whole affair so that it shall be firm.

The electricians meanwhile are putting in wires and devising new and beautiful effects in lighting. When the table has been put up, flannel is tacked upon it, and, the cloth having been laid over this, the festive board is adorned with electric bulbs of various colors to harmonize with the floral decorations. The crystal chandeliers and mirrors are adorned with greenery and the large made pieces placed in position. Lastly the room is swept up in time for the dust to settle before the fun begins.

The expense involved in entertaining on such a scale is enormous. A state dinner at the White House costs something like $1,000, varying, of course, with the number of guests. At a small dinner of this kind perhaps fifty people may sit down, whereas at a big one twice that number will be entertained. A reasonable reckoning for the dinner is $6 per head, with $2 a head extra for wine. But necessarily there are incidentals which add hundreds of dollars to the bill.

To serve properly a state dinner at the White House requires one head cook and two assistant cooks. Of course extra scullions are engaged to do dishwashing and other incidental labor. The caterer furnishes all the food, and the culinary department of the executive mansion is placed for the time being under his management and authority, the household staff contributing as much help as possible.

This method is adopted because it makes things much easier, just as would be the case in any private house. It is Mrs. Roosevelt, however, who decides upon the menu. As a rule, Mrs. Roosevelt herself superintends the decoration of the table, a happy circumstance, inasmuch as she possesses admirable taste. Four wines are served usually at these dinners—sherry, champagne with the roast, burgundy afterward and sauterne or chablis to wind up with. Of late a fashion has spread among "smart" people for serving Scotch whisky and apollinaris right through a dinner, instead of a series of wines, but this idea has not been adopted by the mistress of the White House.

There is no question of the fact that this administration is leading society as no other administration has done for a generation past. It is setting the fashions and has already given a wonderful boom to the amusement of riding horseback. All of the Roosevelts ride, the president and his wife going out for a gallop every fine afternoon, and as a consequence, whereas formerly only a few persons in Washington indulged in the pastime, now all of the young people are taking it up. What the Roosevelts do is the proper thing, and everybody is looking to the executive mansion to see whether Simon says thumbs up or thumbs down.

Such hospitality has not reigned in the White House for many a long day. It is a thoroughly wholesome, healthy sort of family life that goes on there. The Roosevelts are living now just about as they have always done, keeping open house and making their friends welcome. Even the casual stranger is at home within their gates, and most of the entertaining is extremely informal. The family hardly sits down to a meal, unless it be breakfast, without guests.

When anybody comes to see the president during office hours, the latter is as apt as not to say: "I'm busy. Come back and take lunch." Lunch is at 1:30 o'clock in the private dining room, and Mrs. Roosevelt and the children are present.

Yes, it is a gay and merry administration, but the genial Mr. Roosevelt, if he continues to be so lavish in his hospitality, is likely to find that his salary of $50,000 does not cover his bills. He is certainly not saving any money in the White House.

ARTIFICIAL ICE.

Principle Upon Which This Commodity Is Manufactured.

The principle upon which the manufacture of ice is based is that a gas when compressed gathers heat enormously, and if robbed of this heat and allowed to escape at a future time it seeks to regain its heat by withdrawing heat from its surroundings. Ammonia gas is generally preferred to others because it can be liquefied with comparatively little pressure. On removing the water from common ammonia by distillation anhydrous ammonia is obtained. This is compressed by a combined steam pump and a compressor, and the resulting liquefaction induces heat, which is economized by circulating water about the vessel or pipe containing the liquefied ammonia. Thus the ammonia is cooled and the heat largely transferred to the water, which is then pumped back to the boiler that supplies the steam pump. The liquid ammonia is then carried in a pipe to expansion coils that afford plenty of room for its evaporation, when it begins to return to the gaseous form and to draw heat from its surroundings, which gradually reduces the temperature. Proper vessels of water are placed in contact with the expansion coils, and in due time ice is formed.

Two Wrongs.

A clergyman, lecturing on "Capital Punishment," took strong grounds against the death penalty, arguing that while it was wrong for a man to commit murder it was but another wrong to kill the murderer and that two wrongs never made a right.

"At least," said he, "I never heard of but one case where they did." And he proceeded to relate the following story, presumably in support of his argument:

"A man entered a country grocery, where a number of the villagers sat around on barrels and boxes, and asked if two wrongs ever made a right. The response was 'Never.' So I thought till recently," continued he, "when I met a stranger who asked me to change a five dollar bill for him. I did so and after his departure found the bill was a counterfeit. So I kept it till the other day and shoved it on a fellow greener than I." The listeners exclaimed that those were two wrongs certainly, but they didn't make a right. "Well," replied the man, "they made me all right."

English Jewelers' Tricks.

Many working jewelers with whom articles are left to repair are very tricky individuals indeed, and women are their chief victims. A great device of the working jeweler, so far as gold chains go, is to take off the hallmarked fastening loops and to substitute for these an exact imitation in metal, so that these should always be most carefully examined. In ladies' lockets the jeweler fraud usually takes out the gold inside rim which fastens the glass, and of course he puts in a sham substitute. Where an article sent to him contains a great number of tolerably small stones he will take one or two of these out and put in imitation articles specially made to deceive, says Woman's Life. A working jeweler has been known to make pounds a week by taking away the hallmarked crossbars of gold alberts and replacing them with brass. These remarks only, of course, apply to the small number of black sheep to be found in this as in every trade.

Decadence In Penmanship.

"While the people as a whole may write more legibly than they did a generation ago," said an old writing teacher, "there are not so many really excellent penmen. The multiplication of business colleges has improved the handwriting of a portion of the public, while the invention of the typewriter has made it useless to acquire extra skill in penmanship. Time was when the first class penmen commanded high salaries, but now there is such a slight demand for good writers that the market is overstocked. No penman can compete with a typewriter, and so the art of superior penmanship is gradually dying out and will soon be lost."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Our First Canal Lock.

The first canal lock built in America is preserved as a relic near the present site of the Soo canal. It was built by the Northwestern Fur company in 1790. It is 38 feet long and 8 feet 9 inches wide. It had a lift of nine feet and a depth of two and a half feet. During the war of 1812 it was badly wrecked. The early day fur companies used this little waterway to lock down their small cargoes of valuable furs.

Pictorial Wash Lists.

Pretty old inventions are our modern wash lists. The old German housewife had an odd way of keeping track of the garments she gave out to be washed. She had a picture of each article and wrote down the number of everything opposite to it with a piece of chalk, which was rubbed out when the article was returned, to be used again the next week. It was really a pictorial and perpetual wash list.

What Won Her.

"I thought she was going to marry Tom?"

"No; Jack."

"Why, she told me Tom was willing to die for her and"—

"Yes, but Jack offered to make a good living for her."

Conservation of Energy.

"You say you never gossip?"

"Never," answered Miss Cayenne. "When I feel disposed to hear my neighbors discussed, I merely mention a name and proceed to listen."—Washington Star.

With the opening of the baseball season but a short time off, the National league magnates, for some reason, do no appear to be in any hurry to bring about a final adjustment of their differences or to present well formulated plans for the coming time for play.

Andrew Freedman is now spending his time in sending agents out to gather in young players for his New York team, which, in the face of the fact that he says there will be no compromise suggested from his side, looks as if the Gotham magnate was preparing for something.

The Phillies have also been busy in signing young blood and have almost completed the team, and Manager Shettsline is now looking up some place to take his colts for the annual thawing out process. Pittsburg, Brooklyn and Chicago are all in fairly good shape, and so far as the Spaldingites are concerned they are nearly ready for work, but, like the immortal Micawber, are waiting for something to turn up. Just what this something is cannot be surmised, except that, failing to effect satisfactory arrangements with the enemy, a four club circuit will be formed and the season played out on that scale.

From the list of players signed by the American league clubs as promulgated by Ban Johnson it appears that Chicago and Philadelphia may have a runaway race for the championship, with Boston and Detroit in third and fourth places.

Chicago has Griffith, Callahan, Garvin, Katoll, Skopeck and Patterson for pitchers, McFarland and Sullivan for catchers, Isbell, Daly, Davis and Strong in the infield and Jones, Mertes and Green in the outfield. The team is strong in the batteries, strong in the infield and strong in the outfield. Strong, Mertes and Green are the weak sisters of the nine. The first cannot bat, and the last two are not what might be called "brainy" players.

Philadelphia signed Frazer, Bernhard, Plank and Dugglesby for pitchers, Steelman and Powers for catchers, Davis, Lajoie, Monte Cross and "Lave" Cross for the infield and Hartsel, Fultz and Flick for the outfield. The team's strength lies in its batting and the work of its infielders. The pitchers are not high water mark, and Steelman has a long way to go before he becomes a first class catcher. Hartsel is an outfielder of only average ability, Fultz an experiment and Flick none too certain. What the players lack in fielding ability, however, they are almost sure to make up in their batting, and the pitcher who meets the team when it has one of its good days will wish himself sunk in the Schuylkill before the game is three innings old.

Neither the Chicago team nor the Philadelphia team is up to the standard of the present Pittsburg team of the National league or up to that of the former Brooklyn champions, Boston champions or Baltimore champions.

Boston has Young, Winter, Dineen, Prentice and Williams, pitchers; Warner and Criger, catchers; La Chance, Ferris, Parent and Collins in the infield and Hickman, Stahl and Freeman in the outfield. This team is strong in pitchers unless Cy Young has reached the limit of his effectiveness, strong behind the bat if Criger is not ill two-thirds of the time, strong at third base and shortstop and weak in the outfield, though good at the bat. It does not rate up like a team of championship caliber.
